1. Statement

Toronto Business College is committed to ensuring the accommodation of those students who have a disability and may require support services. A wide range of services may be available to those students who identify themselves as requiring assistance. It is important for the College and the student to start working together as early as possible to develop a plan for successful pursuit of educational goals.

All information provided will be kept confidential. The College provides accommodations and supports for students with documented disabilities in compliance with the following legislation:

- Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act \(AODA, 2005\)
- Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms \(Section 15\)
- Guidelines on Accessible Education \(2018\)
- Ontario Human Rights Code

2. Scope

This policy applies to all full-time and part-time students, employees and visitors of the College. Students may be enrolled in TBC programs or those of partner institutions.

3. Principles

The College acknowledges the right of all individuals, including those with disabilities, to an equal opportunity to experience success in their academic and/or employment endeavours with the College, as they apply to the provision of all services as indicated in the Ontario Human Rights Code.

The College recognizes that making successful learning and employment outcomes accessible to students and employees, respectively, is a shared responsibility and commitment on the part of the students and employees. This policy is articulated within the context of the shared values of Toronto Business College that express a culture focused on students, employees and community.

Students and employees have a right to learn and work in an accessible, accountable and equitable environment. Failure to facilitate this may lead to legal actions or human rights challenges.

4. Training

The College is committed to training all employees in accessible customer service Ontario accessibility standards and aspects of the Ontario Human Rights Code that relate to people with disabilities. Training must be completed within ninety (90) days of hire.

Training includes:

- The purpose of the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act, 2005 (AODA) and the requirements of the Customer Service Standards
- The relationship between the AODA, the Integrated Accessibility Standards Regulation (IASR) and the Ontario Human Rights Commission (OHRC) as it applies to Seneca and people with disabilities.
- The various types of disabilities that exist and understanding of the challenges faced by persons with disabilities.
- How to effectively remove barriers, interact with and support people with disabilities.
- How to identify AODA compliance requirements for people with disabilities, information and communications, employment, transportation and design and public spaces
- How to interact and communicate with people with various types of disabilities
- How to interact with people with disabilities who use an assistive device or require the assistance of a service animal or a support person
- How to use the equipment or devices available on site or otherwise that may help with providing teaching and learning, services or facilities to people with disabilities.

The College provides faculty with additional accessibility awareness training related to accessible programs or course delivery and instruction.

5. Educational and Training Resources

The College will provide educational, training resources or materials in an accessible format upon request and will do so in a way that considers the accessibility needs of an individual's disability.

This obligation includes educational, training resources or materials produced by the College and the provision of student records and information on program requirements, availability and description in an accessible format for people with disabilities.

In accordance with these regulations, the College will adhere to accessibility standards and principles when designing, adopting and procuring educational materials and resources for the delivery of course curricula. This includes e-books, course packs, e-learning platforms, online networking/conferencing platforms, interactive and instructive online management systems, audio-visual and multimedia.

The College meets this obligation through the procurement process or through obtaining by other means an accessible or conversion ready electronic format of the educational or training resources or materials where available.

In the case that the materials cannot be procured or obtained by other means or converted into an accessible format, the College is committed to ensuring that it makes the necessary arrangements for the provision of a comparable resource.

6. Confidentiality

In accordance with the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act \(FIPPA\), the College does not release any information about a student's record unless it has been authorized by the student.

Confidentiality is maintained at all times when students become involved with the Student Success. A student's registration with any Accessibility Services and the fact that they have received accommodations will not be identified on any official College records, test results, academic transcripts or graduation documentation.

All disability documentation provided to the office is kept secure and strictly confidential in a locked cabinet. Students' personal information is not shared with anyone without their prior informed and signed consent.

All students registered with Student Success sign a form that indicates with whom we can discuss personal information.

For the student's safety and privacy, Student Success will only communicate with the student via email using the secure College student ID. We do not send messages to Hotmail, Gmail or other non-campus and non-secure websites.

Student Success provides support to students with disabilities in compliance with the following legislation:

- Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act \(AODA, 2005\)
- Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms \(Section 15\)
- Guidelines on Accessible Education \(2018\)
- Ontario Human Rights Code

7. Accommodations

Students and employees have a right to learn and work in an accessible and accountable environment. The College will make every effort to accommodate the particular needs of individuals with disabilities provided that:

- The accommodation does not give rise to undue hardship, which would include:
 - Altering the essential requirements of the program or course.
 - Threatening the integrity of contracts of employment by significantly altering essential job requirements or responsibilities.
- Where students or employees require accommodations, they fulfill their obligations by identifying their needs for accommodation, the reasons for them and the information necessary to assist the College in determining the nature of the accommodation required.

8. Academic and Employment Access

The College will monitor admissions policies and procedures to ensure that students with disabilities who are otherwise academically qualified are not excluded for reasons irrelevant to the essential requirements of the programs for which they are applying or in which they are enrolled.

The College will monitor employment postings to ensure that they reflect the essential requirements of the positions posted and do not contain any descriptors which directly or indirectly classify or indicate qualifications by prohibited grounds of discrimination under the Human Rights Code.

9. Physical and Technological Environments

The College will strive to ensure that its facilities are physically and technologically accessible, within the limits of physical and financial resources.

The College is responsible for providing accessible learning and working environments that include:

1. The promotion of awareness of accessibility legislation and the elimination of biases or negative attitudes towards persons with disabilities,
2. The provision of accommodations involving a collaborative process which recognizes the responsibilities of all of those involved:
 - Student Success is responsible for coordinating and implementing provision of appropriate accommodations for students with disabilities.
 - Human Resources is responsible for coordinating and implementing provision of accommodations for employees with disabilities in accordance with relevant legislation and/or collective agreement requirements.

Procedure

1. Accessibility Services Application

A wide range of services may be available to those students who identify themselves as requiring assistance. It is important for the College and the student to start working together as early as possible to develop a plan for successful pursuit of educational goals.

In order to receive accommodation for a temporary or permanent disability, students are required to provide Accessibility Services with sufficient and appropriate supporting documentation. Documentation requirements vary according to the specific disability.

Student must submit the Accessibility Services Application and indicate the services and accommodations which would benefit them.

They must include supporting documentation, which is to come from a professional who is qualified and competent to provide the required information and able to provide an objective opinion and evaluation, must:

- Outline the impact of the disability (the specific medical diagnosis is not required);

- Provide a detailed explanation of the functional impact of the disability on the pursuit of postsecondary education;
- Indicate whether the disability is temporary or permanent; and
- Indicate any impact any medication may have.

The documentation is not adequate for determining the most effective accommodation for each student's unique needs if it contains only generic information (e.g.: "visual impairment," "hearing impairment," or "learning disability").

Accessibility Services will review the application and define the most relevant Academic Accommodation Plan with the student.

Click to Access the form Accessibility Services Application

2. Implementation of the Academic Accommodation Plan

The effective and efficient implementation of the accommodation plan is a shared responsibility between Student Success, the student, the instructor, and the Academic Department.

Student Success is responsible for developing and communicating the plan to all those involved, for providing guidance for implementation upon request, for engaging in collaborative problem-solving when issues arise.

The student is responsible for fulfilling course outcomes, for communicating needs to Student Success and the Faculty as appropriate, and depending on the accommodation plan, for booking tests with the Academic Department and alerting faculty about test bookings.

The instructor is responsible for implementing classroom accommodations as explained in the accommodation plan, including dropping off and picking up tests from the Academic Department, highlighting any potential safety concerns, and seeking support from the College if questions arise.

The Academic Department is required to provide support to instructor upon request to ensure that accommodations are implemented effectively, appropriately, and in a timely manner.

The Academic Department provides accommodated testing for the student, receives, and returns accommodated tests for the instructor, and communicates concerns with Student Success.

1. Statement

The purpose of this policy framework is to demonstrate the College's commitment to fostering a supportive, healthy and inclusive college environment conducive to positive learning experiences and student academic success. This policy serves as a foundation of key terms, principles and rules that will be represented within student focused policies, procedures, and services at the College.

2. Scope

This policy framework will be used to align all student focused policies and procedures and to guide the development of new programs and services at the College. For students, this policy explains the College's broad commitment to supporting student success.

3. Principles

1. Safety and Respect

Creating an environment that is conducive to learning through progressive security operations, excellent facilities, and professional staff.

2. Social Inclusion

Fostering a community that engages, welcomes, supports, advocates for, and provides equal opportunities to a diverse student body and the College community.

3. Student Engagement

Fostering student engagement inside and outside of the classroom by offering opportunities for student involvement with peers, advisors, faculty, mentors, student leaders and the community in a wide variety of programs and services.

4. Reducing Barriers

Providing programs and services that limit academic, personal and financial barriers to student success and provide an accessible learning environment for all students.

5. Student Well-being

Fostered by a Healthy Campus Community, whereby support programs promote wellness in broad and holistic ways, including proactive outreach and responsive support when needed.

6. Academic Success

Designing and delivering quality and relevant academic programs based on UDL principles that offer pathways for students to reach their career and academic goals.

7. Awards and Recognition

Recognizing, awarding, and celebrating exceptional student achievement inside and outside of the classroom.

8. Student Responsibility for Learning

Students are responsible for ensuring their own learning through responsible engagement in curricular and co-curricular activities.

4. Rules

1. The College Community

All members of the College community are responsible for supporting and fostering student success.

2. The College

The College is responsible for making this Policy Framework known and accessible to students and staff. The College is responsible for delivering high quality programs and academic support services, which comply with all relevant legislation, rules, and the Minister's (MTCU) Binding Policy Directives.

3. Departmental Student Success Plans (College)

Each manager/department will annually submit a plan to the Student Success Committee which will detail annual activities that support the principles of this policy framework.

4. Individual Student Success Plans (Student)

When requested, advisors will work with students to create personalized action plans to help students achieve their academic goals.

5. Appeals

Students have the right to appeal decisions made by the College. All appeal policies and procedures will be clearly detailed in one location to increase accessibility, understanding and awareness.

Policy

1. Purpose

This policy provides the main principles related to property that has been found, its retention and disposal.

Toronto Business College (TBC) is not responsible for any lost, stolen or damaged personal items. Students are responsible for the safekeeping of their belongings and TBC will not be held accountable for any loss or damage.

Students are encouraged to keep valuable items at home to prevent any potential loss or damage.

2. Statement

1. All found items are to be turned in to the Front Desk Security Desk (647-323-6364). Perishable items, soiled clothing and water bottles will be disposed of.
2. Where information regarding the identity of the owner is evident, efforts will be made to contact them to facilitate claiming of the item(s).
3. Items turned in to Campus Security will be retained and disposed of as listed below:
 - a. All valuables found will be retained at Campus Security for a maximum of sixty (60) calendar days.
 - b. Unclaimed valuables will be gifted to the Student Council.

- c. Items containing personal information (e.g., passports, driver's license, etc.) that remain unclaimed after sixty (60) calendar days will be turned over to the Toronto Metropolitan Police.
- d. Clothing will be retained for seven (7) calendar days, after which, items in good repair will be donated to a local charity.
- e. All other non-valuable items will be retained for thirty (30) days, after which, items in good condition will be donated to a local charity.
- f. All remaining items will be disposed of.

Procedures

1. Reporting Lost Items

If you have lost any personal items on campus, please report it immediately to the security desk at the front desk of the College. You will be required to present your student ID card to claim your lost items.

We highly recommend that you keep track of your belongings and not leave them unattended in public areas.

2. Search for Lost Items

Toronto Business College does not actively search for lost items. Lost items are given or reported to security or front desk if found by someone.

If you have lost an item, check with the security desk to inquire about the item which may be in the lost and found.

We do not give out information regarding lost items over the phone, text or email. Students must come to the front desk with their student ID card to inquire about lost items.

3. Reporting Found Items

If you have found any unattended items on campus, please report it to the security desk or front desk as soon as possible.

We highly recommend that you do not touch or move the item until the security desk or front desk arrives.

4. Claiming Lost Items

To claim a lost item, you must present your student ID card to the security desk at the front desk. You must prove that the item belongs to you by providing additional information if necessary.

All unclaimed items will be kept in our lost and found department for a period of one semester or four months before they are donated or discarded. We hope that our lost and found policy provides a clear understanding of how lost items are handled at Toronto Business College.

If you have any questions or concerns about our lost and found policy, please do not hesitate to contact the college's administration office for further assistance.

1. Purpose

Loyalist College (herein referred to as “the College”) is a community of learners where respectful living and learning is a cherished principle. For academic and other matters falling outside the scope of this Code, students should consult the list of policies posted on the College’s website at: <https://www.loyalistcollege.com/about-loyalist/policies/> and familiarize themselves with the relevant academic calendar. The College uses operational policies and the Student Code of Conduct to inform its students of its expectations for acceptable student conduct in academic and non-academic matters.

The primary purpose of the Loyalist College Student Code of Conduct (hereafter referred to as “the Code” or “this Code”) is not to be punitive but, rather, to be a guideline for appropriate non-academic behavior across Loyalist College’s diversified community. The Code provides a framework for review, investigation and resolution including sanctions, as appropriate. Where possible and appropriate, education and the provision of support services shall be used to attempt informal resolution of a matter before proceeding to formal resolution procedures. While this Code lays out specific avenues for Complaints and Appeals, the College encourages student to speak informally with the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, to better understand their options before proceeding with a complaint or response.

The administration of this Code and Loyalist College policies is to be conducted in a clear, fair, and timely manner with due regard for the principles of natural justice.

2. Oversight Responsibilities

The department of Student Life and Leadership administers the Student Code of Conduct in non-academic matters. The Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, shall review complaints, and respond according to the related procedures in this Code.

3. Definitions

Advisor: A person selected by a Complainant or a Respondent to accompany them throughout the process or a part of the process. The Advisor does not play an active role in any part of the processes under this Code except to act as a moral support for the party asking to be accompanied.

Appellant: The party who appeals a decision under this Code.

Complainant: The party or parties initiating a complaint under this Code.

Counter-Complaint: A complaint filed by a Respondent in response to the complaint alleging breach of the Student Code of Conduct by the original Complainant.

Due Process: The principle that a party has a right to a fair and unbiased process that, amongst other things, incorporates the principles of the right to be heard or to know the case that has been made against a party to support any complaint or response.

Expected Standards: Refers to student behavior that meets or exceeds generally accepted standards for the development and maintenance of Loyalist College as a productive and positive place to learn and live. These standards are further outlined in the Appendices attached below.

Good Standing: Students with a semester GPA of 60%, or greater, for non-degree programs or 65%, or greater, for degree programs, who have passed all courses, are considered to be in good academic standing.

Harassment: Defined as any form of attention or conduct by an individual or group that knows, or ought to know, that such attention or conduct is unwelcome, unwanted, offensive, or intimidating. Such behavior does not have to constitute a pattern but rather, harassment may arise from a single instance of such behavior.

Inappropriate Behavior: Refers to behaviors that compromise the positive learning and living environment at Loyalist College and which fall below the generally accepted standards outlined in this Code or in relevant municipal, provincial, and federal legislation.

Loyalist College Community: Refers to students, alumni, staff, and visitors on Loyalist College campuses and facilities; participants in college related programming (academic and non-academic); and those involved in the use of college equipment or software.

Natural Justice: For the purposes of this Code, natural justice means that a student:

- a. has the right to know the case against them.
- a. has the right to present a defense.
- b. has a right to expect due process including the right to an unbiased complaint, investigation, and decision-making process.
- c. has the right to know reasons for a decision under this Code; and,
- d. has a right to appeal provided there are reasonable grounds for such appeal based on a reasonable apprehension of bias or that another breach of natural justice has taken place.

Offence: Behavior or actions by students that breach this Code or fall short of the College's standard for student responsibilities.

Penalties/Sanctions: Refers to measures taken to address breaches that fall below the expected standards of behavior. They are applied primarily to correct behavior rather than to punish behavior.

Reasonable Apprehension of Bias: A test to determine whether a decision has been unduly influenced by bias.

Respondent: The party or parties responding to a complaint, or an appeal filed under this Code.

Restorative Measures: Refers to measures aimed at assisting a student to take responsibility for their actions; make it right for those who have been negatively affected by those actions; and allow the community to be involved in helping both the victim and the offender.

Restorative practices seek to repair harm as part of a collaborative, good faith process that is predicated on parties taking responsibility for their actions and willingly participating in processes to redress any harm that has occurred.

Sole Decision Maker: The Sole Decision Maker process may be used, but is not limited to, situations where:

- A simple administrative fine has been issued for a relatively minor breach of the Code or related policy.

- For more serious cases where a more in-depth investigation needs to take place and where the matters under investigation are of a particularly sensitive nature.

- There are increased concerns about confidentiality and the breach thereof.

- There is more immediate action required arising from a concern for an individual or the larger Loyalist community.

The Sole Decision-Maker process may also be used when the matter is a relatively simple matter (e.g., a simple administrative fine has been issued for a relatively minor breach of the Code), the College is the Complainant, or when a complaint is received during periods when the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel is unavailable (e.g. after the end of classes, outside the regular academic year, or when the Complaints Review Panel is unable to meet due to student or staff absences – see Appendix “G” for more details).

Student: Refers to all full and part-time students, enrolled in for-credit or non-credit courses (and includes distance education courses) at Loyalist College or their guests on-campus or at a college related activity or event off-campus.

4. Principles

4.1 Positive Learning and Living Environment

Loyalist College is committed to establishing and maintaining a positive learning and living environment. The Code is designed to provide an explicit definition of the minimum standards of personal conduct that Loyalist College expects of all its students.

4.2 Conduct Respecting the Dignity and Worth of Every Member of the Loyalist College Community, Free from Discrimination

The Code reinforces the fact that Loyalist College respects the dignity and worth of every member of its community and provides for equal rights and opportunities, free from discrimination. Each member of the Loyalist College community shares responsibility for creating and maintaining a living, learning, and working environment free from discrimination.

4.3 Behavioral Expectations and Prohibited Conduct

Students are expected to conduct themselves in a manner that exemplifies the values of Loyalist College in maintaining a safe, respectful, and inclusive environment for all members of the College community. The Code provides preventative guidance to members of the College community while also recognizing that breaches can occur from time to time and must be dealt with accordingly.

4.4 Risk Mitigation

The Code recognizes that occasionally, student behavior may fall below generally accepted standards. By ensuring that students and staff are aware of the expected standards of behavior, and the consequences of not meeting those standards, Loyalist College aims to reduce the likelihood of physical, emotional, or reputational harm to all members of the Loyalist College community and to Loyalist College itself.

4.5 Right of Appeal

A student may appeal against a decision made under this Code providing they can demonstrate reasonable grounds for appeal based on a breach of natural justice, including a reasonable apprehension of bias or conflict of interest. NOTE: Not liking the result of a decision is not, in and of itself, grounds for appeal. Reasonable grounds would include evidence which, on its face, alleges bias or another fundamental breach of the principles of natural justice (e.g., a failure to follow due process).

5. Accommodation

Students with disabilities may require accommodation in relation to a hearing under this Code. In such cases, the student is required to provide medical documentation to the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate. With consent, the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, will consult with the Access Ability office to confirm and, as necessary, specify the accommodations that should be provided when practicable to do so.

6. Application & Scope

The Loyalist College Student Code of Conduct applies to the non-academic conduct of all full- and part-time Loyalist College students that occurs on-campus; in properties owned or leased by Loyalist College; when using College equipment or software; or when participating in Loyalist College activities regardless of whether they take place on-or-off-campus.

Complaints involving employees, including student employee conduct within the scope of their employment, should be referred to the People and Culture department by contacting them at the following email address: peopleandculture@loyalistcollege.com

This policy applies to off-campus behavior when:

- a. a student is participating in an academic requirement off-campus (including, but not limited to, work integrated learning (WIL) opportunities, Co-op related programming, field placement, or academically related field trips and experiential opportunities).
- b. a student is participating in any College sanctioned event (including, but not limited to, orientation, athletic events, charity events, etc.).
- c. Off-campus behavior threatens or negatively affects the physical or mental safety of Loyalist College students and staff.
- d. off-campus behavior has a real and substantive probability of negatively affecting the interests or reputation of Loyalist College, including:
 - i. when using electronic communications under the name of Loyalist College.
 - ii. when using social networking sites. NOTE: The College does not actively monitor such sites but if content comes to the attention of the College that reasonably suggests a breach of this Code or other College policies, the College reserves the right to investigate and respond as appropriate.

The procedures outlined in this document do not apply to breaches that are determined to be at Level 1 as outlined in Appendix I. Fines or other sanctions for such breaches shall be at the sole discretion of the relevant College representative, (e.g., residence staff member). Appeals of any such sanctions shall be to the immediate supervisor of the relevant staff member and the decision of the supervisor shall be final with no further avenue for appeal.

Whenever appropriate, the administration of this Code will seek to apply positive interventions, restorative practices, or educative outcomes.

