Breach of Academic Integrity

Procedure Number: TPR 001 - AC 007

Issue Date: June 21, 2021

Last Review: September 22, 2023

Last Revision: September 22, 2023

Author's Title: Director of Quality Assurance and Experiential Learning

1. Purpose

Toronto Business College (TBC) believes that the development of self-discipline and acceptable standards of academic integrity are fundamental to the learning process. The establishment and maintenance of professional behaviour is the responsibility of all members of the College community.

2. Process for Faculty

If a professor has reasonable cause to suspect that a student has plagiarized, submitted false materials, cheated on an exam, or in any way behaved in an academically dishonest manner, they will:

1. Notify the student of their suspicion and provide evidence.
2. Provide the student an opportunity to respond to the allegation.
3. If the student is found to have committed the offence, the professor will complete a Breach of Academic Integrity form and provide this form in electronic format to the College within five working days of notifying the student of the offence.
4. The professor will complete a separate Breach of Academic Integrity form for each student, even if multiple students are involved in committing the same offence.

3. Appeal Process for Students

Incidents of academic dishonesty may result in poor academic standing and as a result, students will NOT be eligible to work part-time in on-campus positions or apply to or maintain the Off-Campus Work Permit (OCWP). If at any time international students become ineligible for the OCWP, it is their responsibility to surrender the OCWP to Canada Immigration. More information is available at www.cic.gc.ca.

Stage 1: Student – Faculty member

If a student has reason to counter allegations of academic dishonesty, they will reach out to their instructor with an explanation within five (5) business days after having been notified of the offence.

The College faculty and staff are strongly committed to resolving student concerns. However, if it is not possible to resolve the concern with the faculty, students may choose to pursue a Stage 2 Appeal.

Stage 2: Student – Dean or Designate

1. The student must submit the signed completed Academic Appeal Form and the faculty written response to the Dean or designate within five working days of the faculty decision.
2. The Dean or designate will review and evaluate the request. If necessary, the Dean or designate will contact the student to make an appointment to discuss any concern.
3. A written response will be provided to the student and the faculty involved on the Academic Appeal Form within five working days of the issuance of the Dean's decision.
4. If the student disagrees with this decision, the student may proceed to Stage 3 of the appeal process within five (5) business days of the issuance of the decision.

Stage 3: Student – Academic Appeal Board

1. The student must have followed the first two stages of the grade appeal process.
2. If the student is not satisfied with the outcome of the Stage 2 Appeal, the College provides a more formal process for having concerns heard. The student forwards the Academic Integrity Appeal to the Registrar's Office, date stamped within five (5) business days of receiving the written response from the Dean, disciplinary action, or other penalties assessed by the College.
3. The Enrollment Services, in consultation with the Academic Appeal Board Chair, will either confirm that the matter is appropriate for consideration by the Board, or refer the appeal to the appropriate individual or group. If appropriate, the appeal will then be reviewed by the Academic Appeal Board.
4. The Chair of the Academic Appeal Board establishes a hearing date within five working days from receiving the request.
5. The Registrar collects documentation from the student, faculty, and Dean in order to distribute to the Academic Appeal Board at least two working days prior to the hearing.
6. Each party to the appeal is heard separately. The Board reserves the right to audio tape any interview conducted during the appeal process to assist in the clarification of the facts as provided by the parties concerned. The tapes are the property of the Board and will be destroyed by the Registrar immediately following the Board deliberation and appeal decision.

7. The student will make a presentation to the Academic Appeal Board outlining the basis for the appeal. If the student wishes, they may be accompanied by a person of their choice. Any person accompanying the student is not permitted to participate directly in the proceedings. Board members may question the person in matters related to the appeal.
8. The faculty member or Dean whose decision is being appealed will make a presentation to the Academic Appeal Board outlining the basis for the decision. Board members may question the faculty member, program coordinator, and/or the Dean in matters related to the appeal.
9. If any additional information is required, it will be requested by the Chair of the Academic Appeal Board from the appropriate sources.
10. After all information has been heard and submissions received, the Academic Appeal Board will make its decision without the presence of any other parties. The goal of the Board is to reach a consensus decision based on the evidence presented. In the event that consensus cannot be reached, a vote will be held. In the event of a tied vote, the appeal will automatically be decided in the student's favour.
11. The Chair of the Academic Appeal Board will notify the student and other parties involved of the decision in writing within three working days of the hearing with a copy to the Senior Vice President Academic and President.
12. The decision of the Academic Appeal Board is final and must be implemented in a timely manner by the responsible parties, unless there is a formal written request to review the decision based on procedural issues within five working days.
13. In the case of an appeal based on process or procedures of the Board, the appeal would be reviewed by the Senior Vice President Academic and a decision will be made within five working days. Appeals based on issues other than process or procedures will not be considered and the decision of the Academic Appeal Board will stand.
14. The Academic Appeal Board will prepare an Annual Report each term. The report will include a summary of the cases heard, excluding the names of the parties involved, the decisions made in these cases, and any other recommendations the Board determines to be relevant or helpful to the review process.

4. Composition of the Academic Appeal Board

PROGRAM LEARNING OBJECTIVES

WELCOME

TO THE BUSINESS – ADMINISTRATION PROGRAM

If you are serious about pursuing a career in business, you've made the right choice in selecting Loyalist College. Our faculty works alongside you to aid in your success for wherever your career path may lead.

The intention of this program manual is to:

1. Explain the full range of services we offer in the Business program to support your success;
2. Highlight the program's assortment of courses and learning experiences; and,
3. Clarify our expectations of you, and your expectations of us.

WHY CHOOSE BUSINESS?

Where's the money? Think about it. Every occupation has a business component. Doctors need to obtain patients and control costs. Lawyers need to gain clients and arrange contracts. Your corner store needs to offer products that people desire. Your hair stylist needs to manage expenses. Your cellphone company constantly promotes new features to you.

The concert you attended had to market the event in order to promote ticket sales. Your boss needs to know how to schedule staff and order products to make money. Every time there is an exchange of money for goods and services, this is a business transaction. Everyone who transacts business needs to understand it. This is business in action.

PROGRAM POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

All faculty and staff have the right to:

- An educational environment free of racist or sexist stereotyping, discrimination or harassment in the classroom (either physical or virtual) and in all the college service areas.
- Expect appropriate student behavior and have the right to request that a student exhibiting disruptive and/or disrespectful behavior leave the classroom, laboratory or practicum area.
- Expect to be informed immediately of any issues, problems or concerns related to the program

All faculty are required to:

- Provide written course documentation at the beginning of each course which includes outcomes, objectives, methodology; required resources, an evaluation system and penalties applied if expectations or due dates are not met.
- Provide notice in writing of any substantial changes to course requirements and the reasons(s) for these changes.
- Set deadlines for assigned work, to expect assignments to be submitted at specified times and to impose equitable established penalties when students fail to meet the deadlines or expectations.
- Carry out regularly scheduled instruction, and provide academic counselling for students at other times.

LOYALIST'S VIOLENCE PREVENTION POLICY

All college members have a responsibility to foster a climate of respect and safety, free from violent behaviour and harassment.

Violence (physical violence, threatening actions or harassment) is not, in any way, acceptable behaviour.

Weapons or replicas of weapons are not permitted on Loyalist College property.

Unacceptable behaviour will result in disciplinary action or appropriate sanctions.

More information can be found in the Student Code of Conduct – Positive Learning & Living Environment \(AOP 209\).

ATTENDANCE

Each faculty member has different expectations regarding attendance, but we all agree that there is a direct relationship between academic success and attendance in class. You can demonstrate your commitment to your chosen profession by attending all your classes. The skills and knowledge that you will acquire in the program build upon each other. Class discussions and team projects are a key part of your learning journey. It is the student's responsibility to inform the faculty member (by email) of their absence before the beginning of class.

Classroom Expectations

In business, time is money. You are paying to attend class and if you play an active role, you will receive the best value for your tuition. Professional attitudes are developed in class by:

- Demonstrating respect for self, others and your environment
- Turning off your cellphone
- Refraining from texting

- Refraining from watching movies and YouTube
- Being engaged in the class and encouraging others to do the same

Here are some examples of inappropriate and unethical behaviour:

Cheating: transferring or receiving information without the permission of the faculty member for the purpose of achieving grades. This includes copying from the work of another person or permitting such copying to take place during a test or using unauthorized notes or other memory aides.