- a) determine whether a matter should be addressed under this Code.
- b) take necessary and appropriate action to protect the safety and welfare of the College community as a whole, notwithstanding this Code.
- c) use information provided by external agencies such as the police or the courts; and
- d) determine whether behavioral restrictions should be put in place regardless of the location of the incident or the actions of external agencies such as the police or the courts. In other words, the College reserves the right to act under this Code regardless of whether proceedings have been commenced by outside parties.

7. Student Rights and Responsibilities

7.1 Student Rights

- The right to pursue their academic program with all the access and privileges that the College accords to those in good standing.
- The right to participate fully in college life without fear or threat of harassment, intimidation, discrimination, violence, or other forms of exclusionary or threatening behavior.

- The right to an educational or on-campus residential environment that is safe, respectful, and conducive to positive living and learning.
- The right to natural justice under this policy.
- The right to privacy of personal information as per college policies.
- The right to freedom of opinion, expression, belief, and association to the extent this freedom does not infringe on the rights of others or violate this and other College policies or relevant laws.
- The right to peaceful assembly and participation within the College provided such actions do not violate the fundamental rights of other community members or breach the fundamental responsibilities outlined in the Student Code of Conduct.

7.2 Student Responsibilities

- The responsibility to behave in a manner that makes Loyalist College a safe, respectful, inclusive, and positive place to live, work, and study. Students are responsible for avoiding behavior that threatens or endangers the health, safety, well-being, or dignity of any member of the Loyalist community.
- The responsibility to support an environment of honesty, equity, and respect for others, consistent with the value that the College places on these principles within the Loyalist community.
- The responsibility to be fully acquainted with, and adhere to, College policies, procedures, and rules.
- The responsibility to protect the privacy of personal information of all members of the community.
- The responsibility to act in accordance with the law and College policy by not engaging in behavior that is, or that can be reasonably seen as, illegal or in breach of College policy.

8. Offences

Students are expected to conduct themselves in a manner that exemplifies the values upheld by Loyalist College by preserving a safe, respectful, and inclusive environment for all members of the College community. Prohibited conduct is identified on a continuum, based on relative harm to, or impact on, the rights of others. Cumulative or repeated behavior will result in an increasing level of sanction, although the incident on its own may not have normally warranted the recommended outcome. The offences identified below are provided for increased clarity regarding college expectations. The categories are not meant to provide an exhaustive list of all potential breaches to which this Code may apply. Students are expected to refrain from the following actions.

8.1 Offences Against Persons

Includes but is not limited to:

8.1.1 Threats of Harm, or Actual Harm, to a Person's/Group's Physical or Mental Well-being Assaulting, acting physically aggressive; acting verbally or non-verbally aggressive; intimidation, or coercion.

8.1.2 Harassment

Behaving inappropriately through verbal or written communications (either in-person or via email); electronic messaging or other electronic/internet-based processes; or telephone.

Protections detailed in municipal, provincial, or federal laws may apply, as appropriate. In addition, students are not to display any kinds of discriminatory material including, but not limited to, notices; signs; flags; symbols; emblems; or any other similar representation that is determined to be discriminatory or harassing. NOTE: Intent to discriminate is not a determining factor under this Code. The impact on another person, or persons, or the College community shall be the determining factor.

8.1.3 Sexual Assault and Sexualized Violence

Sexualized violence: any unwanted sexual acts and/or acts that are committed, threatened or attempted against a person without a person's consent. Sexualized violence includes sexual assault, sexual harassment, stalking, indecent exposure, voyeurism and sexual exploitation.

8.1.4 Disturbances for the Purpose of Disruption or Obstruction

Creating disturbances that the individual knows, or ought to know, obstructs any activity organized by the College or the right of another member or members to carry on their legitimate activities, to speak, or to associate with others. Silent or symbolic protest will not be considered disruption under this Code. Noise that obstructs the conducting of a meeting or other regular college business, or forcible blocking of access to an activity does constitute disruption.

8.2 Offences Against Property

Includes but is not limited to:

8.2.1 Theft or Other Unauthorized Possession

Possessing College property or the property of any member of the College community without the permission of the rightful owner. This includes taking something or being in possession of something that is known, or ought to be known, as not their own and for which authorization has not been granted.

8.2.2 Damage to the Property of the College or its Community Members

Misusing, misappropriating, destructing, defacing, or damaging College property, or property that is not their own, including information or intellectual property owned by the College or any members of the College community.

8.3 Offences that Disregard the Safety and Health of the Loyalist College Community

This includes but is not limited to:

8.3.1 Creating Dangerous or Unsafe Conditions

Setting fires, setting off false fire alarms, tampering with other lifesaving equipment, blocking exit routes, or misleading/impeding the work of college or emergency personnel.

8.3.2 Inciting Violence

Threatening violence or physical abuse to any group or individual members of the College community or inciting others to engage in such behavior.

8.3.3 Firearms, Explosives, Other Weapons

Possessing firearms (including air guns or replica firearms), explosives (including fireworks), other weapons or dangerous chemicals on college property or to any College-related event or activity.

Making claims of possessing or threatening to use such items on college property or at any College related event or against any member of the College community.

8.4 Offences Related to Access or Use of College Property, Facilities, Equipment and Materials

This includes but is not limited to:

8.4.1 Unauthorized Entry or Presence

Entering or remaining on college premises or property or presence at any College-related activity/program without proper authority.

8.4.2 Unauthorized Use of College Facilities, Equipment, Materials, or Services

Using any facility, equipment, material, or service (including any of the College's information resources), contrary to express instruction or without proper authority. Obtaining or using any College equipment, material, or service (including any of the College's information resources), by fraudulent means or by providing false information.

8.4.3 Misuse of College Supplies or Documents

Making, altering, using, receiving, or possessing College supplies or documents without proper authority. Supplies and documents include, but are not limited to, equipment, software, keys, records, permits, College letterhead, College stationery, or College envelopes.

8.4.4 Misuse of Library or Information Resources

- Removing books or other library materials from the College library without proper authorization.
- Destroying, misplace, misfiling, or rendering inoperable any stored information such as books, film, data files, or programs normally available through the library, computer, or other information storage, processing, and retrieval systems.
- Abusing any College information resources including, but not limited to, computer or computer-related facilities or software; altering or removing computer files or software.

without proper authorization; purposefully misplacing/mis-filing such files or software; or depriving others of access to such information resources.

8.5 Offences Related to the Use of Alcohol or Drugs

- Contravening provincial liquor laws or the policies of the College regarding the purchase, sale, possession, consumption, or manufacturing of alcoholic beverages.
- Possessing or consuming alcoholic beverages at a college-organized or College sanctioned event, on or off campus, which has been designated as a dry event/activity.
- Transporting, consuming, or possession of open alcohol outside licensed on-campus events or spaces, or other College-approved events or spaces where alcohol is that is sold or served.
- Possessing or using prescription drugs without a valid prescription. Trafficking of prescription drugs shall be considered an illegal drug activity for the purposes of this Code regardless of the amounts involved and regardless of whether money or other form of consideration is exchanged.
- Possessing of, furnishing to another, or consuming illegal drugs on-campus; at College facilities (whether leased or owned by the College); at College activities or events; or otherwise engaging in illegal drug behavior.

NOTE: As a general principle, impairment by alcohol or other drugs is not a defense against being found responsible for breaching the standards of behavior outlined in this Code; other College policies; or related procedures.

8.6 Offences Related to Smoking

Smoking on-campus or other College related property or at college sponsored activities or events. Students who can provide proof of a legitimate medical marijuana prescription, provided by a licensed physician, must register, and develop a plan with Accessibility Services as per the College's ADMIN 102 Smoke Free Campus Policy.

8.7 Offences Related to Online Postings

Students are reminded that images, posts, dialogues, and information about themselves or others posted on the internet are public information. While College officials do not actively monitor sites, content that is brought to the attention of the College which describes or documents behavior that may constitute a breach of college policy may be subject to further investigation. The College reserves the right to respond to these incidents, which may include disciplinary action under this Code or other relevant College policy.

8.8 Failure to Comply

Failing to comply with the reasonable directions of college officials, College Security officials, or other law enforcement officers in the performance of their duties.

8.9 Supporting Student Misconduct

Encouraging, aiding, or conspiring with another student to engage in misconduct under this Code. This includes, but is not limited to, encouraging or aiding behavior of a non-student/group which, if committed by a student/student group, would be grounds for misconduct under this Code.

8.10 Misconduct Related to the Application of this Code.

In utilizing this code, students and other members of the College community will refrain from:

- Abusing or otherwise disrespecting the substance and procedures under this Code including, but not limited to, bringing false or unfounded complaints with malicious or frivolous intent; failing to comply with the reasonable requests of an administrator or other staff member authorized under this Code; failing to attend meetings or hearings regarding alleged breaches of this Code; or retaliating against any participant in proceedings under this Code.
- Abusing the College's disciplinary system by, but not limited to:
 - Falsifying, distorting, or otherwise misrepresenting information before the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel or the College Appeals panel.
 - Disrupting or interfering with the orderly conduct of any hearing held under this Code.
 - Attempting to discourage an individual's participation in, or use of, the Student Code of Conduct policy.
 - Attempting to influence the impartiality of a member of the College's Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel or the Appeals Panel.

Harassing or intimidating or attempting intimidation of a member of the Complaints Review Panel or the Appeals Panel.

Influencing or attempting to influence another person to commit an abuse of the Complaints Review Panel or the Appeals Panel processes.

8.11 Refusal to Comply with Decisions made under this Code.

Students who are found to be responsible for misconduct under this Code must comply with a corrective measure applied under this Code. Students who do not comply with decisions made under this Code may be subject to further sanctions including, but not limited to, suspension or expulsion from the College.

9. Sanctions

The following is a list of possible sanctions that may be imposed under the Code upon determination that a breach has occurred. The list is not exhaustive but is meant to serve as a guideline for the Complaints Review Panel, the Appeals Panel, or the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, when reviewing violations of the Code. Each case is unique and, consequently, the sanctions imposed may be unique to address the specific breach and its consequent harm to either an individual or the community.

Administrative Move/Relocation – In some situations, particularly if the Complainant and the Respondent are in the Loyalist residence community, there may be a need to move a student to another room or to another residence. This will often be linked to a sanction restricting the person's ability to return to their previous residence building.

Likewise, in cases where a Complainant and Respondent may be in the same courses or program, there may be a need to move a student to another course or another program cohort.

Alcohol Probation – Students who create a disturbance after, or because of, drinking or who violate rules and regulations after, or because of, drinking, or who demonstrate signs of problem drinking may be placed on alcohol probation. Students on such probation are not permitted to possess or consume alcohol on college premises, whether on-campus or leased off-campus or at College related events. Residence students in violation of alcohol probation may face suspension or eviction from residence. Students who violate an alcohol probation will be placed on disciplinary probation automatically and future breaches of the Code may result in further sanctions being imposed.

Apology – Apologies are meant to express the remorse of the person offering an apology and to help repair any damage that has been done to the parties' relationship. Such apologies may be private (i.e., party-to-party), or public (i.e., to the Loyalist community), as appropriate.

Bans – Students may be banned from one or more campus residences; from other areas on campus; and/or from campus and campus-related facilities. Such a ban may have a formal Trespass to Property Notice attached which constitutes legal notice and for which a breach can lead to further legal sanctions.

Behavior Contract – A behavior contract is an agreement between an individual and the College, whereby an individual agrees to a set of specified behaviors, conditions, or expectations. An individual may be issued a behavior contract where it is determined to be part of the educative process for the individual and where the individual does not constitute an immediate or enduring threat to other members of the Loyalist community. A behavior contract will often be issued together with a bond that will result in a fine being imposed should the behavior contract be breached.

Bond – A bond is a suspended fine and is used to ensure that an individual complies with a specific behavior contract, policy, or procedure and to ensure an appropriate level of behavior is maintained by the individual within the Loyalist community. If there are no behavioral contract violations during the period specified in the bond, no fine will be issued. Should the behavior contract be violated, the bond will be converted into a fine and charged to the student's account. NOTE: Additional sanctions may also apply.

Community Service Hours – Community service provides a student with an opportunity to repair any damage(s) or harm caused by their behavior. At the discretion of the decisionmaker(s) under the processes of this Code, community service hours may be completed on- or off-campus. Completion of hours will be confirmed by the party supervising the requisite hours.

Educational Assignment – These may be written or participative activities the purpose of which is to provide a student with increased knowledge as to the impact of their behavior on an individual, the College community, or the community at large. They may be written, oral, participation in restorative justice processes, meeting with a college or external community member with expertise in the issue, etc.

Expulsion from Residence or the College – In some cases, the behavior may be severe enough to warrant a student's expulsion from the College or from residence. In such cases, the student will also be banned from campus or from residence and may be subject to a Trespass to Property Notice. A decision to expel a student from the College will be made by the Vice- President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, after consultation with the Senior Vice- President Academic.

Fines – A fine is a financial charge against a student's account in consequence of a breach of this Code and to hold a student accountable for such breach.

Interim Measures – In cases where the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, deems it necessary, interim measures may be implemented. Such measures are taken as the result of a reasonable belief in the need to protect the safety and well-being of the students involved in a complaint or for the protection of the larger Loyalist College community. Such measures can include, but are not restricted to, room/residence re-location; temporary room/residence/College ban; a No Contact/Communication Order; or other restrictions deemed necessary while the complaints process is underway. Interim measures, similar to emergency measures, do not imply a finding of guilt.

No Communication Order – To safeguard the review and hearing process or to ensure a safe space for students involved in a complaint, the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, may issue a No Communication Order. Such an order restricts, as outlined in the Order, communication between students involved in the complaint process until such time as the matter has been resolved.

No Contact Order – To safeguard the review and hearing process or to ensure a safe space for students involved in a complaint, the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, may issue a No Contact Order. Such an order restricts, as outlined in the Order, any form of contact (which may also include matters covered under a No Communication Order) between students involved in the complaint process until such time as the matter has been resolved.

Non-Academic Suspension – Students may be issued with a non-academic suspension which prohibits them from being on campus for any non-academic purpose. Except for classes, labs, assigned study groups, or other academic purposes, the suspended student is not permitted on-campus and must leave immediately upon the academic purpose being completed. Failure to abide by the terms and conditions set out in the non-academic suspension may result in a complete suspension or expulsion.

Reduced Privileges – Students may have their privileges restricted or suspended. Such privileges may include participation in clubs, societies, or teams; eligibility for residence allocations or future residence allocations; or attendance at social functions on-campus or at college related events and activities.

Referral – Students may, as directed by the relevant decision-maker, be required to attend meetings/appointments with Designated people, organizations, or departments (on- or off-campus) as an educative means to ensure fuller understanding or compliance to avoid future breaches under this Code.

Restitution – Relates to monetary sanctions directly meant to compensate for costs incurred from injury, loss, or other damages including, but not limited to, the cost of repair, replacement, or other compensation. Restitution differs from Fines in that the assessment of the amount of restitution is specifically related to those costs that are determined to be a direct consequence of the inappropriate behavior and the harm caused.

Violence Threat Risk Assessment – In cases where there is a reasonable belief that a student may pose a threat to the safety of others due to a high potential for physical harm to other members of the Loyalist community; high potential of damage to College property; or the continued presence of a student would be unduly disruptive, the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, may seek an evaluation of the safety risk by referring the matter to an outside, third party, for further threat assessment. In such cases, interim or emergency measures may be applied as the threat assessment is conducted.

Written Warning – A written warning is a low-level sanction that serves to warn a student that a continuation of the behavior outlined in the warning may result in further and more severe sanctions.

NOTE: The College reserves the right to impose outcomes other than those outlined above depending on the nature and severity of the behavior or harm under review.

APPENDIX A – DIRECT PARTY-TO-PARTY PROCEDURE

Informal Party-to-Party Resolution

The Loyalist College recognizes that many disputes can be resolved informally without resorting to the procedures in this Code. Where it is possible and appropriate to do so, members of the College community are encouraged to use constructive communication to directly resolve the situation rather than invoking the formal complaints procedure under this Code. A suggested process for this is as follows:

- a. Choose a time and place when a conversation can proceed calmly, privately, and without too much time having passed from the time of the incident leading to the need for the meeting. Where appropriate, consider bringing another person to the meeting for moral support.
- b. Speak about the impact of the behavior, focusing on the behavior – not the person.
- c. Listen to understand and acknowledge the viewpoint of the other person involved.
- d. Work together to find an agreement on how to resolve the issue through better communication, mutual understanding, and possibly developing a plan to avoid such impacts in the future.

If the situation does not lend itself to direct resolution or if direct resolution is unsuccessful, an individual may choose to address the issue through the complaints process outlined in this Code and Appendices below. NOTE: In all cases, the complaints process shall begin with a formal, written complaint.

APPENDIX B – COMPLAINTS PROCEDURE

A. Statement

Toronto Business College believes all members of the College community have the right to study or work in an environment that is safe, secure, and supportive. The College expects students, staff, faculty, and visitors to be responsible for conducting themselves in a manner that respects the rights of employees, other students and College property.

This procedure outlines the ways Loyalist College in Toronto students can file a complaint against any member of the College community (students, staff, faculty, or visitors) or against their employers if they currently are completing a Co-op or work placement.

B. Incident Reporting

In order to file an official complaint, the student must submit a Student Complaint form to report any type of incident that happened:

- On campus (in the REC Room, the Common Area, the Lounge, the parking lot, etc.)
- In class
- In the Innovation Hub
- Off campus
- While on Co-op or work placement.

Students must provide details of the incident:

1. Description of what happened:
 - Identify the specific actions, behaviors and/or words spoken that precipitated the incident.
 - Characterize the type of incident (Physical injury, verbal abuse, threatening behavior, verbal threat, written threat, damage to personal/other property).
2. Location of the Incident (attach sketch if possible):
 - Outcome (Police called, injury, medical assistance, first aid, emotional shock or distress, legal action initiated)
3. Other Relevant Information:
 - Possible contributing factors (Use of drugs or alcohol, possession of a weapon, apparent motive)
4. Relevant events which preceded the incident.

All submissions will be automatically reported to the Director of Student Success, the Director of Quality Assurance, and the Dean's Office, who will arrange a meeting with the student within two (2) working days of the date of the submitted complaint.

If a complaint is filed against one of the members of the TBC Senior Leadership Team, this member will automatically recuse themselves to guarantee a fair process.

The Student Complaint form is available on the Learning Management System (Moodle).

APPENDIX C – INFORMAL RESOLUTION

The informal resolution process provides the Complainant(s) and Respondent(s) with the option of seeking a facilitated outcome to the complaint. It is meant to arrive at a common understanding of the harm done and to achieve a mutually agreeable outcome that is designed to repair or redress the harm/perceived harm. Any breakdown of the informal resolution process or any violation of the agreed upon terms will result in the matter being automatically referred to the College's Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel.

A. Overview

1. The Complainant may request an informal resolution process or the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, may suggest it, and both parties (Complainant and Respondent) must both mutually agree to it. Where there is disagreement, or where the Respondent does not respond, the matter will proceed to the formal resolution process by presentation to the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel.
2. Normally, the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, will facilitate the informal resolution process. At their discretion, or at the request of both parties involved, another College staff member, or members, may be called upon to facilitate. If the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, is not the facilitator, every effort will be made to find a facilitator, or facilitators, who is/are mutually agreeable to the parties. Failure to find a mutually agreeable facilitator will result in the matter being referred to the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel.
3. At any point in the informal resolution process, either the Complainant or the Respondent may choose to withdraw from the process, in which case the matter will be referred to the College's Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel.
4. At any point in the process, the Complainant or Respondent may elect to be accompanied by an Advisor. The Complainant or Respondent must provide the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, or other facilitator(s) with the name/contact information of the Advisor, in writing, either through Loyalist College's email, campus mail, or Express Post, at least 24 hours prior to any scheduled meeting.
5. The informal resolution process is confidential and personal information or admissions shared within the process may not be used by either party against the other in another resolution process. If the parties arrive at a mutually agreeable resolution, then the resolution/agreement may be shared with appropriate third parties or decision makers, but the content of the process is to remain private and confidential.
6. The facilitator(s) will work with the parties, separately or together, to achieve a commonly agreed upon outcome. The facilitator(s) may not act as a decision maker but can make suggestions as per their role as facilitator.
7. Any outcome must be determined jointly and entered voluntarily by the parties.
8. Where a resolution is not reached, the case will be referred to the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel established under this Code. Likewise, if an agreement is reached but not ultimately followed by either party, the matter will be referred to the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review panel. If necessary, the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership may impose interim measures as needed to ensure the principles of the Code are adhered to by all parties.