Plagiarism: submitting work that is substantially copied from the work of another person and representing that work as original.

Falsification: modifying an examination paper, record, or assignment for the purpose of obtaining additional credits or a higher grade.

Misrepresentation: knowingly giving false information about facts or actions in order to gain admission to the College or to fulfill academic requirements.

Fraudulent Behaviour: knowingly misleading another person for purposes of gain and thereby causing actual harm to another person or assisting in such activity.

PLAGIARISM AND ACADEMIC DISHONESTY

Plagiarism is the act of collecting and passing off the writing, passages or ideas of another author as your own. Students are plagiarizing if they fail to give credit, through referencing, to the person or work that originated the idea or reference.

Following a discussion with faculty, a mandatory failing grade will be issued on the assignment. A failing grade is the minimum penalty, but the College may reserve the right to impose a full range of sanctions including suspension or expulsion.

Academic dishonesty is obtaining academic grades by deceit. This includes the use of concealed notes or materials during a test/examination, acquiring information from other students by looking at their test papers, talking/signaling other students during tests, or by using another person's work in any form without citing references appropriately.

A student found guilty of obtaining grades in this manner will automatically be assigned a zero for the test/exam. A repeat offence may result in suspension from the program.

Please see the Academic Integrity Policy \(AOP 216\) for more information.

PRIOR LEARNING ASSESSMENT AND RECOGNITION (PLAR)

PLAR is a process that involves the identification, documentation, assessment and recognition of learning acquired through informal means. This may include work and life experience, informal education and training, independent study, volunteering, travel, hobbies and family experiences.

Students with significant life or work experience can request the opportunity to PLAR an academic course if they feel they have acquired most or all of the learning outcomes of the course from experiences elsewhere. A fee will be charged per course for assessment of prior learning (please refer to current College fee structure). Students may not PLAR more than 75% of their program requirements.

Please see AOP 221, Prior Learning Assessment and Recognition, Transfer Credit, Articulation and Exemption for more information.

SMALL GIVES US THE POWER TO DO BIG THINGS

In a world obsessed with big, we are small. Small gives us the power to do big things.

And things that make a big difference to our students, community, and partners.

In an impersonal world of big lecture halls and stadium seating, we know our students by name and circumstance. Small frees us to provide personal one-on-one attention, in small classes and learning environments.

Small means our students feel like they matter. That they belong. That they are no longer invisible in a world which had passed them by.

Small means that we can move mountains to help every student succeed, confident in who they are and what they are capable of becoming.

We are Loyalist College of Applied Arts and Technology.

We are small.

- Expect to be informed immediately of any issues, problems or concerns related to the program.

All faculty are required to:

- Provide written course documentation at the beginning of each course which includes outcomes, objectives, methodology, required resources, an evaluation system and penalties applied if expectations or due dates are not met.
- Provide notice in writing of any substantial changes to course requirements and the reason(s) for these changes.
- Set deadlines for assigned work, to expect assignments to be submitted at specific times and to impose equitable, established penalties when students fail to meet the deadlines or expectations.
- Carry out regularly scheduled instruction, and provide academic counselling for students at other times.

LOYALIST'S VIOLENCE PREVENTION POLICY

- All College members have a responsibility to foster a climate of respect and safety, free from violent behavior and harassment.
- Violence (physical violence, threatening actions or harassment) is not, in any way, acceptable behaviour.
- Weapons or replicas of weapons are not permitted on Loyalist College property.
- Unacceptable behaviour will result in disciplinary action or appropriate sanctions.
- More information can be found in the Student Code of Conduct – Positive Learning & Living Environment \(AOP 209\).

ATTENDANCE

Each faculty member has different expectations regarding attendance, but we all agree that there is a direct relationship between academic success and attendance in class. You can demonstrate your commitment to your chosen profession by attending all your classes. The skills and knowledge that you will acquire in the program build upon each other. Class discussions and team projects are a key part of your learning journey. It is the student's responsibility to inform the faculty member (by email) of their absence before the beginning of class.