B. Informal Resolution Process

1. Once the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, has confirmed the Complainant wishes to resolve the matter informally, they will notify the Respondent of the complaint and the Complainant's desire to resolve the matter informally. The Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, will invite the Respondent to meet in person to discuss the nature of the complaint and the details of the Informal Resolution process:
 - i. If the Respondent agrees to participate in the Informal Process, the process will continue as outlined in paragraph 2 below.
 - ii. If the Respondent does not agree to participate, the matter will be referred to the Student Conduct Complaints Review Panel for formal resolution.
2. After meeting with the Respondent to outline the nature of the complaint and the Complainant's desire to resolve the matter informally, the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, or appointed facilitator(s), will meet with the Complainant, the Respondent, and any relevant witness(es), separately or jointly as required to facilitate the process. The process allows for multiple meetings, if required, provided the meetings remain constructive and are working positively to resolve the matter. The purpose of the meeting(s) is:
 - i. to better understand the nature and impact of the harm.
 - ii. to make the Respondent aware of the harmful impact on the Complainant; and
 - iii. to assess the potential for arriving at a mutually agreeable outcome that addresses the harm.
3. Following the initial set of meetings with the Complainant and the Respondent, the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, or appointed facilitator(s), will present to the Complainant and Respondent, possible courses of action with respect to achieving a resolution. These may include, but are not limited to, any of the following:
 - i. measures designed to acknowledge the impact of the harm and prevent reoccurrence.
 - ii. a proposal from the Respondent that includes goals and a timeline for tasks to be undertaken to:
 - a. prevent reoccurrence, and,
 - b. repair the harm caused by the incident leading to the complaint.
 - iii. a conciliation meeting in which the Complainant/Respondent involved do not meet face-to-face, but information is shared back and forth by the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, or appointed facilitator(s);
 - iv. a mediation with both the Complainant and Respondent present in which the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, or

- facilitator(s) encourages an exploration of the behavior, its root causes, the effect on others, and possible remedies.
 - v. agreed upon administrative recommendations/sanctions designed to remedy the harm that has been caused.
- 4. Each part of the Informal Resolution process must be agreed upon by all parties including:
 - i. developing and agreeing to a set of expectations that ensures everyone has a fair opportunity to participate and is respected in the process.
 - ii. working together to define the topics that will be discussed or topics that will not be discussed through the process due to the sensitivity of the topic.
 - iii. deciding on how the process will proceed including the steps involved in the process, who to involve, when and where to meet, and how communications will be facilitated; and
 - iv. agreeing to outcomes that satisfy those who have been impacted.
- 5. The process will take the form of one or more discussions, as noted above, with those who are directly involved agreeing that:
 - i. all participants are expected to approach the process with an open mind, a willingness to listen, and a genuine desire to better understand what has happened and its impact.
 - ii. conversations will be constructive in nature to bring about new insight into what happened, what it meant to those involved, and what should happen next; and
 - iii. that due to the possibility of the matter being emotional for the part involved, each participant will engage in a thoughtful and reflective manner; work towards de-escalation of any tensions; treat all parties with respect; and focus any blame on the situation rather than on the individual.
- 6. The process will normally be concluded within 60 calendar days but may be extended should it be acceptable to all parties if the conditions noted in Appendix B are presented.
- 7. The matter will be deemed to be resolved when the process comes to a natural end with the outcomes having been reasonably fulfilled, and all parties agreeing it has been reasonably resolved.
- 8. A brief written summary will be provided by the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, or facilitator(s) to the Complainant and the Respondent and a copy shall be kept in the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership's office.

APPENDIX D - FORMAL RESOLUTION – SOLE DECISION-MAKER

Complaints that do not lend themselves to the Informal Resolution process outlined in Appendix C due to the need for more immediate action or arising from the need for an expanded investigation; confidentiality concerns; timing concerns; concerns arising because of threats to the individual or community; or other concerns as determined relevant by the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, may be referred to the Sole Decision Maker process.

A. Overview – Sole Decision Maker Resolution

Complaints that are normally subject to a Sole Decision-Maker resolution are those that may require an expanded investigation, sensitivity around confidentiality, or more immediate action because of concern for an individual or the Loyalist community.

The Sole Decision-Maker process may also be used when the matter is a relatively simple matter (e.g., a simple administrative fine has been issued for a relatively minor breach of the Code), the College is the Complainant, or when a complaint is received during periods when the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel is unavailable (e.g. after the end of classes, outside the regular academic year, or when the Complaints Review Panel is unable to meet due to student or staff absences – see Appendix “G” for more details).

In such instances, the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, will normally utilize the Sole Decision-Maker process to resolve the complaint. If the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership is perceived to be in a conflict-of-interest position, then the matter will be referred to the Senior Vice-President, Academic.

B. Process

When the Sole Decision-Maker process is undertaken, the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, will notify all parties as outlined in Appendix B, as necessary. For cases involving allegations of danger to individual or community safety, the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, may order interim sanctions or emergency measures be imposed until the matter can be fully resolved.

1. The Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, will take the appropriate steps to ascertain the facts of the matter by meeting separately with each party, and as appropriate, with any relevant witnesses that have been identified.
2. The Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, may call upon other witnesses based on information gathered over the course of the investigation. In some cases, it may be necessary for parties to be interviewed more than once.
3. If new information comes to light because of the information provided by the Respondent or the Respondent's witness(es), the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, may deem it required to meet again with the Complainant or any previously interviewed witness(es) for the purpose of clarifying their original statements.
4. In the case of a student-to-student complaint, if the Respondent submits a counter-complaint, the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, will decide on both complaints at the same time.

5. Where a meeting has been scheduled between a Respondent and the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, but the Respondent does not attend despite having been informed of the meeting, in writing, the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, may proceed in the Respondent's absence, and decide based on the information already received and reviewed.
6. Where a meeting has been scheduled between a Complainant and the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or a Designate, despite the Complainant having been informed of the meeting, in writing, the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, will not proceed with the complaint unless there is reason to believe there is an ongoing threat to the health and safety of an individual or the broader Loyalist community.
7. The Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, reserves the right to call upon additional College staff members as may be needed to assist with or lead the investigative/review process. The Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, will review other relevant policies and utilize those policies that apply in all the circumstances. In matters involving suspected criminal activity, the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, reserves the right to notify the appropriate legal authorities.
8. Under normal circumstances, each progressive step in this process will take five business days except for a final decision by the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, which may take up to ten business days. Normally, the entire process will take no longer than 60 calendar days to resolve.
9. If, at any time, the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, determines the complaint no longer falls within the scope or cannot be dealt with effectively by the Sole Decision-Maker process, the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, may refer the matter to the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel.

C. Decision

1. If the Respondent is found to be not responsible, the file will be closed. If the Respondent is found to be responsible, then sanctions may be imposed, as necessary.
2. The Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership's, or Designee's, decision will normally be communicated, in writing, to both the Complainant and the Respondent within five business days of the decision being made. This will include:
 - i. a summary of the complaint and a finding with regards to responsibility, including the reasons for the decision.
 - ii. a description of the outcomes/sanctions, if any, that are to be imposed.
 - iii. a timeframe and process for any applicable follow-up.
 - iv. an explanation of the appeals process; and
 - v. a reminder that the proceedings are to be considered confidential and matters discussed throughout the process are not to be discussed outside the meetings held in accordance with this process.

D. Standard of Proof

The standard of proof required to determine there has been a breach of this Code will be on a balance of probabilities, meaning the decision maker has determined that the evidence shows.

it is more likely than not that the alleged events or harm occurred and that such events or harm constitute a breach of this Code. Failure to meet this standard will result in the complaint being denied.

APPENDIX E - FORMAL RESOLUTION – STUDENT CODE OF CONDUCT COMPLAINTS REVIEW PANEL

The Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel process provides a confidential forum for the Complainant and Respondent to present their arguments before a decision-making panel made up of college representatives. The panel will consider the arguments, including information received from witnesses or other relevant information, and then determine responsibility which may include a finding of no responsibility or responsibility. When a finding of responsibility is made, sanctions may apply, as appropriate.

A. Conduct Complaints Review Panel Referral

Complaints that are not initiated under the informal or sole decision-maker processes shall be referred to the Complaints Review Panel by the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, in accordance with this Code.

B. Notification of Conduct Complaints Review Panel Hearings

The Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel will normally hear the case within 20 business days from the day the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, notifies the respondent of the complaint. The Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, will be responsible for notifying the parties of the date, time, and place of the hearing.

C. Process

1. The purpose of the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel is to provide a fair evaluation of the complaint and to determine whether the Respondent is responsible for violating College regulations and to assign sanctions, as appropriate, in the case where a Respondent is found responsible.
2. Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel hearings are held in private (i.e., restricted to parties that have a direct role or interest in the hearing, e.g., Complainant and Respondent, or parties who are acting as Advisor(s)). At the discretion of the panel, other parties may be admitted to the hearing for training purposes; to act as a moral support for those who have a direct interest in the hearing; or for other reasonable considerations.
3. After the Complainant and Respondent have each had an opportunity to view the other's statements or responses, the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, will submit all documentation and supporting evidence to the Student Code Conduct Complaints Review Panel. The Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel will have five business days to review the information before scheduling a hearing.
4. Normally, the Complainant and Respondent will receive at least three business days' notice of the date, time, and location of the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Panel hearing. Where there are circumstances that warrant more urgent handling, the notice period may be shortened at the discretion of the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, after consultation with the Chair of the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel. For further clarity, the decision to shorten the notice period can only be made in circumstances where an individual's or the community's interests are threatened or otherwise at risk. The Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, will send.

the hearing notice to the Complainant and Respondent either by Loyalist College email, campus mail, or Express Post. The Complainant and Respondent are responsible for notifying their witnesses, if any.

5. To ensure due process, including fairness of the process, the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel shall observe the following procedural guidelines:
 - i. The hearing will proceed in stages with the Complainant and the Complainant's witnesses presenting to the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel first. The Respondent and the Respondent's witnesses will present themselves before the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel following the presentation by the Complainant and the Complainant's witnesses.
 - a. Following the Respondent's presentation, and at the discretion of the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel, the Complainant or the Complainant's witnesses may be asked to present again. Equally, the Respondent or the Respondent's witnesses can be asked to present for a second time.
 - b. Witnesses for either the Complainant or the Respondent shall not be present in the hearing room prior to or after presenting their information or responding to questions by the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel members. This is to avoid the potential of a witness being influenced by another's presentation.
 - c. Neither the Complainant nor the Respondent shall have the right to question witnesses during the hearing. All questioning will be by the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel members.
 - ii. In the event of a counter-complaint, where the Complainant and the Respondent have both registered complaints against the other, the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel shall hear both complaints simultaneously.
 - iii. The Respondent will be given an opportunity to admit or deny responsibility, in whole or in part.
 - iv. Both the Complainant and the Respondent will have the opportunity to make suggestions to the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel as to the remedies or sanctions, if any, they believe are appropriate in all the circumstances.

D. Hearing Operations

1. The Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel Chair will be responsible for chairing hearings.
2. Panel members will select one member to serve as the Recording Secretary for the hearing. Such selection to be made on a simple majority vote of Panel members.
3. In circumstances when a hearing continues over time and a Panel member becomes unavailable, the remaining Panel members may complete the proceeding. If the missing

Panel member is the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel Chair, the remaining Panel members will select a new Chair for the hearing. Such selection to be made on a simple majority vote of remaining panel members.

E. Decision

1. In making decisions, the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel will operate based on consensus. Where consensus cannot be reached, a vote will be taken. A majority vote will determine responsibility or no responsibility. In the event of a tie, the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel Chair will cast a deciding vote.
2. The Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel decision will normally be communicated, in writing, either by Loyalist College email, campus mail, or Express Post to both the Complainant and the Respondent within five business days of the decision being made. This communication will include:
 - a. a summary of the complaint and a finding with regards to responsibility, including the reasons for the decision.
 - b. a description of the outcomes/sanctions, if any, that are to be imposed.
 - c. a timeframe and process for any applicable follow-up.
 - d. an explanation of the appeals process; and
 - e. a reminder that the proceedings are to be considered confidential and matters discussed throughout the process are not to be discussed outside the meetings held in accordance with the Code.

F. Standard Of Proof

The standard of proof required to determine there has been a breach of this Code will be on a balance of probabilities, meaning the decision maker has determined that the evidence shows it is more likely than not that the alleged events or harm occurred and that such events or harm constitute a breach of this Code. Failure to meet this standard will result in the complaint being denied.

G. Student Responsibilities for Hearings

It is a student's responsibility in relation to a hearing to:

1. Notify witnesses of the date, time, and location of the hearing. Only witnesses whose names or statements were included in the original submission of documents and information to the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel may normally participate in the hearing.
2. Advise the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel, through the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, in writing through Loyalist College email, campus mail, or Express Post, whether they will be bringing an advisor to the hearing. The name, title, and contact details of the Advisor must be provided to the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, at least 24 hours in advance of any hearing or meeting related to the hearing, unless this requirement is waived by the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate. This information will be shared with all relevant parties.
3. Respondents are expected to attend hearings in person, or virtually, even if they have an Advisor. Failure to attend a hearing does not preclude the Student Code of Conduct

Complaints Review Panel proceeding in the absence of the respondent and deciding based on the information available at the time of the hearing.

4. Select an Advisor, if wanted, who can attend the hearing as scheduled. Failure of an Advisor to attend will not prevent a hearing from proceeding in the absence of any such Advisor.
5. Provide the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel, through the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, with their current contact information. If a student, either Complainant or Respondent, fails to receive notice under this Code by reason of the student's own failure to provide current contact information, such notice shall be deemed as being given notwithstanding the student's failure to receive same.

H. Reasonable Apprehension of Bias/Conflict of Interest

Students have the right, before the merits of a complaint are heard, to challenge the suitability of any decision-maker hearing the complaint if there is a reasonable apprehension of bias or perceived conflict-of-interest. If such a challenge is made, the entire Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel, absent the decision-maker whose impartiality is being questioned, will determine if the charge of reasonable apprehension of bias or conflict-of-interest is valid. Such a decision shall be final.

If no reasonable apprehension of bias or conflict-of-interest is found, the hearing shall proceed with all panel members as originally determined. If a reasonable apprehension of bias or conflict-of-interest is found, the hearing will be rescheduled, and a new Panel member provided. Or, if all parties agree, the hearing will proceed minus the participation of the Panel member against whom a reasonable apprehension of bias or conflict of interest has been found.

I. Postponement

1. A hearing may be postponed, at the discretion of the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel, if it has independent reasons to do so or upon the request of one of the parties, provided the party satisfies the Panel that the postponement is necessary for a fair hearing to be held. When deciding whether to grant a postponement, the Complaints Review Panel shall consider the following factors:
 - i. the timeliness of the request.
 - ii. the adverse impact, if any, on other parties to the hearing.
 - iii. whether postponements of the hearing have been previously granted.
 - iv. the consent, lack thereof, of the parties; and
 - v. any other relevant factors.
2. The party seeking the postponement must submit their request, in writing, no later than 24 hours before the time of the hearing, to the Complaints Review Panel through the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate. The request must include:
 - i. the reason(s) for the request; and
 - ii. any additional information that may help the Panel to make its decision.

The Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, will forward the request to the Student Conduct Complaints Review Panel members and to the Respondent. The Respondent shall have the opportunity to respond to the request through the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, in writing and upon receiving the request, to register their support or opposition to the request. Any response will be forwarded to the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel and to the Complainant. Failure to respond does not preclude the panel from considering the request. The decision of the Panel will be communicated through the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, to the Complainant and Respondent.

3. Where possible, the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel will consider the request in advance of the original hearing date. Where this is not possible, the Panel may consider the request as a preliminary matter to the hearing, on the date of the original hearing. In such cases, both parties should be ready to proceed as originally scheduled. Should the Complaints Review Panel decide the matter is to be postponed, then the parties will be informed, in writing, and the hearing will be rescheduled as needed. If the Complaints Review Panel's decision is to reject the application for postponement, the hearing will proceed as originally scheduled.

NOTE: Consent of the parties does not preclude the Panel from deciding to proceed with the hearing as originally scheduled.

J. Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel Composition

1. The full membership of the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel consists of two students, two faculty members and two staff members (one administrative staff member and one support staff member) appointed by the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership.
2. Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel Terms of Service:
 - i. Student members of the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel shall serve for a minimum of one year and a maximum of two years, normally from September-June of each year. Student members can be reappointed for one further term of two years. Further re-appointment is not possible until at least one year has passed from the date of last service.
 - ii. Faculty members of the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel will serve for a minimum of two years and a maximum of four years, normally from September-June of each year. Further re-appointment is not possible until at least one year has passed from the date of last service.
 - iii. Staff members of the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel will serve for a minimum of two years and a maximum of four years, normally from September-June of each year. Further re-appointment is not possible until at least two years have passed from the date of last service.
3. The Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel will select one member to serve as the Complaints Review Panel Chair. The Chair will serve as a liaison between the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel and the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership's, or Designate's, office.
4. Unless otherwise stipulated, the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel will meet at the call of the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, as appropriate.

APPENDIX F - FORMAL RESOLUTION – STUDENT CODE OF CONDUCT APPEALS PANEL

A. Grounds For Appeal

1. A right to appeal is not automatic but must be based on grounds as outlined below. The Complainant or the Respondent may only appeal a decision made under this Code on one or more of the following grounds:
 - i. A significant error occurred where the procedures outlined in this Code were not followed correctly. Such errors must be substantive in nature and ones which could have affected the outcome of a complaint. Mere clerical errors will not normally constitute a significant error.
 - ii. clear evidence of bias or significant conflict-of-interest on the part of a decision-maker.
 - iii. The outcome is patently unreasonable based on the evidence provided; or
 - iv. there is significant new evidence that was not available at the time of the decision, and which has the potential to change the original decision. Failure to present evidence that was available at the time of the original review but not presented does not constitute new evidence.

NOTE: Mere disagreement with a decision does not constitute a valid ground for appeal.

2. The grounds for appeal, including all supporting information, must be described and delivered, in writing, and by email to conductcomplaints@loyalistcollege.com within five business days following the date the original decision was issued. The Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, shall forward the materials to the College Appeals Panel, with copies to the Respondent, as necessary.
3. All appeals under this Code will be directed to the Student Code of Conduct Appeals Panel for review.
4. Decisions of the Appeals Panel are final, and no further appeal shall be heard or permitted.

B. Initial Assessment of the Appeals Materials

1. The Student Code of Conduct Appeals Panel will do an initial assessment of the submitted materials to determine if sufficient grounds have been provided to hold an Appeals Panel hearing.
2. If it is determined the grounds for an appeal are not present, the appeal will be dismissed. The decision of the Appeals Panel is final and cannot be further appealed.
3. If the appeal is granted, the Appeals Panel will conduct a hearing. Unless there are exceptional circumstances, the appeal will be heard within 10 business days of the date of the appeal's submission. The Appeals Panel shall give the Appellant and Respondent at least three business days notice of the date, time, and place of a hearing, and may be conducted as the following:
 - i. Oral hearing – the parties may have the opportunity to present their case, in person or virtually (where necessary), to the Appeals Panel members.

- ii. Written Submission hearing – the parties may have the opportunity to present their case solely in writing and the Appeals Panel members will review and render a decision.
 - a. Hearings will follow the general procedural guidelines as outlined in Appendix E – Formal Resolution – Student Code of Conduct - Complaints Review Panel and as modified for alignment with the structure and purpose of the Appeals Panel.
 - b. It is not the purpose of an appeal hearing to re-hear the case. The scope of the hearing will be limited to the Appellant making a case that the ground(s) of appeal has/have been met and the Respondent’s response, if any.
 - c. It is at the discretion of the Appeals Panel whether any parties beyond the Appellant or Respondent shall be invited to participate in a hearing.
- iii. The decision to hold an oral hearing or to have the hearing solely based on written submissions, or a combination of oral and written, shall be at the sole discretion of the Appeals Panel.

C. The Decision

The Student Code of Conduct Appeals Panel will render a written decision no more than five business days from the conclusion of the hearing. The Appeals Panel has the authority to do the following:

- I. Affirm or modify the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel’s decision, including affirming, reducing, or increasing the sanctions assigned by the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel.
- II. Order the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel to conduct a new hearing or reconsider some aspect(s) of the original decision.

The decision(s) of the Appeals Panel will be delivered to the Appellant, the Respondent, and the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, either by Loyalist College e-mail, campus mail, or Express Post. The decision will be filed with the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership’s office. The Appeals Panel’s decision is final and not subject to further appeal.

If a new hearing is granted, then the subsequent decision of the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel will be final and not subject to further appeal.

D. Suspension Of Sanctions

- 1. Only monetary sanctions are automatically suspended pending the outcome of an appeal. Non-monetary sanctions shall remain in force and effect pending the outcome of the appeal.
- 2. For appeals of Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel decisions, the Appellant may submit a written request to the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, to stay (i.e., suspend) the enforcement of the sanctions pending the outcome of the appeal.

3. For appeals of Sole Decision-Maker decisions, the Appellant may submit a written request to the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, to stay (i.e., suspend) the enforcement of the sanctions pending the outcome of the appeal. If the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, is the original decision-maker, the request to stay the enforcement of sanctions shall be made to the Senior Vice-President Academic.

E. Student Code of Conduct Appeals Panel Composition

1. The full membership of the Student Code of Conduct Appeals panel shall consist of one student; one faculty member; and one staff member (administrative or support staff) appointed by the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate. The Appeals Panel shall be formed on an appeal-by-appeal basis. The Appeals Panels should be formed on an ad hoc basis (i.e., the Appeals Panel should be formed to address appeals on an as-needed basis rather than members being appointed for a set term).
2. An Appeals Panel will normally consist of all members being present. Should any member not be able to attend, the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, shall appoint an ad hoc member from the same constituency of the missing panel member.
3. No member of the Appeals Panel will have served on the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel that heard the original case.
4. Students have the right, before the merits of a complaint are heard, to challenge the suitability of any decision-maker hearing the appeal if there is a reasonable apprehension of bias or perceived conflict-of-interest. If such a challenge is made, the entire Appeals Panel, absent the decision-maker whose impartiality is being questioned, will determine if the charge of reasonable apprehension of bias or conflict-of-interest is valid. Such decision shall be final. If no reasonable apprehension of bias or conflict-of-interest is found, the hearing shall proceed with all panel members as originally determined. If a reasonable apprehension of bias or conflict-of-interest is found, the hearing will be rescheduled, and a new Panel member provided. Or, if all parties agree, the hearing will proceed minus the participation of the Panel member against whom a reasonable apprehension of bias or conflict-of-interest has been found.

APPENDIX G – PROCESS OUTSIDE THE REGULAR ACADEMIC YEAR

For complaints that arise after the end of classes; end of exams; between terms, or outside the regular academic year (normally defined as the period from the first day of classes in the fall term to the end of exams in the summer term – excluding periods when the College is closed or classes are suspended); or at a time when the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel is unable to meet, the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, will, as appropriate, work to resolve the matter according to the Sole Decision-Maker process.

In these cases, the usual timeline(s) for response and resolution may require adjustment due to student or staff absences, holidays, availability of witnesses, etc. In cases where the complaint can be referred to the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel for resolution at the start of a new academic term or year without any disadvantage to the Complainant or Respondent, the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, shall defer the complaint to that term or year.

APPENDIX H – EMERGENCY MEASURES

1. Loyalist College reserves the right to intervene in cases where a student's behavior is reasonably seen as affecting others' use and enjoyment of college programs, privileges, rights, and facilities. These circumstances include, but are not limited to, those where there are reasonable grounds to believe the safety of others is endangered due to a high potential of physical harm; there is a potential of damage to college property; or the continued presence of the student would be unduly disruptive to individuals within the Loyalist community or unduly disruptive to the Loyalist community overall.
2. In such cases, the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, may invoke emergency measures by immediately imposing a range of restrictions, up to and including temporary suspension from the College. In cases where a conflict-of-interest or a reasonable apprehension of bias may be perceived on the part of the Vice-President, or Designate, the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, shall refer the matter to the Senior Vice-President Academic.
3. The Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, may limit a student's access to the College until a comprehensive threat assessment can be conducted by qualified professionals.
4. Normally, a formal hearing before the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel or a Sole Decision-Maker, as appropriate, will be held within 10 business days of notice to the student of the emergency measures' decision. During this time, the student may only enter residence or campus under escort where appropriate permission(s) have been sought and granted. Other interim conditions may include, but are not limited to, restrictions on a student's movement on-campus; no contact/communication orders; or suspension of student privileges; notification of external authorities (e.g., the police).
5. The Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, may extend emergency measures until the Student Code of Conduct Complaints Review Panel or the Sole Decision-Maker can reasonably hear the complaint. Normally, this will occur for a period not exceeding 30 business days from the date of the original imposition of emergency measures.
6. Any emergency measures imposed are not to be considered as evidence of guilt but, rather, as interim measures to deal with a reasonable perception of potential harm until the matter(s) can be fully resolved under this Code.
7. If the College is made aware that criminal proceedings have been initiated against a student, and the student's activity negatively impacts or may negatively impact campus safety or other College interests, the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate, will determine if there are grounds for pursuing emergency measures under this Code.

APPENDIX I – SAMPLE LEVELS OF BREACH

Level	Behavior: Examples	Type of Response: Examples	Procedure
Level I – Behaviors which interfere with the legitimate rights of any Loyalist College Community Member to pursue academic study or student life in a safe, respectful, and productive environment.	Examples may include, but are not limited to: - Verbal abuse - Smoking tobacco in non-designated areas - Use of cannabis on college property - Substance impairment leading to disruptive behavior	Depending on severity, the sanctions may be, but are not limited to: - Alcohol probation - Apology - Behavior Contract - Fines - No communication or contact order. - Reduced privileges - Written warning, to be included in student's non-academic file	Behaviors in Level 1 are decided by the relevant College representative. Appeals of any such decision are to be made to the representative's College Supervisor and any decision by the College Supervisor shall be deemed as final and not subject to further appeal. All incidents must be reported to the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership office and may form the basis of a complaint under the Student Code of Conduct.
Level II – Behaviors which endanger the safety or security of Loyalist College community members or property, or that may be harmful to the physical or psychological well-being of community members.	Examples may include, but are not limited to: - Bullying and harassing conduct - Damage to Loyalist College or community member's property. - Threatening behavior - Aggressive outbursts, either verbal or physical	Depending on severity, the sanctions may be, but are not limited to: - Alcohol probation - Apology - Ban from Residence/Campus - Behavior Contract - Bond - Community Service hours - Educational assignment - Fines - Interim measures - No communication or contact order. - Reduced Privileges - Referral - Restitution - Written Warning	Informal Resolution procedure or Formal Resolution Procedure. All incidents must be reported to the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership office and may form the basis of a complaint under the Student Code of Conduct.

Level III – Behavior that is illegal and for which municipal, provincial, or federal laws may apply.	Examples may include, but are not limited to: - Physical assaults against another person (e.g., pushing, kicking, punching, hitting, etc.) - Threat to injure self or others (verbal or written) - Weapons possession including replicas - Use or selling of prescribed medicine(s)	Depending on severity, the sanctions may be, but are not limited to: - Administrative Move/Relocation - Alcohol Probation - Apology - Ban from residence/campus - Behavior Contract - Bond - Community Service hours - Educational Assignment - Expulsion from Residence or the College - Fines - Interim Measures - No communication or contact order. - Non-academic suspension - Reduced privileges - Referral - Restitution - Written Warning	Formal Resolution Procedure. All incidents must be reported to the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership office and may form the basis of a complaint under the Student Code of Conduct.
Level IV – Emergency Measures Serious behavior that is reasonably seen as posing a threat to the safety of others due to a high potential for physical harm to other members of the Loyalist community; high potential of damage to College property; or the continued presence of the student would be unduly disruptive to individuals within the Loyalist community or unduly disruptive to the Loyalist community, overall.	Examples may include, but are not limited to: - Potential for serious bodily harm or death - Use of a weapon - Behavior is reasonably seen as being unduly disruptive	Depending on severity, the sanctions may be, but are not limited to: - Administrative Move/Relocation - Emergency Measures, including suspension from the College - Expulsion from Residence or the College - Fines - Interim Measures - No communication or contact order - Non-academic suspension - Reduced privileges - Referral - Restitution - Violence Threat Risk Assessment - Written Warning	Formal Resolution Procedure under the Student Code of Conduct. All incidents must be reported to the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership office who will be responsible for informing the College Executive of the risk and the steps taken to mitigate same.

APPENDIX J – RECORDS AND RECORDS RETENTION

Records of charges and sanctions, other than suspension or expulsion, will not be placed in a student's academic record. Records of informal resolutions will be kept as part of student's non-academic file until their graduation, after which such records will be destroyed.

Records of formal resolutions, including charges and sanctions, will be maintained as confidential records in the Office of the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, for up to seven (7) years after the student(s)' graduation, after which the records shall be destroyed. In cases where an individual ceases to be a student, all records of formal resolution including Sole Decision-Maker; Student Code of Conduct - Complaints Review Panel, or College Appeals Panel shall be kept for a period of seven (7) years, after which such records will be destroyed.

As per the regulations under this Code, records of previous breaches of this Code, where relevant, may be utilized to impose progressive disciplinary measures based on previous behavior.

APPENDIX K – GUIDELINES FOR NATURAL JUSTICE

1. The burden of proof in administrative hearings under this Code shall be on a balance of probabilities which is informally interpreted as what is most likely to have happened. If there is a belief that it is more likely than not that the incident occurred, the finding shall be that the complaint is upheld. If there is a belief that it is less likely that the incident occurred, the finding shall be that the complaint is denied.
2. The process should proceed as quickly as possible providing each party's right to due process is not negatively affected.
3. Each party must be given sufficient notice as outlined in this Code.
4. The student(s) must be informed of the case against them and be given the opportunity to prepare a response.
5. Both the Complainant and the Respondent have the right to be heard.
6. Each party may have an Advisor present who, normally, will be a member of the College community. An Advisor may be legal counsel outside the College. Advisors are there to support their respective party and shall have no active role (i.e., not be permitted to ask, or answer questions during any hearing and shall be present in a support capacity only). Students must inform the party conducting the hearing, in writing, including the contact details, and according to the timelines and format set out in this Code, if they plan to bring an Advisor.
7. Complainant(s) and Respondent(s) may provide witnesses during proceedings, as appropriate. Students must inform the party conducting the hearing, in writing, including the contact details, and according to the timelines and format set out in this Code, if they plan to bring a witness. Witnesses must normally appear but failure to appear does not stop the proceeding from moving forward. It is the responsibility of the party calling the witness(es) to ensure their witness(es) are notified of the time, date, and place of the meeting. The Panel hearing the complaint may also compel witnesses to attend. In this instance, it shall be the responsibility of the party hearing the complaint to ensure witnesses are aware of the time, date, and location of the hearing.
8. It is important to recognize procedures under this Code are administrative in nature and are not meant to mimic a court of law. Consequently, rules of evidence or other laws that would normally apply in a court of law may not apply, e.g., Rules regarding hearsay evidence. In hearings under this Code, hearsay evidence may be admitted provided the Sole Decision-Maker or Panel hearing the matter believes it is relevant and instructive to determining a fair and reasonable outcome for all parties.
9. Evidence of past breaches, by either party to the before the relevant decision-maker, shall not be raised unless directly relevant to the matter under review.
10. At all levels, decisions must be made promptly and reasons for any decision are to be given in writing.
11. No one can hear a complaint or participate in a decision under this Code where a reasonable apprehension of bias is, or is reasonably believed to be, present.

APPENDIX L – RE-ENTRY PROCESS

The establishment of a Re-Entry Plan is applicable to those students who have been suspended or expelled and are seeking readmission to the College. The Re-Entry Plan references a written agreement between the student and the College that specifies the required actions which must be taken by the student in return for re-admission to the College.

Students seeking re-entry to the College following suspension or expulsion are required to contact the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate.

A meeting will be arranged between the student, the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate and the Director, Student Success (or Designate) to explore the student's circumstances and to determine whether the behaviors that led to the suspension or expulsion are now appropriately managed and no longer a source of concern. Consultation will be undertaken as appropriate. Final Re-Entry Plans are to be approved by the Vice-President, Student Life and Leadership, or Designate.

To support the student's ability to manage his or her behavior appropriately within the learning environment, a behavioral contract may be issued which clearly outlines the expectations for the student's behavior and the potential consequences should the student breach the terms of the behavioral contract. Behavioral contracts are reviewed and re-issued as required with the start of each subsequent semester the student attends.

1. Definition

The College refers to Toronto Business College and its partner institutions.

2. Statement

The purpose of this procedure is to outline the scope of the Counsellor's services which provide access to independent and confidential counselling at the College. Counselling is intended to provide support and/or intervention to enhance student well-being and/or academic progress.

Students at Loyalist College in Toronto have access to free, independent, and confidential counselling from a dedicated, professional Counsellor qualified to perform the controlled act of psychotherapy within Ontario as per the Regulated Health Professions Act, 1991. To encourage the achievement of full potential, counselling addresses personal mental and physical health issues as well as specific learning issues with the intended result that, where a student seeks or is referred for counselling, the student's success and enjoyment of the academic experience will also be improved.

3. Scope

This procedure applies to all current students of any of the programs operated by the College.

4. Principles

Students will have access to independent and confidential counselling from a dedicated, professional Counsellor qualified to perform the controlled act of psychotherapy within Ontario as per the Regulated Health Professions Act, 1991.

Providers of counselling at the College pay attention to the individual circumstances and needs of enrolled students. To encourage the achievement of full potential, counselling addresses personal mental and physical health issues as well as specific learning issues with the intended result that, where a student seeks or is referred for counselling, the student's success and enjoyment of the academic experience will also be improved.

5. Referral Process

Faculty and staff at the college may encounter a student who they believe may benefit from wellness counselling support. The student may be experiencing academic, personal, emotional, or mental health related challenges that the faculty or staff member is aware of, suspects, or think this student might be a danger to themselves or someone else.

Staff are advised to call 911 in situations where someone is in danger: Call 911 and request paramedics if suicidal, call 911 and request police if danger to others.

If you would like to refer a student, please fill out this form.

a. Student's Consent

Faculty and staff members are encouraged to complete a Wellness Referral Form accessible on Moodle to identify the student, their student ID number, the nature of the concern, the urgency, and how the referrer believes that wellness counselling will benefit the student in such situations. Also, faculty or staff members should share Wellness and mental health resources with students available on Moodle.

b. Without Student's Consent

Faculty or staff members who do not have the student's consent but believe the resource will benefit the student can complete the form and identify that the form submission is made without the student's consent. The counsellor should refrain from contacting the student referred. Student success team members will email students with resources for their well-being and the student will take the responsibility to contact the counselor if needed.

6. The Wellness counselling Follow-up

The Wellness Counsellor is currently available for in-person, online and phone counselling services on Wednesdays from 09:00 am – 06:00 pm. Referrals for Wellness Counselling will be addressed promptly by the Wellness Counsellor within those days and times.

Urgent messages or referrals received outside of those days and times will be replied to and referred to Student Success, keep me Safe ,911 etc. and with a time for a follow-up visit when the counselor returns to the office.

The Wellness Counsellor may follow up with the referrer regarding the referral should they have any questions and when the student in question requests, consents, or requires them to do so.

7. Informed Consent

Students have the right to consent (agree) before receiving counselling, as per the Health Care Consent Act, 1996 (HCCA) which applies to all regulated health professionals in Ontario.

Consent must be specific, voluntary and informed, without misrepresentation or fraud. It can be verbal, written or implied (i.e., a student could simply nod their head to indicate consent).

Psychotherapy and consent are both ongoing processes. At minimum, consent is obtained at the outset of treatment. Once initial consent has been provided, it will often be appropriate to rely on the student's implied consent to continue with therapy (indicated by the client continuing to attend and participate). Students can withdraw consent at any time.

8. Interventions

In working with a student, the Counsellor's approach will be flexible, using a variety of professionally recognized interventions with the aim of empowering the student to bring about change in self or circumstances and to enhance the likelihood of improved personal and/or academic outcomes.

The Counsellor will liaise with relevant academic staff, where appropriate, in responding to requests for assistance and providing support to students deemed at academic risk.

Joint intervention involving other relevant staff and/or students may also be undertaken in situations where the participants agree to meet.

9. Confidentiality

- The relationship between the Counsellor and the student is considered fundamental to effective counselling. It is an essential professional requirement of counselling that the confidential nature of the information provided by the student is respected.
- In certain circumstances, the Counsellor has a legal obligation and duty-of-care to the student to report child abuse or neglect.
- Where the Counsellor believes that a student is clearly at risk or in danger of attempting or completing suicide, is unable to function, care for his or herself, make his or her own decisions or is deemed to be at risk of harming another person, external assistance may need to be sought. Gaining assistance may require limited disclosure. Close examination of individual circumstances will determine who should be privy to information.
- In rare circumstances the Counsellor may be required to disclose information from counselling case notes to outside authorities. Any disclosure of confidential information will be restricted to relevant information, conveyed only to appropriate people and for appropriate reasons likely to alleviate the exceptional circumstances.
- The Counsellor may, with the student's permission, share information with key people within the College where it could be beneficial to the understanding of extenuating personal circumstances that impact on well-being, and hence, academic progress and/or attendance. Any staff member made privy to such information must observe confidentiality and not discuss details with others within or outside the College.
- The counsellor's obligations regarding confidentiality and duty of care requirements and practices will be specifically explained to students at counselling.
- All students present at the orientation will, where an opportunity is offered, be made aware of confidentiality and of the requirements for disclosure under certain circumstances of risk.

10. Counselling Records

When preparing and maintaining records, Registered Psychotherapists are subject to the Personal Health Information Protection Act, 2004. PHIPA governs therapists' use of personal health information, including its collection, use, disclosure and access. To comply with professional counselling standards, records confidential to the Counsellor will be maintained with each student's name, the date of counselling, a brief account of the issue(s) discussed and/or of interventions undertaken. Notes will be taken of relevant telephone conversations and/or email discussions relating to a student's situation and retained by the Counsellor. Confidential case notebooks and/or files will be kept in a secure place by the Counsellor.

Student records

Where issues are relevant to a student's academic circumstances and/or their attendance pattern, and with the student's consent, the Counsellor may place a note on the Student System indicating that the student sees/has seen the Counsellor. Relevant academic staff may then consult the Counsellor to make informed decisions based on any extenuating circumstances that can be revealed.

Reports to the College's Senior Leadership team

Bi-monthly reports will be submitted to the College's Senior Leadership team. A general indication of trends may be included to inform and advise.

Length of maintenance of counselling records

Counselling records will be maintained for five years and will then be destroyed.

11. Appointments with the Counsellor

- A student is responsible for ensuring that appointments with the Counsellor do not clash with class/lecture times unless in an emergency. The booking calendar can be accessed on Moodle: Wellness Counsellor Booking Calendar \(office365.com\)
- The frequency and length of appointments will depend on the nature and complexity of the issue(s) involved, and/or the point reached within an intervention.

12. Additional Resources

If the Counsellor is not available in an emergency, students can access several emergency mental health services including, Good2Talk, Keep Me Safe, and other Crisis Helplines available 24/7.

INTRODUCTION

Welcome to Toronto Business College and Loyalist College in Toronto Library! This manual is designed to acquaint you with our purpose, services, resources, and procedures, so that you may use our Library with ease and efficiency.

GOAL

Provide students with easy and free access to the recommended or suggested textbooks and other references that they need while studying with us in a timely and convenient manner. In pursuit of this goal, development efforts revolve on the following major thrusts:

- Development of the library collection focusing on subject areas which support available academic programs.
- Computerization of library services for faster access to the library’s information resources.
- Cloud Workflow to increase overall student accessibility.
- Library Workstations to help in student efforts to organize and work on academic documents.

LIBRARY POLICIES

BORROWING AND RENEWAL POLICY

To ensure the faculty members, students, and staff all have access to the library materials equally, Loyalist College in Toronto limits the number of renewals and items being borrowed.

For Current Students (Part-time and Full-time)

1. Borrowing of library materials must be done in-person at the front desk reception and you must present your student ID card.
2. A maximum of 1 item can be borrowed at a time.
3. Books in our circulation may be borrowed for one-week period(7-days).
4. Renewals must be done in-person at the front reception desk, and you must present your student ID card and the book in your possession.
5. Renewals are limited up to 1 time. After that the borrower will need to wait one week before the book is reissued again.
6. No additional items may be borrowed until late fees have been paid in full.
7. Fines are due at the time of return.

For Faculty members

1. Borrowing of library materials must be done in-person at the front desk reception.
2. Limit of 3 books can be borrowed at a time.
3. Permission to borrow books exceeding the limit will need to be approved by the academic team.
4. Books in our circulation may be borrowed until the end of the current term. For example, if you borrow a book at the start of the Term or in the middle of the term the book will be due at the end of the term.
5. Renewals must be done in-person at the front reception.

Note: For Late return, kindly refer to the Fines and Fees Policy.

RETURNING BOOKS

To return the books, please come to the front desk at our college campus either on or before your book due date, to avoid paying the fine. Once you meet the librarian and return the book, you can borrow a new book or have your book reissued.

FINES AND FEES POLICY

Students are responsible to return borrowed books in good conditions on or prior to the due date. Fines will continue to accrue each day until the items are returned.