CLASSROOM EXPECTATIONS

In business, time is money. You are paying to attend class and if you play an active role, you will receive the best value for your tuition. Professional attitudes are developed in class by:

- Demonstrating respect for self, others and your environment.
- Turning off your cellphone.
- Refraining from texting.
- Refraining from watching movies and YouTube.
- Being engaged in the class and encouraging others to do the same.

Here are some examples of inappropriate and unethical behaviour:

Cheating: transferring or receiving information without the permission of the faculty member for the purpose of achieving grades. This includes copying from the work of another person or permitting such copying to take place during a test or using unauthorized notes or other memory aides.

Plagiarism: submitting work that is substantially copied from the work of another person and representing that work as original.

Falsification: modifying an examination paper, record, or assignment for the purpose of obtaining additional credits or a higher grade.

Misrepresentation: knowingly giving false information about facts or actions in order to gain admission to the College or to fulfill academic requirements.

Fraudulent Behaviour: knowingly misleading another person for purposes of gain and thereby causing actual harm to another person or assisting in such activity.

PLAGIARISM AND ACADEMIC DISHONESTY

Plagiarism is the act of collecting and passing off the writing, passages or ideas of another author as your own. Students are plagiarizing if they fail to give credit, through referencing, to the person or work that originated the idea or reference following a discussion with faculty, a mandatory failing grade will be issued on the assignment. A failing grade is the minimum penalty, but the College may reserve the right to impose a full range of sanctions including suspension or expulsion.

Academic dishonesty is obtaining academic grades by deceit. This includes the use of concealed notes or materials during a test/examination, acquiring information from other students by looking at their test papers, talking/signaling other students during tests, or by using another person's work in any form without citing references appropriately.

A student found guilty of obtaining grades in this manner will automatically be assigned a zero for the test/exam. A repeat offence may result in suspension from the program.

Please see Academic Integrity Policy \(AOP 216\) for more information.

PRIOR LEARNING ASSESSMENT AND RECOGNITION (PLAR)

PLAR is a process that involves the identification, documentation, assessment and recognition of learning acquired through informal means. This may include work and life experience, informal education and training, independent study, volunteering, travel, hobbies and family experiences.

Students with significant life or work experience can request the opportunity to PLAR an academic course if they feel they have acquired most or all of the learning outcomes of the course from experiences elsewhere. A fee will be charged per course for assessment of prior learning (please refer to current College fee structure). Students may not PLAR more than 75% of their program requirements.

Please see Prior Learning Assessment and Recognition, Transfer Credit, Articulation and Exemption Policy \(AOP 221\) for more information.

SMALL GIVES US THE POWER TO DO BIG THINGS

In a world obsessed with big, we are small. Small gives us the power to do big things.

And things that make a big difference to our students, community, and partners.

In an impersonal world of big lecture halls and stadium seating, we know our students by name and circumstance. Small frees us to provide personal one-on-one attention, in small classes and learning environments.

Small means our students feel like they matter. That they belong. That they are no longer invisible in a world which had passed them by.

Small means that we can move mountains to help every student succeed, confident in who they are and what they are capable of becoming.

We are Loyalist College of Applied Arts and Technology.

We are small.

1. Statement

The objective of this policy is to provide information and demonstrate to Toronto Business College (TBC) employees, that they have the right to a work environment free from discrimination, violence and harassment on any of the prohibited grounds in the Ontario Human Rights Code, including race, ancestry, place of origin, color, ethnic origin, citizenship, creed, sex, age, marital status, family status, disability, sexual orientation (and same-sex partnership status) and record of offenses, as these terms are defined and interpreted in and by the Ontario Human Rights Code.

The company is committed to fostering a climate where human rights are respected. We will not tolerate discrimination, violence or harassment in its employment or business dealings.

TBC is aware of its role in addressing any unwanted behaviors early to minimize the potential for workplace harassment to lead to workplace violence. The specific duties with respect to workplace harassment and workplace violence are dictated by the Occupational Health and Safety Act and followed by the College.

2. Scope and Application

This policy addresses discrimination, harassment, and sexual harassment within the company environment, recognizing that such conduct may be offensive, degrading, or threatening, or that it can foster a hostile or unfair environment.

Additionally, it recognizes that employees may be subject to harassment within the company or with whom the company conducts business, including Contractors (e.g. those undertaking construction, provision of services, among others) and visitors. In these circumstances, the company acknowledges its responsibility to support and assist anyone subject to such harassment.