Regulations:

1. Late fees: it will cost $0.50 per day.
2. No additional items may be borrowed until the fees have been paid.

3. Fees are paid at the front desk reception.
4. Contact the student success department for an accurate tally of total fees owing prior to paying.
5. Fees that are not paid will remain on your account indefinitely.
6. Failure to pay outstanding fees will result in a hold on your account (unable to view marks or register for additional courses) and/or your diploma may be held until your account is cleared.

DAMAGED AND LOST LIBRARY MATERIALS

Students are responsible for the materials checked out under their name. Replacement or damage fees are the responsibility of the student who loses or damages the materials.

1. Lost items must be reported promptly to the front-desk reception.
2. Borrowers who lose or fail to return library materials will be charged with replacement costs as determined by the college.
3. Borrower may be invoiced by the college for library materials that were returned in a damaged condition.
4. Damage will be assessed; the type of damage will determine the fines:
 - Missing/Damaged barcode: $5.00
 - Writing in Book: $1.00 per page
 - Cover damaged: $5.00 to full replacement cost
 - Water/liquid damage: Full replacement cost
 - Gum, food, candy damage: $5.00 to full replacement cost

SMART ADD METHOD (MOBILE PHONE)

Procedure for processing new books on Mobile phone via Smart Method. Please see the steps below:

Step	Description
Download the Librarika app from play store or app store.	 The screenshot displays the Librarika app interface. At the top, there's a header with the app name 'Librarika' and the developer 'Raynux Productivity'. Below this, there's a section for 'Everyone' and an 'Add to Wishlist' button. The main content area shows three mobile app screens. The first screen is the login page with fields for 'Login ID' and 'Password', and a 'Login' button. The second screen is the main menu with options like 'Smart Add', 'Quick Check-out', and 'Quick Check-in'. The third screen is the 'Circulations' page, which lists books with their titles, authors, and due dates. The books listed are 'Edge of Eternity Book', 'The Beautiful Ashes', 'The Slow Regard of', and 'BD Chaudhury's Human'.

Login with your credentials:

Your dashboard will look as following according to the OS of your mobile:

To add a new book,
click on Smart Add
option.

Under Smart Add, click on camera icon in order to scan the ISBN13 barcode of the book.

Make sure to select the correct category when adding the books. Once done click on save to finalize the book addition.

Note: According to the latest version of application, not all books can be smart added as some books might not be recognised by the software. Will need to add book manually as explained above steps.

Also, there is a known glitch as sometimes even after entering the correct category the book might go to the default UNKNOWN category, will need to correct on the database.

To add multiple copies of the book, go to the Librarika website and click on View Book and on book edit page. Click on Add New Copy

Ontario College Agreement

Regarding

Student Transfer Within Business Diploma Programs

(Ministry of Training, Colleges and Universities Diploma Program Codes 50200 and 60200)

1. Introduction, Purpose and Context:

While many colleges offer business programs, the system does not consistently offer seamless transfer for students among programs. In early 2010, the Ontario college Heads of Business (HoB) applied for ONCAT grant for the development of a province-wide transfer agreement in Business. From findings related to that process, more transfer agreements were undertaken. This is the resulting transfer agreement which focuses on the following college diploma programs:

- i. the Ontario College Diploma in Business program (MTCU funding code 50200) and
- ii. the Ontario College Advanced Diploma in Business Administration program (MTCU funding code 60200).

The Ontario College “Heads of Business” Transfer Agreement in Business is intended to define the conditions and processes whereby students can seamlessly transfer

- i. FROM the successful completion of year one of either Business program 50200 or 60200 TO the second year of the same program at another Ontario college, and
- ii. FROM successful completion of Business diploma program 50200 OR the second year Business Administration diploma program 60200 TO the 3rd year of Business Administration program 60200 in another Ontario college.
- iii. Ultimately, transfer could lead to admission into a college Business baccalaureate.

Fully qualified transfer students are expected to be able to complete their diploma studies in the same number of semesters as they would have had they not transferred.

2. Participation in the Agreement:

2.1 All Ontario CAAT colleges are invited to participate in this transfer agreement BUT programs to be considered for transfer:

- i. Must conform (and continue to conform) to the relevant MTCU program standards.
- ii. Previously non-complying college programs are eligible to participate in this agreement once they meet the requirements.
- iii. Colleges wishing to participate in the Diploma-to-Baccalaureate Transfer will agree to additional stipulations contained in that specific agreement
- iv. Participants in this agreement are listed in Appendix A

3. Business Transfer Steering Committee:

3.1 Reporting to the Heads of Business (HoB), and answerable to the College Committee of Vice Presidents Academic (CCVPA), this transfer agreement will be subject to monitoring by a Business Transfer Steering Committee (Steering Committee). At the outset, the Steering Committee will include one registrar representative appointed by the Registrars Committee. The Steering Committee’s mandate is:

- i. to annually collect and review measurement data on the effectiveness of the transfer process and report to the HoB,
- ii. to maintain confidentiality of personal and individual college information,
- iii. to receive and deal with concerns within its mandate,
- iv. to propose academic improvements to the HoB, pursue admission, information and data collection issues to the Registrars Committee and route other concerns to the responsible individuals or groups,
- v. to prepare the end-of-contract-term summative report for the HoB and the CCVPA, and
- vi. At the end of the first term of the agreement, to recommend continuation, adjustment or retirement of the agreement and of the Committee.

3.2 It is understood that the Steering Committee will assume oversight responsibilities within its mandate for additional business transfer initiatives as they are implemented. In this context, they will recommend adjustment to the committee's membership, mandate, scope and continuation as needed.

3.3 The Steering Committee will promptly address any urgent concerns within its mandate. Critical issues requiring ongoing monitoring include any non-compliance with the established program requirements, concerns expressed by the professional organizations or any changes to the external rules governing college programs.

3.4 The Steering Committee will table with the HoB an Annual Progress Report on the transfer program. Any significant problems that fall within the mandate of the Steering Committee, the HoB or its members will be addressed in a timely fashion: those beyond their mandate will be forwarded to those responsible for appropriate action. Issues related to application, admission, and information will be forwarded through the registrar representative to the provincial college Registrars Committee.

3.5 At the end of the initial seven year term, a Summative Report will be tabled by the Steering Committee recommending any further changes in the overall transfer agreement and its renewal. This report will be finalized in consultation with the HoB and subsequently forwarded to the Provincial college CCVPA and the Registrar's Group.

4. Term of the Initial Agreement:

4.1 The initial term of this agreement is seven years.

4.2 Colleges offering programs in business may adjust the conditions for transfer to reflect external changes in standards or professional accreditation or certification requirements. The timetable for implementing these changes will conform to those required by the accrediting organization.

4.3 Individual colleges may withdraw from the agreement with the following conditions:

- i. that the decision is implemented after all public student information sources are adjusted accordingly,
- ii. that students currently registered in the diploma "baccalaureate transfer stream" OR transfer students currently registered in a college Diploma or Degree program can complete their program of study, and
- iii. external regulations permitting, degree programs will continue to accept transfers for an additional two years.

4.4 At the end of the initial seven year term, a summative report will be tabled by the Steering Committee recommending any further changes in the overall transfer agreement and its renewal.

4.5 In the unlikely event that the agreement is terminated at the end of the initial term, qualifying students enrolled in the Ontario College 50200 and 60200 Business diploma programs, and taking the 'transfer stream' or 'transfer prerequisite courses', will continue to be eligible for baccalaureate transfer for a minimum of an additional two years.

5. The Conditions Governing Transfer:

5.1 Qualifying transfer students will carry forward to their new institution an agreed number of academic credits: termed a 'block credit transfer' which will include specific credits and exemptions. When necessary, the block will be updated based on a gap analysis methodology that compares related diploma competencies reflected in the provincial program standards.

5.2 Grade equivalencies are addressed by this agreement as follows:

- i. All colleges that are signatory to this agreement will accept the course "pass" designation for all others regardless of specific grade earned,
- ii. Wherever specific grades or Grade Point Averages (GPAs) are required, the grade given by the 'originating college' will be accepted,
- iii. Transfer credit for courses will typically be recorded on the 'receiving college' transcript in terminology such as "transfer credit" or "exemption" rather than a grade, and
- iv. Whenever transfer students pursue professional certification and they require final grade evidence of completion of a professional course requirement from another college, they must obtain transcript evidence of grades from the college at which the course was taken.

5.3 To qualify for transfer FROM the first year of Ontario College Diploma 50200 OR 60200 TO the second year of the same programs offered by another college, an applicant must:

- i. complete the first year of the 50200 OR 60200 diploma program that complies with the applicable MTCU Standards,
- ii. complete the first year course/learning requirements summarized in Appendix C, and
- iii. meet any other admissions requirements of the college being applied to.

5.4 To qualify for transfer FROM the second year of a 60200 diploma program OR after completion of the 50200 diploma program TO the third year of the 60200 diploma program at another college, an applicant must:

- i. have successfully completed a 50200 diploma program or the first two years of a 60200 diploma program that complies with the applicable MTCU Standards,
- ii. complete the first and second year course/learning requirements summarized in Appendix C, and
- iii. meet any other admissions requirements of the college being applied to.

5.5 The required sequencing of first and second year courses in Business and Business Administration is summarized in Appendix C.

5.6 Transfer students may be required to complete additional courses wherever:

- i. they lack any component of the MTCU program standard,
- ii. they have not completed one or more Business course requirements with the required grade, and/or
- iii. their academic performance demonstrates that they have not mastered required skills.

5.7 Student application will be through the Ontario College Application System and must conform to the published time lines.

5.8 Admissions will be subject to the processes of the college being applied to. Where application numbers exceed the capacity of any college, additional selection and approval requirements may apply.

5.9 Regardless of the level at which a student was originally admitted into the diploma program and/or the admission standard at the time, students will be accepted for transfer based on their successful completion of the required Business Diploma program of study expected at the point of transfer.

5.10 Each transfer student will complete the process in seven years to comply with typical professional association requirements, many colleges' policies on the life of an academic credit, and to accommodate mature students studying on a part-time basis.

5.11 Diploma students planning to transfer to business baccalaureate study should refer to the relevant agreement for additional requirements.

6. Marketing Communications:

6.1 All external promotion of the transfer agreement will be clear, comprehensive and accurate and include:

- i. an explanation of the transfer opportunities and their limitations,
- ii. a statement of requirements, conditions, and qualifications,
- iii. a clear summary of the application process, and
- iv. reliable student advising and information sources. (Appendix B)

6.2 The transfer opportunities offered under this agreement will be communicated through the Ontario College Application Service, the participating colleges and any future "student transfer information portal" that may be developed.

6.3 Recruitment and website literature will present and profile this transfer opportunity as one that applies to qualifying students across the Ontario college system stating any exceptions.

6.4 Future changes in accreditation and/or certification requirements may demand changes in transfer provisions, curriculum, and/or admission-to-practice conditions. The implementation of these changes will typically conform to the professional associations' or accreditation agencies' timetable which is beyond the control of the colleges.

6.5 Any changes in the conditions governing this transfer agreement will be communicated in a timely fashion to Heads of Business, Registrars, OCAS and student information website managers for the purpose of ensuring the currency of information.

7. Data Collecting and Annual Reporting:

7.1 An annual report containing key success measures will be prepared for, reviewed by and reported through the Business Transfer Steering Committee for the purpose of:

- i. the early identification and correction of any confusion or problems in the overall agreement and its administration,
- ii. the early identification of any significant problems with student preparation and the timely and confidential communication of those too the originating college,
- iii. the provision of data to support ongoing professional associations' and accrediting agencies' recognition, and
- iv. academic planning.

7.2 Without limiting any future reporting requirements of the CCVPA, CoP, related government agencies or MTCU, relevant data and reports containing only system aggregate data will be shared with the Business Transfer Steering Committee, the Heads of Business, the Committee of Registrars and with the college signatories to the agreement.

7.3 At minimum, the following reports will be prepared by each college's registrar:

- i. A report of the application, registration and graduation data for transfer students provided in chart form by program, semester, originating and receiving college, will be made available to the Steering Committee,
- ii. A report on the GPA of transferring students by program, semester and receiving college, will be made available to the Steering Committee,
- iii. Reports on the GPA of transferring students by program, semester and originating and receiving college will be made available confidentially to only the authorized representatives of the originating college.

7.4 Additionally, the college Schools of Business and their registrars will collect information and report to the Steering Committee on:

- i. transfer student satisfaction and
- ii. any problems with the transfer process.

7.5 To deal in a timely fashion with critical issues that may emerge during the life of the agreement, the Steering Committee may be requested to provide, or require additional information.

7.6 As the college system pursues other transfer protocols, they will presumably share common tracking and reporting requirements. From the perspective of college system efficiency, transfer student tracking information and reports should be common across the province and supported by standard systems.

8. Confidentiality:

8.1 The student information provided by each college will be kept confidential within each college's policies governing the privacy of information.

8.2 Disaggregated data reflecting the baccalaureate performance of graduates of one college or college program will be shared confidentially with only the authorized representative of the originating college.

9. Summative Evaluation After the First Term of the Agreement:

9.1 The transfer agreement will be subject to summative evaluation at the end of the initial term and prior to renewal. The first term is seven years from the formal approval by all participants.

9.2 The summative review will consider the effectiveness of the agreement specifically assessed by:

- i. the participation levels,
- ii. the rate of approval of transfer applicants,
- iii. the success rates of transferring students,
- iv. the financial viability of the transfer initiative from both the student's and college's perspective,
- v. perceptions of the process expressed by transfer students,
- vi. unresolved concerns expressed by accreditation bodies or the relevant professional associations,
- vii. other relevant input from participating colleges, and
- viii. any broad policy concerns from the Ministry, CoP, the CCVPA, Committee of Registrars, etc.

9.3 The process governing the renewal of this agreement will allow for:

- i. feedback from the applicable professional organizations and accrediting agencies,
- ii. each college to approve their participation in the agreement,
- iii. input from the Heads of Business regarding any overall concerns they may have,
- iv. input from the CCVPA regarding any system-wide academic concerns,
- v. any other concerns from the registrars, OCAS, and other related committees or agencies and
- vi. policy advice from MTCU.

Appendix B: COMMUNICATIONS STATEMENT

INTERCOLLEGE BUSINESS DIPLOMA TRANSFER:

The colleges cooperating in this transfer agreement have organized the Business (2 year – MTCU Code 50200) and Business Administration (3 year – MTCU Code 60200) Diploma programs curriculum so that students can transfer to another college and complete their diploma in the typical time. To qualify for transfer under this agreement, diploma students must:

- a) be registered in a Business program that complies with the applicable MTCU standards
- b) have successfully completed the required courses and learning outcomes for the year prior to transfer (see following chart), and
- c) meet any other admissions requirements of the college being applied to.

Applicants wishing to transfer are advised to:

- a) ensure that their program of study meets the professional and MTCU course requirements and sequencing stated in the chart below,
- b) contact the Registrar's office of the college to which they plan to transfer to obtain specific advice on the application process, deadlines, etc.

Students considering transfer to a college or university Business Baccalaureate program are advised to consult the COLLEGE DIPLOMA TO BUSINESS BACCALAUREATE TRANSFER information for specific requirements that will optimize success, maximize their professional options and minimize their time to degree completion.

Notes for Appendix C

Students who have studied at a French language college who transfer to an English language college (and vice versa) may require additional communications courses as outcomes are language-specific.

Appendix D: ADDITIONAL REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

Additional reporting requirements may apply as systems are put in place to track the effectiveness of provincial, national and international transfer pathways.

Appendix E

MTCU Program Standards for the Ontario College Advanced Diploma (three years) in Business Administration (MTCU code 60200) - The Vocational Learning Outcomes

1. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to communicate business-related information persuasively and accurately in oral, written, and graphic formats.

Elements of the Performance

- Present and defend ideas to promote the successful operation of an enterprise
- Write and speak clearly, concisely, and logically
- Use presentation technology, where appropriate, to improve the clarity and impact of a presentation
- Prepare oral and written reports in an appropriate manner
- Use E-mail and other electronic media appropriately to communicate effectively
- Communicate information in a manner appropriate to the content and the audience
- Use business terminology appropriately
- Participate effectively in meetings
- Develop negotiation strategies to achieve mutually beneficial results

2. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to work in a manner consistent with law and professional standards, practices, and protocols.

Elements of the Performance

- Approach situations with reliability, flexibility, tact, and good judgment
- Conduct oneself in accordance with accepted ethical standards in business situations
- Participate appropriately in meetings
- Take into account the impact of mishandling confidential information
- Use appropriate methods for handling confidential information in the business environment
- Recognize the impact of personal image on the image of an organization
- Conduct business in accordance with public policy
- Take into account the potential legal liability for the individual and organization
- Discuss the effects on business operations of a number of significant factors such as legal issues and ethical issues (e.g., human rights, health and safety, employment standards, confidentiality of information)
- Take into account the need for seeking legal advice when appropriate

3. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to develop customer-service strategies to meet the needs of internal and external customers.

Elements of the Performance

- Resolve customer complaints fairly, promptly, and effectively
- Use effective solutions to meet customer-service needs
- Recognize how each individual within an organization affects the client group, both internal and external
- Ensure commitments made to customers can be met
- Use a customer-centred approach when developing business strategies
- Take into account the demands of "just in time" delivery systems
- Take into account the role of quality control and quality assurance procedures, systems, and standards in satisfying customer needs

4. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to develop strategies to creatively organize, lead, and assume the risks of an organization.

Elements of the Performance

- Prepare a cost/benefit analysis for all initiatives
- Apply entrepreneurial skills and characteristics such as risk taking, resourcefulness, contingency planning, and the development of innovative solutions
- Develop innovative marketing strategies
- Identify the business advantages of corporate social responsibility
- Conduct all business in an ethical, responsible, and legal manner
- Recommend appropriate strategies to solve business-related problems
- Take into account the forces at work in the economy and their effects on business

5. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to apply knowledge of the human resources function to the management of an organization.

Elements of the Performance

- Recognize the role of the human resources function in the strategic business plan of an organization
- Identify the changing role of human resources in policy formulation and future planning
- Take into account the role of human resources to provide support to all functional areas of a business or organization
- Plan and forecast human resource needs
- Apply principles of human resources related to recruitment, selection, hiring, dismissal, compensation, and benefits
- Develop plans for orientation and training programs
- Comply with current human rights and employment legislation

6. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to apply knowledge of the marketing function to the management of an organization.

Elements of the Performance

- Assess a marketing situation and develop appropriate recommendations
- Consider the marketing environment, market segmentation, and the roles of product, price, place, and promotion
- Apply the fundamental concepts of marketing for a variety of products or services
- Apply knowledge of client behaviour in the design of a marketing plan or strategy
- Take into account the impact of economic, technological, competitive, environmental, social, political, and cultural aspects of society on marketing initiatives
- Demonstrate knowledge of Canadian market segments
- Participate in the development of an environmental scan
- Select the appropriate medium or media for the marketing of a particular product or service
- Participate in the development of a customer satisfaction survey

7. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to apply accounting and financial knowledge to the management of an organization.

Elements of the Performance

- Assess a firm's performance by analyzing its financial statements
- Assess the financial environment within which a business enterprise functions
- Apply financial concepts, including risk-return relationship and determination of the firm's value, to financial management issues
- Use appropriate mathematical operations (e.g., percentages, compound interest, cost/benefit calculations) to solve business problems
- Collect, organize, and use statistical information in relation to practical business situations
- Identify and analyze various sources of financing including leasing, debt, or equity
- Identify trends and measure performance by analyzing financial statements
- Assess the effects of managerial decisions and environmental factors on the financial performance of a firm
- Apply the principles of cash budgeting

8. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to apply knowledge of operations management to the management of an organization.

Elements of the Performance

- Take into account the relationship between current operational priorities and the organization's strategic plan
- Develop strategies to ensure that inventory control supports the operational requirements of the organization
- Take into account the importance of ongoing maintenance of the physical plant, facilities, and equipment
- Develop strategies for the scheduling of production and staff which support the most productive operation of a facility
- Take into account the role of production design in employee satisfaction and productivity
- Apply knowledge of quality control and assurance systems and programs
- Take into account the roles of purchasing and material requirements planning

9. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to apply computer skills and knowledge of information technology to support the management of an organization.

Elements of the Performance

- Select and use appropriate software to produce business documents
- Use computerized spreadsheets to prepare necessary business information
- Adapt to various and changing technological systems and computer applications for business
- Apply computer concepts to business applications using manuals and aids relating to a specific software program
- Keep abreast of changes in information technology
- Utilize the Internet and E-mail to supplement business activities
- Ensure the appropriate protection of information
- Use presentation software effectively and appropriately
- Communicate user requirements to information technology personnel
- Support information sharing among the functional areas of an organization

10. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to take into account the interrelationship among the functional areas of a business.