This policy covers incidents that occur both on and off the company's premises, which affect the working environment (for example, discrimination and harassment that occurs on premises, off-premises, at company-related work or social functions, during work or travel on company business, over the phone or computer).

In off-premises situations, there must be the potential for discrimination or harassment to adversely impact the work environment and/or to create a poisoned environment. Incidents occurring outside the company's premises which have no likelihood of impact on the work environment, are to be pursued through the Ontario Human Rights Commission or any other relevant legislation and will not be dealt with under this policy. TBC is responsible for the costs of administering this policy, including processing complaints, and arranging for mediation and investigation services, but not for any legal costs incurred personally by the complainant or respondent.

3. Prevention

TBC is responsible for ensuring an environment free of harassment and discrimination and educating all employees. Every TBC employee is obligated to create and maintain an environment free of harassment and discrimination. All TBC employees are liable for their own discriminatory actions.

Consistent with the Ontario Human Rights Code, employees have the authority to prevent or discourage harassment or discrimination and are considered responsible for failing to exercise their authority to do so. This would apply when the person knew or should have known about the harassment or discrimination and could have stopped it.

4. Definitions and examples

Harassment: one or a series of vexatious comments or conduct related to one or more of the prohibited grounds that is/are known or might be known to be unwelcome, offensive, intimidating, hostile or inappropriate. Examples include gestures, remarks, jokes, taunting, innuendo, verbal assault or hazing, shunning or exclusion related to the prohibited grounds.

Sexual Harassment: one or a series of comments or conduct of a gender-related or sexual nature that is/are known or might reasonably be known to be unwelcome, offensive, intimidating, hostile or inappropriate. Examples include gestures, remarks, jokes, slurs, taunting, innuendo, verbal assault, unwanted physical contact, invitations, leering, the display of sexually offensive material, sexual solicitation or demands; unwanted attention, implied or express promise of reward or benefit in return for sexual Favors or an implied or express threat or act of reprisal if sexual Favors are not given.

Discrimination: action(s) or behavior(s) creating unfavorable, adverse, or differential treatment related to the prohibited grounds. Common examples are refusal to provide goods, services or facilities, exclusion from employment or employment benefits, refusal to work with, teach, or study with someone and/or failure to provide physical access.

Systemic or Constructive Discrimination: policies, practices, procedures, actions, or inaction that appear neutral, but have an adverse impact associated with one of the prohibited grounds.

An example is a hiring criterion that is not deemed genuine and serves to exclude a particular group, or exam schedules that conflict with important religious events.

Negative or Poisoned Environment: a series of comments or a pattern of conduct creating a negative environment (hostile, intimidating or offensive) for individuals or groups related to prohibited grounds.

Available in Alternate Formats Upon Request

The comment or conduct must be of a significant nature or degree and have the effect of "poisoning" the work environment. A complainant does not have to be a direct target to be adversely affected by a negative environment. Examples include exposure to graffiti, signs, cartoons, and remarks.

Violence: includes, but is not limited to, the following actions or behaviors that a reasonable person would perceive to be aggressive, and/or intimidating, and/or harassing, and/or unsafe or which carry an expressed or implied intent to cause harm to a person or property:

- Hitting, shoving, or striking another person or object.
- Throwing objects, regardless of size or target, where a reasonable person would consider the intent to be aggressive or assaultive in nature.
- Threatening of harm to anyone or to their property.
- Unwelcome name -calling, obscene language and other verbally abusive behavior, e.g., hateful graffiti, leering/whistling.
- Threat of or intentional destruction of college property.
- Acts such as obscene gestures, "getting in your face" and fist shaking.
- "Stalking" or the willful, malicious, and repeated following of any member of the college community creating an atmosphere of fear for that individual's personal safety.
- Possessing or using weapons, or any other objects intended to cause injury or to threaten or intimidate.

5. Responsibilities

Toronto Business College, as an employer, shall be responsible for:

- providing a workplace free from violence and harassment.
- providing the required information and resources to control violence and harassment.
- creating an environment that encourages victims of violence and harassment to report all incidents.