Elements of the Performance

- Identify organizational structures and explain the relationship between the various departments or functions within an organization

- Apply knowledge of functional areas to small and large business environments
- Consider the impact of individual functional areas on other areas of the organization
- Consider the role of loyalties, factions, and alliances within an organization and their impact on how individuals and departments function
- Support information sharing among the functional areas of an organization
- Participate effectively in multi-functional teams

11. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to work effectively with co-workers, supervisors, and others.

Elements of the Performance

- Assume responsibility for group results
- Display leadership skills in one-on-one and group settings
- Use team-building skills (e.g., active listening, encouraging candor, maintaining a cooperative and collaborative environment)
- Recognize and manage sensitive interpersonal situations
- Identify and implement strategies for increasing motivation
- Take into account differences in personality types and how motivators may differ
- Develop strategies to manage conflict
- Motivate others to achieve personal goals and objectives
- Motivate others to achieve organizational goals and objectives

12. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to apply research skills to gather, interpret, analyze, and evaluate data from primary and secondary sources.

Elements of the Performance

- Identify the data required
- Select the appropriate data collection strategies
- Use all available paper-based and electronic sources to access information
- Prepare, compile, and analyze information based on primary research
- Ensure the accurate comparison of data
- Take into account the variables which affect the integrity of the data when making comparisons
- Remain current on information technology to access all available information

13. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to apply creative problem-solving skills to address business problems and opportunities.

Elements of the Performance

- Apply a methodical approach to decision making
- Recognize the value of gathering information from a wide variety of sources
- Collect, analyze, and synthesize information through observation, research, and consultation
- Develop strategies to deal with unexpected events
- Use appropriate mathematical and statistical tools to solve business problems

14. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to develop strategies for personal and professional development to manage job stress, enhance work performance, and maximize career opportunities.

Elements of the Performance

- Take a proactive approach to career growth by preparing a career plan which includes goals and strategies for accomplishing them
- Use appropriate self-management strategies

- Recognize the value of lateral career moves
- Recognize the value of own role and roles of others in the success of the organization
- Consider the role of loyalties, factions, and alliances within an organization and their impact on individual career growth
- Recognize the value of active participation in business associations and the acquisition of professional accreditation
- Recognize the role of mentors and mentor models in chosen field
- Appreciate the value of local, national, and international networking

15. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to apply time management and organizational skills to facilitate the completion of tasks and to meet deadlines in a business environment.

Elements of the Performance

- Recognize the need to proactively manage change
- Prioritize tasks
- Design and implement a workplan
- Cooperatively plan team tasks and responsibilities
- Negotiate and meet deadlines
- Use calendar and reminder systems to manage tasks and projects
- Organize a workspace
- Organize appropriate facilities, equipment, services, and suppliers to support meetings and related activities
- Plan and conduct a meeting

16. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to take into account the impact of the economic, social, political, and cultural variables which affect a business operation.

Elements of the Performance

- Analyze the effect on business of significant domestic and international economic factors
- Discuss the effects on business operations of a number of significant factors such as legal issues and ethical issues (e.g., human rights, health and safety, employment standards, confidentiality of information)
- Take into account the need for seeking legal advice when appropriate
- Keep abreast of and comply with current rules and laws regarding ethics in business

17. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to apply leadership and management knowledge and skills to assist in the planning, directing, and controlling of an organization.

Elements of the Performance

- Assume responsibility for results
- Use a variety of planning, implementing, and evaluating strategies and techniques
- Recognize the importance of patience, flexibility, and the need to proactively manage change
- Plan and run a meeting
- Display leadership in one-on-one and group settings
- Use team-building skills (e.g., active listening, encouraging candor, maintaining a cooperative and collaborative environment)
- Use effective coaching skills
- Influence the behaviour of others using skills such as interpersonal, counseling, mediation, and alternate conflict resolution
- Approach all interpersonal situations with reliability, flexibility, tact, and good judgment
- Motivate others to achieve organizational goals and objectives
- Motivate others to achieve personal goals and objectives
- Model ethical behaviour

- Develop strategies to improve performance

18. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to plan, prepare, and deliver a variety of presentations.

Elements of the Performance

- Research, analyze, and summarize business information
- Use all available resources (presentation software, samples, visual aids, etc.) to improve the clarity and impact of a presentation
- Organize appropriate facilities, equipment, services, and suppliers to support meetings and related activities

19. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to develop a business plan in collaboration with others.

Elements of the Performance

- Identify the key components of a business plan
- Utilize sales forecasting techniques
- Demonstrate an understanding of various strategies and their effects on sales and profits and be able to recommend appropriate strategies to solve problems
- Prepare basic pro-forma financial statements using standard financial accounting practices
- Understand and discuss the major forces at work in the marketplace and how they affect business
- Prepare a cost/benefit analysis for all business initiatives
- Calculate a return on investment
- Present the plan, with recommendations, in a cohesive, coherent, and concise manner

MTCU Program Standards for the Ontario College Advanced Diploma (three years) in Business Administration

(MTCU code 60200) - The Generic Skills Learning Outcomes

1. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to communicate clearly, concisely, and correctly in the written, spoken, and visual form that fulfills the purpose and meets the needs of audiences.

Explanation

Communicating in a clear, concise, and correct manner requires producing the written, spoken or visual material that best suits the situation. Graduates will have developed their ability to analyze their audiences to identify what is required and to match those needs with the means that is most appropriate. They will have produced material according to the style and conventions required, and they will have checked their products for accuracy and clarity. Finally, graduates will have used the tools available to them to create and correct their written, spoken, and visual messages.

Elements of the Performance

- Plan and organize communications according to the purpose and audiences
- Choose the format (e.g., memo, illustration, video, multimedia presentation, diagram) appropriate to the purpose
- Incorporate the content that is meaningful and necessary
- Produce material that conforms to the conventions of the chosen format
- Use language and style suitable to the audience and purpose
- Ensure that the material is free from mechanical errors
- Use the computer technology that will enhance the production of materials
- Evaluate communications and adjust for any errors in content, structure, style, and mechanics

2. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to reframe information, ideas, and concepts using the narrative, visual, numerical, and symbolic representations which demonstrate understanding.

Explanation

Responding to messages from many sources requires the ability to receive and to comprehend what has been received. One way to demonstrate that comprehension is to reframe, or restate in other forms, the original message. This requires graduates to have developed the skills to read, listen to, and observe messages contained within narrative and visual forms. It also requires the ability to construct unique narrative and visual representations that are consistent with the original messages.

Elements of the Performance

- Develop and use strategies to read, listen, and observe effectively
- Clarify what has been read, heard, and observed
- Reproduce original information in other formats (e.g., written and spoken summaries; tables, figures, charts, diagrams, maps, drawings, photographs, and computer-generated graphics; terms represented by numbers; and values represented by letters or signs)
- Use technology, where appropriate, to aid in reframing
- Evaluate the representation for consistency of meaning with the original
- Acknowledge the use of material from other sources according to the conventions of the medium used

3. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to apply a wide variety of mathematical techniques with the degree of accuracy required to solve problems and make decisions.

Explanation

Using mathematics effectively in everyday situations requires the ability to apply a wide variety of mathematical skills accurately. Graduates will have demonstrated their ability to apply the concepts of number and space to situations which include quantities, magnitudes, measurements, and ratios. They will have developed their ability to identify the need for mathematics, to apply mathematical techniques (concepts, conventions, strategies, and operations) and to check the results of their applications. This will require graduates to be flexible and creative and to be confident in their mathematical skills and abilities.

Elements of the Performance

- Recognize situations that require mathematics
- Assess potential mathematical strategies (including models, geometric representations or formulas, elementary algebraic equations, descriptive statistical methods, and mathematical reasoning) for suitability and effectiveness
- Decide on the degree of accuracy required for answers
- Estimate probable answers
- Execute mathematical operations necessary to implement selected strategies
- Use calculators or appropriate technological tools to perform mathematical operations accurately
- Check for errors in numerical answers and the appropriate fit between problems and answers
- Express answers clearly
- Transfer the use of mathematical strategies from one situation to another

4. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to use a variety of computer hardware and software and other technological tools appropriate and necessary to the performance of tasks.

Explanation

Using computers and other technologies as tools to increase productivity and to enhance tasks requires graduates to have the confidence and ability to use the tools well. Graduates will have demonstrated the ability to recognize when computers and other technologies contribute to completing tasks, solving problems, performing research, and creating products. They will use the technological tool most appropriate to the task and use it accurately.

Finally, they will have gained confidence in continuing to learn about and cope with new technologies in the future.

Elements of the Performance

- Use basic operating system functions competently (e.g., load software, store, and retrieve data)
- Determine which tasks can best be handled by computers and other technology
- Select suitable software, equipment, and tools for the task
- Use the software, equipment, and tools effectively, correctly, and ethically
- Deal with equipment and software problems and errors in a logical and systematic manner
- Transfer concepts, knowledge, and skills from one technology to another
- Evaluate one's own use of hardware, software, and technological tools

5. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to interact with others in groups or teams in ways that contribute to effective working relationships and the achievement of goals.

Explanation

Working in teams or groups in either a work or personal context requires the ability to assume responsibility for collective duties and decisions. It also requires interacting effectively with the members of the group. Therefore, in achieving this outcome, graduates will have demonstrated their ability to understand and complete the various tasks required of them as group members. They will also have demonstrated their ability to understand and respond to others.

Elements of the Performance

- Identify the tasks to be completed
- Establish strategies to accomplish the tasks
- Identify roles for members of the team/group
- Clarify one's own roles and fulfill them in a timely fashion
- Treat other members of the group equitably and fairly
- Contribute one's own ideas, opinions, and information while demonstrating respect for those of others
- Employ techniques intended to bring about the resolution of any conflicts
- Regularly assess the group's progress and interactions and make adjustments when necessary

6. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to evaluate her or his own thinking throughout the steps and processes used in problem solving and decision making.

Explanation

Solving a range of complex problems and dealing with a variety of tasks require the thinking skills and strategies that will allow graduates to identify what has to be done and to select and implement the most suitable approach. In applying thinking skills and strategies, graduates will have understood the limits as well as the potential of their own thought processes. As well, in attempting various strategies, they will have explored styles of thinking that may be new to them. This will allow graduates to understand the way they think and how they approach decisions and problems.

Elements of the Performance

- Clarify the nature and extent of problems or required directions
- Explore various thinking skills and strategies that could be used
- Identify limits as well as the potential of one's own thought processes
- Choose and apply thinking skills and strategies (e.g., inductive and deductive thinking; creative and intuitive thinking; inquiry; critical thinking; and reflection)
- Evaluate results of the thinking skills and strategies used in problem solving and decision making
- Appreciate the benefits of the use of alternative types of thinking

7. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to collect, analyze, and organize relevant and necessary information from a variety of sources.

Explanation

Making decisions and completing tasks often requires information that can be used as support. Graduates, therefore, must be able to access current, relevant, and useful information and to organize that information in understandable ways. In achieving this outcome, graduates will have developed and used strategies to locate and gather a wide range of information, most particularly through technological means. They will have learned how to select pertinent information and to sort it so that it can be displayed in useful formats like databases and spreadsheets. This information can then be used to support decisions and to assist in the completion of tasks.

Elements of the Performance

- Identify the nature of the information required
- Investigate sources of information (including people, text, databases, and the Internet)
- Gather information from the most appropriate sources using various data collection techniques, including technology
- Examine the information and select what is relevant, important, and useful
- Employ a variety of techniques to organize the information (e.g., spreadsheets, databases, graphs, and charts)
- Draw conclusions about how the information can be used
- Evaluate the processes used
- Cite sources according to the conventions of the medium used

8. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to evaluate the validity of arguments based on qualitative and quantitative information in order to accept or challenge the findings of others.

Explanation

With the wealth of numerical and non-numerical information available, graduates must be able to interpret, understand, and draw conclusions about what others have produced. Graduates will have used their mathematical abilities to question the validity of statistics and other numerical claims. Graduates also will have used their language and critical thinking skills to analyze the assumptions and evidence that others use to support more qualitative arguments and conclusions. As a result, graduates will have developed the ability to question and make decisions about what they read, hear, and observe.

Elements of the Performance

- Identify conclusions and claims made by others
- Detect any fallacies, biases, misrepresentations, and assumptions and judge their relevance to supporting arguments
- Check for accuracy and credibility of claims or arguments
- Be prepared to defend acceptance or rejection of claims or arguments

9. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to create innovative strategies and/or products that meet identified needs.

Explanation

Creating strategies and products that are original and innovative will require graduates to develop their creative thinking skills to find alternative ways to address situations. Graduates will have developed the confidence to use old information in new ways; to see unique relationships; and to practice the lateral, divergent, and intuitive thinking that will yield new approaches.

Elements of the Performance

- Analyze needs
- Generate creative ideas for strategies and products that will meet needs

- Choose alternatives to pursue based on needs and criteria of projects/plans
- Create strategies/products
- Evaluate strategies/products according to meeting needs

10. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to manage the use of time and other resources to attain personal and/or project-related goals.

Explanation

Achieving task-related goals in their personal and professional lives requires graduates to use their time, money, space, and other, often limited, resources as efficiently as possible. Graduates will have developed their ability to plan and predict ways of achieving goals. They will have developed and used tools intended to assist in the process. Finally, they will have attempted to follow their plans and use the tools, assessing regularly how realistic the goals, plans, and processes are and adapting when it is necessary.

Elements of the Performance

- Define reasonable and realistic goals
- Use planning tools (e.g., budgets and schedules) to achieve goals
- Monitor the process and goals and respond to changes
- Use resources (e.g., money, space, and time) efficiently to accomplish tasks
- Reevaluate goals and the use of resources and make appropriate adjustments

11. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to take responsibility for her or his own actions and decisions.

Explanation

Making decisions, taking positions, and completing tasks require graduates to be accountable for actions taken and to defend their convictions. Graduates will have demonstrated their ability to evaluate what they do and why they do it. They will have taken into consideration their individual values, beliefs, and opinions and the effects these have on their actions. Not only will graduates be able to justify their decisions, they will be able to advocate positively on behalf of themselves.

Elements of the Performance

- Review the results of one's actions and decisions
- Reflect on the processes and practices used
- Identify any errors and make corrections
- Identify successes for adaptation to other situations
- Account for how one's own values and beliefs affect actions and decisions
- Evaluate and act upon constructive feedback
- Be prepared to defend decisions made and actions taken

12. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to adapt to new situations and demands by applying and/or updating her or his knowledge and skills.

Explanation

Transferring skills from one context to another enables graduates to be lifelong learners. Graduates will have developed the confidence to know that their current skills are applicable to a range of changing, novel, and unexpected situations. They will have demonstrated their ability to reflect on what they can do, match those skills to the new demands, and apply previous skills or develop the additional ones that will make them as effective in the new situations.

Elements of the Performance

- Assess current skills, knowledge, and learning styles

- Identify skills and knowledge required for new situations
- Adapt current skills and knowledge to new situations
- Identify new skills and knowledge required
- Choose the most appropriate learning and working styles to acquire new skills and knowledge
- Evaluate success of the processes and actual adaptations

13. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to represent her or his skills, knowledge, and experience realistically for personal and employment purposes.

Explanation

Preparing for changes in their personal and professional lives requires graduates to assess and present their accomplishments and abilities. In achieving this outcome, graduates will have developed their ability to reflect on what they have done and learned. They will also have summarized their abilities in ways that are attractive and useful to potential recipients. These ways may include portfolios and resumes. Finally, graduates will have developed the skills to present themselves and their accomplishments personally and with confidence.

Elements of the Performance

- Summarize one's own skills, knowledge, and experience realistically
- Choose formats (e.g., resume, portfolio, and interview) which best display skills, knowledge, and experiences according to the situations
- Evaluate responses to the representations and make any adjustments

MTCU Program Standards for the Ontario College Diploma (two years) in Business (MTCU code 50200) - The Vocational Learning Outcomes

1. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to communicate business-related information persuasively and accurately in oral, written, and graphic formats.

Elements of the Performance

- Present and defend ideas to promote the successful operation of an enterprise
- Write and speak clearly, concisely, and logically
- Use presentation technology, where appropriate, to improve the clarity and impact of a presentation
- Prepare oral and written reports in an appropriate manner
- Use E-mail and other electronic media appropriately to communicate effectively
- Communicate information in a manner appropriate to the content and the audience
- Use business terminology appropriately
- Participate effectively in meetings
- Develop negotiation strategies to achieve mutually beneficial results

2. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to work in a manner consistent with law and professional standards, practices, and protocols.

Elements of the Performance

- Approach situations with reliability, flexibility, tact, and good judgment
- Conduct oneself in accordance with accepted ethical standards in business situations
- Participate appropriately in meetings
- Take into account the impact of mishandling confidential information
- Use appropriate methods for handling confidential information in the business environment
- Recognize the impact of personal image on the image of an organization
- Conduct business in accordance with public policy
- Take into account the potential legal liability for the individual and organization

3. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to develop customer-service strategies to meet the needs of internal and external customers.

Elements of the Performance

- Resolve customer complaints fairly, promptly, and effectively
- Use effective solutions to meet customer-service needs
- Recognize how each individual within an organization affects the client group, both internal and external
- Ensure commitments made to customers can be met
- Use a customer-centred approach when developing business strategies
- Take into account the demands of "just in time" delivery systems
- Take into account the role of quality control and quality assurance procedures, systems, and standards in satisfying customer needs

4. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to apply knowledge of the human resources function to the operation of an organization.

Elements of the Performance

- Recognize the role of the human resources function in the strategic business plan of an organization
- Identify the changing role of human resources in policy formulation and future planning

- Take into account the role of human resources to provide support to all functional areas of a business or organization
- Contribute to planning and forecasting human resource needs
- Apply principles of human resources related to recruitment, selection, hiring, dismissal, compensation, and benefits
- Participate in the development of orientation and training programs
- Comply with current human rights and employment legislation

5. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to apply knowledge of the marketing function to the operation of an organization.

Elements of the Performance

- Assess a marketing situation and develop appropriate recommendations
- Consider the marketing environment, market segmentation, and the roles of product, price, place, and promotion
- Apply the fundamental concepts of marketing for a variety of products or services
- Apply knowledge of client behaviour in the design of a marketing plan or strategy
- Take into account the impact of economic, technological, competitive, environmental, social, political, and cultural aspects of society on marketing initiatives
- Demonstrate knowledge of Canadian market segments

6. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to apply accounting and financial knowledge to the operation of an organization.

Elements of the Performance

- Perform basic accounting procedures and use accounting terminology
- Prepare and interpret routine statements to determine their impact on operations
- Apply computer skills to assist in the recording and compiling of financial information
- Use appropriate mathematical operations (e.g., percentages, compound interest, cost/benefit calculations) to solve business problems
- Consider principles of revenue and cash flow management, and budgeting strategies for organization operations
- Apply strategies of cost control to a variety of operations such as purchasing and receiving, labour, operations, and inventory

7. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to apply knowledge of operations management to the operation of an organization.

Elements of the Performance

- Take into account the relationship between current operational priorities and the organization's strategic plan
- Apply knowledge of inventory control to support the operational requirements of the organization
- Recognize the importance of ongoing maintenance of the physical plant, facilities, and equipment
- Participate in the scheduling of production and staff which support the productive operation of a facility
- Consider the role of production design in employee satisfaction and productivity
- Apply knowledge of quality control and assurance systems and programs

8. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to apply computer skills and knowledge of information technology to support the management of an organization.

Elements of the Performance

- Select and use appropriate software to produce business documents

- Use computerized spreadsheets to prepare necessary business information
- Adapt to various and changing technological systems and computer applications for business
- Apply computer concepts to business applications using manuals and aids relating to a specific software program
- Keep abreast of changes in information technology
- Utilize the Internet and E-mail to supplement business activities
- Ensure the appropriate protection of information
- Use presentation software effectively and appropriately

9. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to take into account the interrelationship among the functional areas of a business.

Elements of the Performance

- Identify organizational structures and explain the relationship between the various departments or functions within an organization
- Apply knowledge of functional areas to small and large business environments
- Consider the impact of individual functional areas on other areas of the organization
- Consider the role of loyalties, factions, and alliances within an organization and their impact on how individuals and departments function
- Support information sharing among the functional areas of an organization
- Participate effectively in multi-functional teams

10. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to work effectively with co-workers, supervisors, and others.

Elements of the Performance

- Assume responsibility for group results
- Display leadership skills in one-on-one and group settings
- Use team-building skills (e.g., active listening, encouraging candor, maintaining a cooperative and collaborative environment)
- Recognize and manage sensitive interpersonal situations
- Identify and implement strategies for increasing motivation
- Take into account differences in personality types and how motivators may differ
- Develop strategies to manage conflict

11. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to apply research skills to gather and interpret available information.