Managers/Supervisors are responsible for:

- action as required and necessary to prevent violence and harassment.
- acting immediately on observations, incidents, complaints or allegations of violence and harassment.
- encouraging employees to report all incidents of violence and harassment.
- assisting as required in any investigation into incidents of violence and harassment.
- ensuring that employees complete training as required on college policies and procedures directed at preventing violence and harassment.

6. Sexual Harassment

The Occupational Health and Safety Act defines workplace sexual harassment as:

- engaging in a course of vexatious comment or conduct against a worker, in a workplace because of sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or gender expression where the course of comment or conduct is known or ought to be known to be unwelcome, or,
- making a sexual solicitation or advance where the person making it can confer, grant, or deny a benefit or advancement to the worker and the person knows or ought reasonably to know the solicitation or advance is unwelcome.

This definition of workplace sexual harassment reflects the prohibitions on sexual harassment and sexual solicitation found in Ontario's Human Rights Code. The comments or conduct typically happen more than once, although a single unwelcome solicitation or advance from a manager, supervisor, or another person who has the power to reward or punish the worker may constitute workplace sexual harassment. Multiple events can occur over a brief period or over a longer period.

Workplace sexual harassment can involve unwelcome words or actions associated with sex, sexual orientation or gender that are known or should be known to be offensive, embarrassing, humiliating, or demeaning to a worker or group of workers, in a workplace. It can also include behavior that intimidates or isolates individual(s). Workplace sexual harassment may include:

- asking questions, talking, or writing about sexual activities.
- rough or vulgar humor or language related to sexuality, sexual orientation, or gender.
- displaying or circulating pornography, sexual images, or offensive sexual jokes in print or electronic form.
- leering or inappropriate staring.
- invading personal space.
- unnecessary physical contact, including inappropriate touching.
- demanding hugs, dates, or sexual favors.
- making gender-related comments about someone's physical characteristics, mannerisms, or conformity to sex-role stereotypes.
- verbally abusing, threatening, or taunting someone based on gender or sexual orientation; or
- threatening to penalize or otherwise punish a worker if they refuse a sexual advance.

The above information is in accordance with the Ministry of Labor's "Workplace Violence and Harassment" Guide.

7. Investigating Incidents and Complaints

An appropriate investigation into a workplace harassment incident or complaint would be timely, fair, and address all relevant issues. TBC, as the employer, will treat an incident or complaint seriously, to act upon it promptly, and to allow time and sufficient resources to investigate and deal with it.

Available in Alternate Formats Upon Request

Some matters will not require a complicated investigation; others, such as those involving allegations of sexual harassment by a co-worker over several years, may be more complex and need a more rigorous investigation.

Stages in a more complex investigation could include:

- A review of details of the incident or complaint, including any relevant documents.
- An interview or interviews with the employee alleging harassment.
- An interview or interviews with the alleged harasser if he or she works at TBC.
- An interview or interviews with the alleged harasser if he or she is not a TBC employee and if it is possible and appropriate.
- Separate interviews with relevant witnesses.
- Examination of relevant documents or other evidence that pertains to the investigation (such as emails, notes, photographs, or videos).
- A decision about whether a complaint or incident is workplace harassment; and
- Preparation of a report summarizing the incident or complaint, the steps taken during the investigation, the evidence gathered, and findings (such as whether workplace harassment occurred, did not occur, or that it was not possible to determine).

During the investigation, the employee who complained about workplace harassment should be kept informed about the status of the investigation, as should the alleged harasser if he or she also works for TBC. Documentation of the investigation is also important. Where possible, it should include names, dates, the complaint, details of the incident(s), notes from interviews and meetings, associated documents or evidence, any investigation report, and any actions taken as a result of the incident or complaint and investigation.

If the alleged harasser is not a TBC employee or, if there are witnesses who are not the company's employees, the individual conducting the investigation should make reasonable efforts to interview these people as part of the investigation if their identities are known and if it is appropriate in the circumstances.

8. Results of an Investigation

TBC will ensure that the employee who was allegedly harassed is informed in writing about the results of a workplace harassment investigation and of any corrective action that has been or that will be taken as a result of the investigation. This information must also be provided to an alleged harasser who works for the company. The purpose of this provision is to ensure that these specific employees are aware of what has happened as a result of the incident or complaint and the investigation into that incident or complaint.

The results will be presented in a summary document, outlining the findings of the investigation. If the investigation concluded that workplace harassment occurred, information about corrective actions taken will be included.

9. Statement of General Principles

As an important part of this policy, the complaint procedures provide an internal mechanism for receiving complaints of discrimination or harassment and setting out a process by which the company will deal with a complaint received.

Timelines: A complaint, either formal or informal, must be filed within six (6) months of the incident except in extenuating circumstances that would explain the delay. Should a late complaint be filed, the company will assess the extenuating circumstances against any prejudice to a respondent and/or to the company, to determine if the matter should proceed through the complaint process.

Procedural Fairness: No action will be taken against a person or group without their knowledge, where there is an alleged breach of the Code. It is intended that they be given reasonable notice, with full details of the alleged breach and an opportunity to answer the allegations made.

Confidentiality: TBC acknowledges that it may be difficult to come forward with a complaint of discrimination or harassment and recognize a complainant's interest in keeping the matter confidential. To protect the interests of the complainant, the respondent and any others who may be involved, the company will use its best efforts to maintain confidentiality to the extent practicable and appropriate under the circumstances. Given the very nature of these matters, the procedure to be followed and the necessity to often include individuals in the process, other than the complainant and the respondent, TBC cannot guarantee confidentiality.

Safety and Security Issues: The company has the right to take actions or direct procedures which diverge from sections of this policy when the safety of the individual and/or company's employees is at risk.

Parallel Processes: It is recognized that complaints may be pursued under the Ontario Human Rights Code directly with the Ontario Human Rights Commission or by way of a grievance procedure outlined under their collective agreement.

Protection from Reprisals, Retaliation or Threats: It is contrary to this policy for anyone to retaliate, make reprisals or threaten to retaliate or reprise against a complainant or other individual for: (a) having pursued rights under this Policy or the Ontario Human Rights Code (b) having participated or co-operated in an investigation under this Policy or the Ontario Human Rights Code; (c) having been associated with someone who has pursued rights under this Policy or the Ontario Human Rights Code. Anyone engaged in such conduct may be subject to sanctions and discipline.

CO-OP INFORMATION

Industry co-op allows the student to gain professional experience in the related field prior to graduation and it is organized and planned by the student with support from the faculty.

A co-op work term in semester four provides an opportunity to gain first-hand workplace experience in the industry.

CO-OP PLACEMENT

Co-op is a work integrated experience built into post-secondary programs to allow you to get hands on experience in your field of study while applying your academic studies. The integration of formal learning practices with developmental learning opportunities helps to enhance and consolidate the knowledge, skills, abilities, and behaviours of emerging professionals. This is also an opportunity to interact and demonstrate your skills to potential employers.

APPLIED INDUSTRY PROJECT

Under extraordinary circumstances some students are not eligible for Co-op and may be able to compete the Applied Industry Project. Students wishing to pursue the Applied Industry Project must seek approval from:

Florian Vauleon

Director of Academics & Quality Assurance
Room 109, Ext. 275
florian.vauleon@tbcollege.com

Applied Industry Project involves a simulation experience involving the integration of formal learning practices with developmental learning opportunities helps to enhance and consolidate the knowledge, skills, abilities, and behaviours of emerging professionals. The industry project will be performed on the College campus under the guidance of the College faculty. Students will attend college five days weekly.

GUIDE TO SAFETY DURING PLACEMENT

Basic steps in risk awareness:

- Identify potential risks. Talk to your faculty supervisor and placement supervisor about risk related to your field.
- Understand the guidelines/expectations from the College and placement host.
- Inform your faculty supervisor or placement supervisor of any concerns.

Should an incident occur:

- Be sure to document all facts such as date, time, persons involved and the situation as you observed it.
- Inform your faculty supervisor or placement supervisor immediately.

EXAMPLES OF SAFETY RISKS

Harassment

- Sexual, age, ethnic, racial, or disability harassment of student workers or any employee is illegal.
- The employer must ensure that current full-time employees or interns do not harass student workers.
- Immediately report any harassment to your faculty supervisor.
- Resolution may include placing the student in another position.
- Harassment of others in the workplace may result in your dismissal from the program.