Elements of the Performance

- Identify the data required
- Select the appropriate data collection strategies
- Use all available paper-based and electronic sources to access information
- Ensure the accurate comparison of data
- Take into account the variables which affect the integrity of the data when making comparisons
- Remain current on information technology to access all available information

12. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to apply creative problem-solving skills to address business problems and opportunities.

Elements of the Performance

- Apply a methodical approach to decision making

- Recognize the value of gathering information from a wide variety of sources
- Collect, analyze, and synthesize information through observation, research, and consultation
- Develop strategies to deal with unexpected events
- Use appropriate mathematical tools to solve business problems

13. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to develop strategies for personal and professional development to manage job stress, enhance work performance, and maximize career opportunities.

Elements of the Performance

- Take a proactive approach to career growth by preparing a career plan which includes goals and strategies
- Use appropriate self-management strategies
- Recognize the value of lateral career moves
- Recognize the value of own role and roles of others in the success of the organization
- Consider the role of loyalties, factions, and alliances within an organization and their impact on individual career growth
- Recognize the value of active participation in business associations and the acquisition of professional accreditation
- Recognize the role of mentors and mentor models in chosen field
- Appreciate the value of local, national, and international networking

14. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to apply time management and organizational skills to facilitate the completion of tasks and to meet deadlines in a business environment.

Elements of the Performance

- Recognize the need to proactively manage change
- Prioritize tasks
- Design and implement a workplan
- Cooperatively plan team tasks and responsibilities
- Negotiate and meet deadlines
- Use calendar and reminder systems to manage tasks and projects
- Organize a workspace
- Organize appropriate facilities, equipment, services, and suppliers to support meetings and related activities

15. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to recognize the economic, social, political, and cultural variables which impact on a business.

Elements of the Performance

- Analyze the effect on business of significant domestic and international economic factors
- Discuss the effects on business operations of a number of significant factors such as legal issues and ethical issues (e.g., human rights, health and safety, employment standards, confidentiality of information)
- Take into account the need for seeking legal advice when appropriate
- Keep abreast of and comply with current rules and laws regarding ethics in business

MTCU Program Standards for the Ontario College Diploma (two years) in Business (MTCU code 50200) - The Generic Skills Learning Outcomes

1. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to communicate clearly, concisely, and correctly in the written, spoken, and visual form that fulfills the purpose and meets the needs of audiences.

Explanation

Communicating in a clear, concise, and correct manner requires producing the written, spoken or visual material that best suits the situation. Graduates will have developed their ability to analyze their audiences to identify what is required and to match those needs with the means that is most appropriate. They will have produced material according to the style and conventions required, and they will have checked their products for accuracy and clarity. Finally, graduates will have used the tools available to them to create and correct their written, spoken, and visual messages.

Elements of the Performance

- Plan and organize communications according to the purpose and audiences
- Choose the format (e.g., memo, illustration, video, multimedia presentation, diagram) appropriate to the purpose
- Incorporate the content that is meaningful and necessary
- Produce material that conforms to the conventions of the chosen format
- Use language and style suitable to the audience and purpose
- Ensure that the material is free from mechanical errors
- Use the computer technology that will enhance the production of materials
- Evaluate communications and adjust for any errors in content, structure, style, and mechanics

2. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to reframe information, ideas, and concepts using the narrative, visual, numerical, and symbolic representations which demonstrate understanding.

Explanation

Responding to messages from many sources requires the ability to receive and to comprehend what has been received. One way to demonstrate that comprehension is to reframe, or restate in other forms, the original message. This requires graduates to have developed the skills to read, listen to, and observe messages contained within narrative and visual forms. It also requires the ability to construct unique narrative and visual representations that are consistent with the original messages.

Elements of the Performance

- Develop and use strategies to read, listen, and observe effectively
- Clarify what has been read, heard, and observed
- Reproduce original information in other formats (e.g., written and spoken summaries; tables, figures, charts, diagrams, maps, drawings, photographs, and computer-generated graphics; terms represented by numbers; and values represented by letters or signs)
- Use technology, where appropriate, to aid in reframing
- Evaluate the representation for consistency of meaning with the original
- Acknowledge the use of material from other sources according to the conventions of the medium used

3. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to apply a wide variety of mathematical techniques with the degree of accuracy required to solve problems and make decisions.

Explanation

Using mathematics effectively in everyday situations requires the ability to apply a wide variety of mathematical skills accurately. Graduates will have demonstrated their ability to apply the concepts of number and space to situations which include quantities, magnitudes, measurements, and ratios. They will have developed their ability to identify the need for mathematics, to apply mathematical techniques (concepts, conventions, strategies, and operations) and to check the results of their applications. This will require graduates to be flexible and creative and to be confident in their mathematical skills and abilities.

Elements of the Performance

- Recognize situations that require mathematics
- Assess potential mathematical strategies (including models, geometric representations or formulas, elementary algebraic equations, descriptive statistical methods, and mathematical reasoning) for suitability and effectiveness
- Decide on the degree of accuracy required for answers
- Estimate probable answers
- Execute mathematical operations necessary to implement selected strategies
- Use calculators or appropriate technological tools to perform mathematical operations accurately
- Check for errors in numerical answers and the appropriate fit between problems and answers
- Express answers clearly
- Transfer the use of mathematical strategies from one situation to another

4. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to use a variety of computer hardware and software and other technological tools appropriate and necessary to the performance of tasks.

Explanation

Using computers and other technologies as tools to increase productivity and to enhance tasks requires graduates to have the confidence and ability to use the tools well. Graduates will have demonstrated the ability to recognize when computers and other technologies contribute to completing tasks, solving problems, performing research, and creating products. They will use the technological tool most appropriate to the task and use it accurately. Finally, they will have gained confidence in continuing to learn about and cope with new technologies in the future.

Elements of the Performance

- Use basic operating system functions competently (e.g., load software, store, and retrieve data)
- Determine which tasks can best be handled by computers and other technology
- Select suitable software, equipment, and tools for the task
- Use the software, equipment, and tools effectively, correctly, and ethically
- Deal with equipment and software problems and errors in a logical and systematic manner
- Transfer concepts, knowledge, and skills from one technology to another
- Evaluate one's own use of hardware, software, and technological tools

5. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to interact with others in groups or teams in ways that contribute to effective working relationships and the achievement of goals.

Explanation

Working in teams or groups in either a work or personal context requires the ability to assume responsibility for collective duties and decisions. It also requires interacting effectively with the members of the group. Therefore, in achieving this outcome, graduates will have demonstrated their ability to understand and complete the various tasks required of them as group members. They will also have demonstrated their ability to understand and respond to others.

Elements of the Performance

- Identify the tasks to be completed
- Establish strategies to accomplish the tasks
- Identify roles for members of the team/group
- Clarify one's own roles and fulfill them in a timely fashion

- Treat other members of the group equitably and fairly
- Contribute one's own ideas, opinions, and information while demonstrating respect for those of others
- Employ techniques intended to bring about the resolution of any conflicts
- Regularly assess the group's progress and interactions and make adjustments when necessary

6. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to evaluate her or his own thinking throughout the steps and processes used in problem solving and decision making.

Explanation

Solving a range of complex problems and dealing with a variety of tasks require the thinking skills and strategies that will allow graduates to identify what has to be done and to select and implement the most suitable approach. In applying thinking skills and strategies, graduates will have understood the limits as well as the potential of their own thought processes. As well, in attempting various strategies, they will have explored styles of thinking that may be new to them. This will allow graduates to understand the way they think and how they approach decisions and problems.

Elements of the Performance

- Clarify the nature and extent of problems or required directions
- Explore various thinking skills and strategies that could be used
- Identify limits as well as the potential of one's own thought processes
- Choose and apply thinking skills and strategies (e.g., inductive and deductive thinking; creative and intuitive thinking; inquiry; critical thinking; and reflection)
- Evaluate results of the thinking skills and strategies used in problem solving and decision making
- Appreciate the benefits of the use of alternative types of thinking

7. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to collect, analyze, and organize relevant and necessary information from a variety of sources.

Explanation

Making decisions and completing tasks often requires information that can be used as support. Graduates, therefore, must be able to access current, relevant, and useful information and to organize that information in understandable ways. In achieving this outcome, graduates will have developed and used strategies to locate and gather a wide range of information, most particularly through technological means. They will have learned how to select pertinent information and to sort it so that it can be displayed in useful formats like databases and spreadsheets. This information can then be used to support decisions and to assist in the completion of tasks.

Elements of the Performance

- Identify the nature of the information required
- Investigate sources of information (including people, text, databases, and the Internet)
- Gather information from the most appropriate sources using various data collection techniques, including technology
- Examine the information and select what is relevant, important, and useful
- Employ a variety of techniques to organize the information (e.g., spreadsheets, databases, graphs, and charts)
- Draw conclusions about how the information can be used
- Evaluate the processes used
- Cite sources according to the conventions of the medium used

8. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to evaluate the validity of arguments based on qualitative and quantitative information in order to accept or challenge the findings of others.

Explanation

With the wealth of numerical and non-numerical information available, graduates must be able to interpret, understand, and draw conclusions about what others have produced. Graduates will have used their mathematical abilities to question the validity of statistics and other numerical claims. Graduates also will have used their language and critical thinking skills to analyze the assumptions and evidence that others use to support more qualitative arguments and conclusions. As a result, graduates will have developed the ability to question and make decisions about what they read, hear, and observe.

Elements of the Performance

- Identify conclusions and claims made by others
- Detect any fallacies, biases, misrepresentations, and assumptions and judge their relevance to supporting arguments
- Check for accuracy and credibility of claims or arguments
- Be prepared to defend acceptance or rejection of claims or arguments

9. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to create innovative strategies and/or products that meet identified needs.

Explanation

Creating strategies and products that are original and innovative will require graduates to develop their creative thinking skills to find alternative ways to address situations. Graduates will have developed the confidence to use old information in new ways; to see unique relationships; and to practice the lateral, divergent, and intuitive thinking that will yield new approaches.

Elements of the Performance

- Analyze needs
- Generate creative ideas for strategies and products that will meet needs
- Choose alternatives to pursue based on needs and criteria of projects/plans
- Create strategies/products
- Evaluate strategies/products according to meeting needs

10. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to manage the use of time and other resources to attain personal and/or project-related goals.

Explanation

Achieving task-related goals in their personal and professional lives requires graduates to use their time, money, space, and other, often limited, resources as efficiently as possible. Graduates will have developed their ability to plan and predict ways of achieving goals. They will have developed and used tools intended to assist in the process. Finally, they will have attempted to follow their plans and use the tools, assessing regularly how realistic the goals, plans, and processes are and adapting when it is necessary.

Elements of the Performance

- Define reasonable and realistic goals
- Use planning tools (e.g., budgets and schedules) to achieve goals
- Monitor the process and goals and respond to changes
- Use resources (e.g., money, space, and time) efficiently to accomplish tasks
- Reevaluate goals and the use of resources and make appropriate adjustments

11. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to take responsibility for her or his own actions and decisions.

Explanation

Making decisions, taking positions, and completing tasks require graduates to be accountable for actions taken and to defend their convictions. Graduates will have demonstrated their ability to evaluate what they do and why they do it. They will have taken into consideration their individual values, beliefs, and opinions and the effects these have on their actions. Not only will graduates be able to justify their decisions, they will be able to advocate positively on behalf of themselves.

Elements of the Performance

- Review the results of one's actions and decisions
- Reflect on the processes and practices used
- Identify any errors and make corrections
- Identify successes for adaptation to other situations
- Account for how one's own values and beliefs affect actions and decisions
- Evaluate and act upon constructive feedback
- Be prepared to defend decisions made and actions taken

12. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to adapt to new situations and demands by applying and/or updating her or his knowledge and skills.

Explanation

Transferring skills from one context to another enables graduates to be lifelong learners. Graduates will have developed the confidence to know that their current skills are applicable to a range of changing, novel, and unexpected situations. They will have demonstrated their ability to reflect on what they can do, match those skills to the new demands, and apply previous skills or develop the additional ones that will make them as effective in the new situations.

Elements of the Performance

- Assess current skills, knowledge, and learning styles
- Identify skills and knowledge required for new situations
- Adapt current skills and knowledge to new situations
- Identify new skills and knowledge required
- Choose the most appropriate learning and working styles to acquire new skills and knowledge
- Evaluate success of the processes and actual adaptations

13. The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to represent her or his skills, knowledge, and experience realistically for personal and employment purposes.

Explanation

Preparing for changes in their personal and professional lives requires graduates to assess and present their accomplishments and abilities. In achieving this outcome, graduates will have developed their ability to reflect on what they have done and learned. They will also have summarized their abilities in ways that are attractive and useful to potential recipients. These ways may include portfolios and resumes. Finally, graduates will have developed the skills to present themselves and their accomplishments personally and with confidence.

Elements of the Performance

- Summarize one's own skills, knowledge, and experience realistically
- Choose formats (e.g., resume, portfolio, and interview) which best display skills, knowledge, and experiences according to the situations
- Evaluate responses to the representations and make any adjustments

Appendix G - MTCU Program Standards - General Education Standard

The General Education Requirement

The Government of Ontario has established that each college postsecondary program shall include a minimum of one three-hour-per-week general education course of approximately 45 instructional hours per semester. Learners should experience a breadth of goals through their general education studies; and, wherever possible, they should have the opportunity to exercise choice in the selection of their general education courses.

This general education requirement is an integral component of the Business Administration Program Standard, along with the vocational and generic skills learning outcomes.

The general education requirement shall be met consistent with the following guiding principles:

1. General education in the colleges shall identify and deal with issues of societal concern in a manner relevant to the lives of students. General education courses shall be structured in such a way as to guide students through the historical context of such issues, their theoretical bases, and application to contemporary life.
2. All general education courses offered in the colleges shall be designed to provide benefits to one or more of the three areas: learners' personal growth and enrichment, informed citizenship, and working life.
3. An essential component of the mission of Ontario's colleges is the encouragement and support of continuous learning. This commitment to lifelong learning shall be reflected in each of the general education courses offered in the colleges.

General education appropriate for Ontario colleges is defined as those postsecondary learning experiences that enable learners to meet more effectively the societal challenges which they face in their community, family, and working life. General education in the colleges provides learners with insight into the enduring nature of the issues being addressed and into their particular relevance to today and the future. It is intended to encourage and support continuous learning. It is delivered as discrete courses which are designed to address one or more of the following goals and associated broad objectives established for general education:

Goals and Broad Objectives

1. Aesthetic Appreciation - understand beauty, form, taste, and the role of the arts in society

Broad Objectives

- develop critical awareness of the arts in society
- perceive and evaluate the role of the arts
- heighten critical appreciation through development and application of personal and formal judgment factors

2. Civic Life - understand the meaning of freedoms, rights, and participation in community and public life

Broad Objectives

- develop knowledge of the structure and function of governments in Canada: legislative, judicial, and administrative arms; roles of elected officials and public servants; and a personal awareness of citizen responsibility
- develop historical understanding of major issues affecting Canadian politics and a critical awareness of related public policy
- develop awareness of international issues and their effects, and the place of Canada in international communities
- develop awareness of the history, significance, and organization of the voluntary sector in community life

3. Cultural Understanding - understand the cultural, social, ethnic, and linguistic diversity of Canada and the world

Broad Objectives

- develop an understanding of cultural identity by linking personal history to broader cultural study

- develop an understanding of the diversity of cultures and subcultures represented in Canadian society and of their interactions within the Canadian society
- develop intercultural understanding through reasoned reflection on various cultures' responses to universal human issues

4. Personal Development - gain greater self-awareness, intellectual growth, well-being, and understanding of others

Broad Objectives

- consider one's expectations and values and analyze their impact on personal goals
- apply an understanding of the individual and human development to personal life and relationships
- integrate the concept of well-being into one's lifestyle
- understand oneself as a learner and articulate one's own learning style

5. Social Understanding - understand relationships among individuals and society

Broad Objectives

- develop informed understanding of social organization and institutions and of ongoing issues in relationships between individuals, groups, and societies
- develop informed understanding of social trends, social change, and social problems and of implications for social and personal response
- develop informed understanding of contemporary social problems and issues

6. Understanding Science - appreciate the contribution of science to the development of civilization, human understanding, and potential

Broad Objectives

- develop an understanding of the history, philosophy, contributions, perspectives, and limitations of the sciences
- develop an understanding of the scientific method and its uses in measuring quantifiable entities and confirming laws of nature

7. Understanding Technology - understand the interrelationship between the development and use of technology and society and the ecosystem

Broad Objectives

- relate implications of current transformations in technological knowledge and development to our physical and biological world
- develop awareness of ethical positions on enduring issues regarding the place of the human species in the physical and biological world

8. Work and the Economy - understand the meaning, history, and organization of work; and working life challenges to the individual and society

Broad Objectives

- set personal expectations for efficiency, effectiveness, ethics, and rewards and reconcile them with the changing work environment
- apply knowledge of the organization and structure of work, its institutions, and history; and of social and cultural attitudes to work
- develop an understanding of the changing nature of work and the economy

Author's Title: Director of Quality Assurance and Experiential Learning

Request for a Supplemental Opportunity

- Any request for a supplemental opportunity must be submitted within seven (7) calendar days of the issuance of the final grades.
- Supplemental opportunities occur at the end of an academic semester once a final grade has been posted for a course.
- Supplemental opportunities are a privilege that may be granted and that must be pre-approved in writing by the Dean or designate.
- Student will be allowed to re-write a final exam or resubmit an assignment to earn the minimum passing grade for the course (50%).
- To be eligible, the final grade of the student must be between 41 and 49%.
- Students must submit this form for their request to be considered.
- Students must provide official documentation to support and justify their request. Images or photos will not be accepted as evidence. If the request is approved, the student will have 30 days to complete the supplemental activity.
- Accepted requests and supporting documentation are:
 - Death in the Family: Death Certificate
 - Sickness/Illness: Medical note from a Canadian doctor

- Accident: Collision report
 - Not Accepted Requests or Documents:
 - Childcare
 - Attending personal events
 - Attending Work
 - Other personal commitments (e.g., Wedding)
 - Backdated Medical notes.
 - False and misleading information is considered Academic Misconduct and could result in disciplinary action.
 - FEES: There is a $20 fee (HST included) for writing missed tests. This fee is payable by cash, debit or credit card on the day of the test. Proof of payment is required when arriving to write.

PROGRAM LEARNING OBJECTIVES

WELCOME

TO THE SUPPLY CHAIN MANAGEMENT – ENTERPRISE RESOURCE PLANNING (ERP) PROGRAM

Before products hit the shelves, there's a lot of work that goes on behind the scenes - from purchasing materials and coordinating inventory to the distribution of finished goods.

The intention of this program manual is to:

As global trade widens and deepens, demand continues to rise for skilled workers in the areas of supply chain logistics and international trade compliance. Prepare for a range of careers within the expanding field of supply chain management with this two-year graduate certificate program. As a graduate of Loyalist's full-time Supply Chain Management – Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) post-graduate program, you may be eligible for advanced standing into the certified Supply Chain Management Professional (SCMP) Designation Program.

Graduates with a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0 are granted exemption from four modules and two interactive workshops in accordance with the Supply Chain Management Association Ontario (SCMAO) and Loyalist's Partnership Agreement.

WHY CHOOSE SUPPLY CHAIN MANAGEMENT - ERP?

Supply chain management specialists with the knowledge to facilitate international trade are in high demand. Professionals in this field find opportunities in retail operations, logistics companies, the transportation industry, distribution centres, and the public and private sectors, working in the following roles:

- Purchase agent or officer
- Inventory specialist or store manager
- Compliance specialist or manager
- Supply chain manager
- Customs agent, broker or specialist
- Tracking and scheduling coordinator
- Logistics coordinator
- Demand planner

REQUIRED LAPTOP SPECIFICATIONS

We recommend that each student have a personal laptop. Students have access to all software that is part of their program of study on their personal computer. This tool will allow you to take advantage of your learning anywhere and at any time. Below are the suggested minimum standards for your device:

Minimum Requirements:

RAM: 8 GB

CPU: i5 Intel processor

HDD: 512 GB HDD

Recommended Requirements:

RAM: 16 GB

CPU: i7 Intel processor

HDD: 256 GB SSD or 512 GB HDD

HOURS OF OPERATION

Student Access Lab in the Library

- Monday to Saturday: 8 am – 9 pm
- Closed on Sundays and statutory holidays

HOW TO CONTACT US

College staff can be reached in person, by phone, or email through the contact information listed within the Program Contacts section of this program manual. Please note that all email communication must be sent and received through your Loyalist College email account.

Students are responsible for regularly checking their Loyalist email account and Learning Management System (LMS) for communication from faculty regarding program or course-specific information.

STUDENT SERVICES

Student Success is the central point of access to many of the services available to support your academic success. Services include program advising and guidance, accessible academic accommodations, personal counselling, peer tutoring, writing support, and culturally responsive services for Indigenous and international students. Staff can also help you navigate College policies, explore bursary and grant options, provide referrals, and partner with you in seeking solutions.

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITIES – REGISTRATION AND ACCOUNT

Please note: Program and course-specific requirements are subject to change. It is each student's responsibility to ensure they are registered in the appropriate course to fulfill the requirements of their program and to be aware of all applicable progression requirements.

Students must ensure that they are registered in all courses they are attending, and that courses which they are not attending are removed from their academic record. It is the student's responsibility to ensure their registration record and course schedule is accurate prior to the registration and withdrawal deadlines noted on the Academic Calendar.

Students are responsible for remaining in good financial standing and resolving all holds placed on their account.

Please contact Enrollment Services with any questions or concerns regarding course enrollment, graduation, group selection, updating academic progression, payment and fees. Enrollment Services can be reached at registration@tbcollege.com Regular office hours are Monday to Friday 8 am to 5 pm.

All Human Rights Code related requests for accommodation will be given meaningful consideration.

PROGRAM POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

All faculty and staff have the right to:

- An educational environment free of racist or sexist stereotyping, discrimination or harassment in the classroom (either physical or virtual) and in all College service areas.
- Expect appropriate student behaviour and have the right to request that a student exhibiting disruptive and/or disrespectful behaviour leave the classroom, laboratory or practicum area.
- Expect to be informed immediately of any issues, problems or concerns related to the program.

All faculty are required to:

- Provide written course documentation at the beginning of each course which includes outcomes, objectives, methodology, required resources, an evaluation system and penalties applied if expectations or due dates are not met.
- Provide notice in writing of any substantial changes to course requirements and the reason(s) for these changes.
- Set deadlines for assigned work, to expect assignments to be submitted at specific times and to impose equitable, established penalties when students fail to meet the deadlines or expectations.
- Carry out regularly scheduled instruction, and provide academic counselling for students at other times.

LOYALIST'S VIOLENCE PREVENTION POLICY

- All College members have a responsibility to foster a climate of respect and safety, free from violent behavior and harassment.

- Violence (physical violence, threatening actions or harassment) is not, in any way, acceptable behaviour.
- Weapons or replicas of weapons are not permitted on Loyalist College property.
- Unacceptable behaviour will result in disciplinary action or appropriate sanctions.
- More information can be found in the Student Code of Conduct – Positive Learning & Living Environment \(AOP 209\).

ATTENDANCE

Each faculty member has different expectations regarding attendance, but we all agree that there is a direct relationship between academic success and attendance in class. You can demonstrate your commitment to your chosen profession by attending all your classes. The skills and knowledge that you will acquire in the program build upon each other. Class discussions and team projects are a key part of your learning journey. It is the student's responsibility to inform the faculty member (by email) of their absence before the beginning of class.

CLASSROOM EXPECTATIONS

In business, time is money. You are paying to attend class and if you play an active role, you will receive the best value for your tuition. Professional attitudes are developed in class by:

- Demonstrating respect for self, others and your environment.
- Turning off your cellphone.

- Refraining from texting.
- Refraining from watching movies and YouTube.
- Being engaged in the class and encouraging others to do the same.

Here are some examples of inappropriate and unethical behaviour:

Cheating: transferring or receiving information without the permission of the faculty member for the purpose of achieving grades. This includes copying from the work of another person or permitting such copying to take place during a test or using unauthorized notes or other memory aides.

Plagiarism: submitting work that is substantially copied from the work of another person and representing that work as original.

Falsification: modifying an examination paper, record, or assignment for the purpose of obtaining additional credits or a higher grade.

Misrepresentation: knowingly giving false information about facts or actions in order to gain admission to the College or to fulfill academic requirements.

Fraudulent Behaviour: knowingly misleading another person for purposes of gain and thereby causing actual harm to another person or assisting in such activity.

PLAGIARISM AND ACADEMIC DISHONESTY

Plagiarism is the act of collecting and passing off the writing, passages or ideas of another author as your own. Students are plagiarizing if they fail to give credit, through referencing, to the person or work that originated the idea or reference.

Following a discussion with faculty, a mandatory failing grade will be issued on the assignment. A failing grade is the minimum penalty, but the College may reserve the right to impose a full range of sanctions including suspension or expulsion.

Academic dishonesty is obtaining academic grades by deceit. This includes the use of concealed notes or materials during a test/examination, acquiring information from other students by looking at their test papers, talking/signaling other students during tests, or by using another person's work in any form without citing references appropriately.

A student found guilty of obtaining grades in this manner will automatically be assigned a zero for the test/exam. A repeat offence may result in suspension from the program.

Please see the Academic Integrity Policy \(AOP 216\) for more information.

PRIOR LEARNING ASSESSMENT AND RECOGNITION (PLAR)

PLAR is a process that involves the identification, documentation, assessment and recognition of learning acquired through informal means. This may include work and life experience, informal education and training, independent study, volunteering, travel, hobbies and family experiences.

Students with significant life or work experience can request the opportunity to PLAR an academic course if they feel they have acquired most or all of the learning outcomes of the course from experiences elsewhere. A fee will be charged per course for assessment of prior learning (please refer to current College fee structure) and students may not PLAR more than 75% of program requirements.

Please see the Prior Learning Assessment and Recognition, Transfer Credit, Articulation and Exemption Policy \(AOP 221\) for more information.

TRANSFER/ARTICULATION AGREEMENTS

Explore transfer credit options and articulation agreements.

CO-OP INFORMATION

Industry co-op allows the student to gain professional experience in the related field prior to graduation and it is organized and planned by the student with support from the faculty.

A co-op work term in semester four provides an opportunity to gain first-hand workplace experience in the industry.

CO-OP PLACEMENT

Co-op is a work integrated experience built into post-secondary programs to allow you to get hands on experience in your field of study while applying your academic studies. The integration of formal learning practices with developmental learning opportunities helps to enhance and consolidate the knowledge, skills, abilities, and behaviours of emerging professionals. This is also an opportunity to interact and demonstrate your skills to potential employers.

APPLIED INDUSTRY PROJECT

Under extraordinary circumstances some students are not eligible for Co-op and may be able to compete the Applied Industry Project. Students wishing to pursue the Applied Industry Project must seek approval from:

Florian Vauleon

Director of Academics & Quality Assurance
Room 109, Ext. 275
florian.vauleon@tbcollege.com

Applied Industry Project involves a simulation experience involving the integration of formal learning practices with developmental learning opportunities helps to enhance and consolidate the knowledge, skills, abilities, and behaviours of emerging professionals. The industry project will be performed on the College campus under the guidance of the College faculty. Students will attend college five days weekly.

GUIDE TO SAFETY DURING PLACEMENT

Basic steps in risk awareness:

- Identify potential risks. Talk to your faculty supervisor and placement supervisor about risk related to your field.
- Understand the guidelines/expectations from the College and placement host.
- Inform your faculty supervisor or placement supervisor of any concerns.

Should an incident occur:

- Be sure to document all facts such as date, time, persons involved and the situation as you observed it.
- Inform your faculty supervisor or placement supervisor immediately.

EXAMPLES OF SAFETY RISKS

Harassment

- Sexual, age, ethnic, racial, or disability harassment of student workers or any employee is illegal.
- The employer must ensure that current full-time employees or interns do not harass student workers.
- Immediately report any harassment to your faculty supervisor.
- Resolution may include placing the student in another position.
- Harassment of others in the workplace may result in your dismissal from the program.

Protect Your Personal Identity

- Protect Social Insurance Number, cellphone numbers and all other personal identification.

Sexual Assault

There are several ways to reduce the risk of becoming a victim of sexual assault:

- Set limits; don't send the wrong message.
- Use your better judgment about situations to avoid.
- Be clear and responsible in your communication with others.
- If necessary, be forceful, firm and assertive in your communication with others.
- Be aware of nonverbal cues that can alert you to a problem. Remember, silence is not consent.
- Don't assume the other person knows what you do or do not want.
- Use the buddy system.
- Avoid secluded places.
- Devise an action plan in advance for what you will do if confronted with a situation of possible sexual assault. Remove yourself from the situation at the first sign that you are feeling unsafe.
- Familiarize yourself with the idea that you might have to be aggressive or yell to remove yourself from a possible sexual assault situation.

Travel

- Consider dangerous intersections, streets, or stretches of highway to and from the site.
- Notice parking garages or poorly-lit parking areas.
- When using your car or a vehicle provided to you by your placement site, find out all policies regarding travel such as:
 - Reimbursement of funds personally expended.
 - Transporting clients.
 - Transporting sensitive or easily-damaged materials.
 - Transporting potentially hazardous materials.

Physical Hazards

- Working outdoors – sun, snow and ice and other extreme weather, pollution, power-lines, pipelines, electromagnetic radiation, or gas leaks.

- Working indoors – any type of machinery, or unsuitable working conditions such as extreme temperatures, asbestos, sick building odors, buildings with structural concerns, or blocked fire escapes.

Biological Hazards

- Animals you may work with (deceased or living).
- Poisonous plants.
- Diseased birds or fish.

If in the medical field, check to see how bio-hazardous waste is disposed (e.g. sharp container).

Chemical Hazards

- Water supply.
- Toner powders from laser printer cartridges or photocopies that may cause eye or lung irritation.
- Chemicals in a laboratory setting getting in eyes, open sores, or lungs.

SUPPLY CHAIN MANAGEMENT - ENTERPRISE RESOURCE PLANNING (ERP)

Two-Year Post-Graduate Certificate

At the end of the program, students will be able to:

1. Examine the connections between strategic objectives, stakeholder expectations, and supply chain design, functions, processes and roles, to guide decision-making, problem-solving and coordination of tasks.
2. Determine the value added and financial implications of supply chain decisions and design on overall business profitability, efficiency and stakeholder satisfaction.
3. Ensure supply chain activities and transactions are compliant with relevant legal, regulatory and contractual obligations, and industry and organization standards and policies for quality, health, safety, accountability, social and environmental responsibility.
4. Use risk mitigation tools and strategies to inform supply chain management decisions.
5. Contribute to the acquisition and sale of goods, services and materials in accordance with best practices and public and private sector stakeholder expectations across a variety of industries.
6. Contribute to the strategic planning and scheduling of material requirements, resource allocation and inventory for efficient production and fulfillment of customer orders and returns.
7. Coordinate the efficient handling and movement of goods, services, materials and related information within and between supply chains.
8. Contribute to the identification and management of continuous improvements to functions and processes within and between supply chains.
9. Use available technologies to enhance work performance and support supply chain functions, processes, transactions and communications.
10. Monitor relevant trends, emerging technologies, and local and global economic, political and environmental issues to enhance work performance and guide management decisions.
11. Use leadership and communication skills to establish and manage strategic relationships with a diversity of stakeholders and support the achievement of business goals.
12. Develop and apply ongoing strategies for personal, career and professional development.
13. Install and apply Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) and data management systems and applications to allow organizations to track customer and business interactions.

SMALL GIVES US THE POWER TO DO BIG THINGS

In a world obsessed with big, we are small. Small gives us the power to do big things.

And things that make a big difference to our students, community, and partners.

In an impersonal world of big lecture halls and stadium seating, we know our students by name and circumstance. Small frees us to provide personal one-on-one attention, in small classes and learning environments.

Small means our students feel like they matter. That they belong. That they are no longer invisible in a world which had passed them by.

Small means that we can move mountains to help every student succeed, confident in who they are and what they are capable of becoming.

We are Loyalist College of Applied Arts and Technology.

We are small.

Policy

1. Statement

The purpose of this policy is to govern the administration of parking at all Toronto Business College properties (4000 Victoria Park Avenue and 3190 Steeles Avenue East). The intent of this policy is to provide safe and secure parking areas.

Toronto Business College provides motor vehicle movement and parking areas for use by staff, students and visitors. To ensure the safe, orderly, and expeditious movement and parking of vehicles the College implements appropriate regulatory procedures.

2. Scope

The College has dedicated use of parking spaces at a ratio of 3.4 spaces per 1,000 square feet (See Appendix A).

Additional paid parking is available to students near the campus (See Appendix C).

Free parking is available to college staff and faculty either in the Staff and Visitors Parking Lot or in the Student and Staff Parking Lot.

3. Disclaimer

Toronto Business College shall not be held responsible for any loss (including contents) or damage to motor vehicles, or personal injuries however caused. Losses, damage, and/or injuries should be reported to the Front Desk Security (647-323-6364).

4. Security

CCTVs are located in the building and on the grounds at 4000 Victoria Park. These 24/7 security cameras monitor and record activities in the parking lots as well as on the road access to Steeles and Victoria Park.

In addition to the surveillance cameras, a dedicated security guard is on duty from 8am to 5pm, Monday to Saturday, in parking lots operated by the College.

5. Accessible Parking

Persons with a Ministry of Transportation Accessible Parking Permit can use one of the five accessible parking spaces located in the staff parking lot.
(See Appendix B)

6. Snow removal

The College ensures a safe, convenient, and well-maintained car park in support of the College's missions of education. Accordingly, the removal of snow and ice from all campus walkways, entrances and parking lots is the responsibility of Property Management. These areas are cleared as soon as possible during and after a storm.

Parking Procedures

1. Staff

- Staff can use the staff and visitors parking lot and must display a current College campus parking sticker.
- Staff can also request a parking pass by registering their vehicle and submitting the Parking Access Form. Staff will be charged a $20 deposit that will be refunded when they return the card. Access cards are linked to the staff profile. They cannot be transferred or lent to other individuals.
- There are 16 parking spaces available in the staff and visitors parking lot.

2. Students

Students attending regular classes have the choice between three parking lots. (See Appendix C)

1. Parking in the dedicated student parking lot located next to the College for a flat rate of $5 a day. There are 155 parking spaces.
2. Parking at Indigo SteelsTech 2-level underground parking located at 3381 Steeles Avenue for a daily max of $9 a day or $2.50 per half hour. There are two entrances to the underground car park: one from the north side and one from the south side of the building. Handicap (barrier free) parking is located near the front of the building and on the underground P1 Level near the parking shuttle elevators. The parking lot includes windshield washing stations and tire air pumps as well as Fire Emergency equipment. (See Appendix D)
3. The parking lot is located at 3389 Steeles Avenue for a daily rate of $9 a day or $2.50 per half hour. There are more than 500 parking spaces. (See Appendix E)

The Innovation Hub is located at 3190 Steeles Avenue East and offers a complimentary parking lot for students and staff. There are more than 200 free parking spaces. (See Appendix F)

Available in Alternate Formats Upon Request

3. Visitors

Visitor parking passes are available at the front desk. Arrangements can be made in advance for any guests visiting Toronto Business College. Visitors must collect a pass when they arrive on campus in order to access the student and staff parking lots.

4. Parking and Traffic Regulations

1. Parking and traffic regulations are in effect at all times, 24/7 365 days a year.
2. Persons operating motor vehicles on campus must obey all posted traffic and parking signs.
3. Parking is permitted in designated parking areas only, as indicated by parking lot signs. All other areas, whether signed “no parking” or not, are “no parking” zones. This includes road shoulders, grassed areas, sidewalks, interlock-bricked areas, and any other area that is not specifically designated as a parking area.
4. Failure to comply with the Parking and Traffic Regulations may result in fines and/or towing.

5. Parking Violations

The city of Toronto issues parking tickets for each violation around campus. For the parking violation on campus, the College warns and bans vehicles if necessary.

2. New books should be processed only by the library administrator.
3. Make sure every book in the database is cross-referenced with the academic list to determine the category in which the books belong.
4. Once books are returned on the database, only the library administrator is supposed to put
5. the books back in the book cabinet according to the category.
6. After every book check-out a receipt must be sent via an email to the borrower.
7. List of overdue books must be provided to the library administrator, every week.

13. Laptop Lending Procedure

The purpose of the Laptop Lending Procedure is to ensure all students can have access to a laptop for on campus and/or in-class use.

1. All students with a Student ID Card may borrow a laptop. The College requires this information to help prevent laptop theft.
2. The student agrees to assume all legal liability for the cost of repair or replacement in the event of loss due to theft, damage, negligence, or misuse. The College will not assume responsibility for lost files due to viruses, hardware failure and network interruptions. Any file(s) copied or downloaded will be removed and cannot be recovered after the laptop is handed back to the College.
3. Eligible students are permitted to borrow one laptop at a time FOR A DAY ONLY

4. Each laptop MUST be returned to the IT desk after each class or before 9pm on the same day or A $20.00 FINE WILL BE ISSUED. Every subsequent day the laptop is not returned will be an additional $20.00 fine. Students will be permitted to re-check out the same laptop if there are no other students waiting for a laptop.
5. Laptops are available for loan on a first-come, first-served basis at the IT Service Desk.
6. When students sign out a laptop, they will be required to read and sign the Laptop Lending Procedure included in the MS form. The MS form will be kept on file for future reference as required.
7. The user assumes full monetary responsibility. The replacement charge for a laptop is $500, in addition to a processing charge of $20. Charges for missing laptop accessories also apply – $50 for AC-adaptor plus the cost of nine cell batteries, and overdue fines. A repair fee will be levied for damaged laptops. Any laptop equipment malfunctions should be reported immediately to the IT staff.
8. Laptops must be returned in-person to the IT staff at the Service Desk. Students will be required to wait until staff can verify that all laptop accessories have been returned and the laptop is functioning properly.
9. All the students are required to log out of their accounts before handing the laptop to the IT Support.

8. Borrowing and Renewal

To ensure the faculty members, students, and staff all have access to the library materials equally, Loyalist College in Toronto limits the number of renewals and items being borrowed.

For Current Students (Part-time and Full-time)

1. Borrowing of library materials must be done in-person at the front desk reception and you must present your student ID card.
2. A maximum of 1 item can be borrowed at a time.
3. Books in our circulation may be borrowed for one-week period(7-days).
4. Renewals must be done in-person at the front reception desk, and you must present your student ID card and the book in your possession.
5. Renewals are limited up to 1 time. After that the borrower will need to wait one week before the book is reissued again.

Available in Alternate Formats Upon Request

6. No additional items may be borrowed until late fees have been paid in full.
7. Fines are due at the time of return.

For Faculty members

1. Borrowing of library materials must be done in-person at the front desk reception.
2. Limit of 3 books can be borrowed at a time.
3. Permission to borrow books exceeding the limit will need to be approved by the academic team.
4. Books in our circulation may be borrowed until the end of the current term. For example, if you borrow a book at the start of the Term or in the middle of the term the book will be due at the end of the term.
5. Renewals must be done in-person at the front reception

9. Returning Books

To return the books, please come to the front desk at our college campus either on or before your book due date, to avoid paying the fine. Once you meet the librarian and return the book, you can borrow a new book or have your book reissued.

10. Fines and Fees Policy

2. New books should be processed only by the library administrator.
3. Make sure every book in the database is cross-referenced with the academic list to determine the category in which the books belong.
4. Once books are returned on the database, only the library administrator is supposed to put
5. the books back in the book cabinet according to the category.
6. After every book check-out a receipt must be sent via an email to the borrower.
7. List of overdue books must be provided to the library administrator, every week.

13. Laptop Lending Procedure

The purpose of the Laptop Lending Procedure is to ensure all students can have access to a laptop for on campus and/or in-class use.

1. All students with a Student ID Card may borrow a laptop. The College requires this information to help prevent laptop theft.
2. The student agrees to assume all legal liability for the cost of repair or replacement in the event of loss due to theft, damage, negligence, or misuse. The College will not assume responsibility for lost files due to viruses, hardware failure and network interruptions. Any file(s) copied or downloaded will be removed and cannot be recovered after the laptop is handed back to the College.
3. Eligible students are permitted to borrow one laptop at a time FOR A DAY ONLY

4. Each laptop MUST be returned to the IT desk after each class or before 9pm on the same day or A $20.00 FINE WILL BE ISSUED. Every subsequent day the laptop is not returned will be an additional $20.00 fine. Students will be permitted to re-check out the same laptop if there are no other students waiting for a laptop.
5. Laptops are available for loan on a first-come, first-served basis at the IT Service Desk.
6. When students sign out a laptop, they will be required to read and sign the Laptop Lending Procedure included in the MS form. The MS form will be kept on file for future reference as required.
7. The user assumes full monetary responsibility. The replacement charge for a laptop is $500, in addition to a processing charge of $20. Charges for missing laptop accessories also apply – $50 for AC-adaptor plus the cost of nine cell batteries, and overdue fines. A repair fee will be levied for damaged laptops. Any laptop equipment malfunctions should be reported immediately to the IT staff.
8. Laptops must be returned in-person to the IT staff at the Service Desk. Students will be required to wait until staff can verify that all laptop accessories have been returned and the laptop is functioning properly.
9. All the students are required to log out of their accounts before handing the laptop to the IT Support.