Protect Your Personal Identity

- Protect Social Insurance Number, cellphone numbers and all other personal identification.

Sexual Assault

There are several ways to reduce the risk of becoming a victim of sexual assault:

- Set limits; don't send the wrong message.
- Use your better judgment about situations to avoid.
- Be clear and responsible in your communication with others.
- If necessary, be forceful, firm and assertive in your communication with others.
- Be aware of nonverbal cues that can alert you to a problem. Remember, silence is not consent.
- Don't assume the other person knows what you do or do not want.
- Use the buddy system.
- Avoid secluded places.
- Devise an action plan in advance for what you will do if confronted with a situation of possible sexual assault. Remove yourself from the situation at the first sign that you are feeling unsafe.
- Familiarize yourself with the idea that you might have to be aggressive or yell to remove yourself from a possible sexual assault situation.

Travel

- Consider dangerous intersections, streets, or stretches of highway to and from the site.
- Notice parking garages or poorly-lit parking areas.
- When using your car or a vehicle provided to you by your placement site, find out all policies regarding travel such as:
  - Reimbursement of funds personally expended.
  - Transporting clients.
  - Transporting sensitive or easily-damaged materials.
  - Transporting potentially hazardous materials.

Physical Hazards

- Working outdoors – sun, snow and ice and other extreme weather, pollution, power-lines, pipelines, electromagnetic radiation, or gas leaks.

- Working indoors – any type of machinery, or unsuitable working conditions such as extreme temperatures, asbestos, sick building odors, buildings with structural concerns, or blocked fire escapes.

Biological Hazards

- Animals you may work with (deceased or living).
- Poisonous plants.
- Diseased birds or fish.

If in the medical field, check to see how bio-hazardous waste is disposed (e.g. sharp container).

Chemical Hazards

- Water supply.
- Toner powders from laser printer cartridges or photocopies that may cause eye or lung irritation.
- Chemicals in a laboratory setting getting in eyes, open sores, or lungs.

PROGRAM LEARNING OBJECTIVES

SMALL GIVES US THE POWER TO DO BIG THINGS

In a world obsessed with big, we are small. Small gives us the power to do big things.

And things that make a big difference to our students, community, and partners.

In an impersonal world of big lecture halls and stadium seating, we know our students by name and circumstance. Small frees us to provide personal one-on-one attention, in small classes and learning environments.

Small means our students feel like they matter. That they belong. That they are no longer invisible in a world which had passed them by.

Small means that we can move mountains to help every student succeed, confident in who they are and what they are capable of becoming.

We are Loyalist College of Applied Arts and Technology.

We are small.

GUIDELINES FOR EMBRACING AI INTO TEACHING AND LEARNING

Student Version

Campaign Name

Embracing AI

Prepared By

Dean's AI Task Force

Date

Introduction

Generative artificial intelligence (Gen AI) tools such as ChatGPT, Bard, Scribe and so on, are capable of promptly generating text, images, audio, and so forth by analyzing the patterns of their training data. The utilization of Gen AI tools has also massively impacted education. In response to the rapidly evolving AI landscape and the transformative potential offered by different AI technologies in education, the Toronto Business College (TBC) acknowledges the value of integrating these tools and techniques for educational purposes among its community. TBC also recognizes the urgent need to prepare the students with these tools for their job readiness. However, it emphasizes the ethical and responsible use of AI technologies for integrity, privacy, and equity reasons. In view of this, TBC has developed robust guidelines to balance the benefits afforded by AI with academic integrity. TBC is committed to supporting instructors and students in integrating Gen AI into educational activities, emphasizing critical thinking.

Guidelines for Students

Can Students Use Gen AI in Their Course?

AI Literacy

Gen AI tools offer valuable support to educators and students in numerous ways and continue to evolve and improve. However, there are still limitations and concerns regarding their use, including potential biases, inaccuracies, and ethical issues. Enhancing AI literacy helps students and faculty members understand and critically use the technology more effectively, as well as with a critical-thinking approach.

PROGRAM POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

All faculty and staff have the right to:

- An educational environment free of racist or sexist stereotyping, discrimination or harassment in the classroom (either physical or virtual) and in all College service areas.
- Expect appropriate student behaviour and have the right to request that a student exhibiting disruptive and/or disrespectful behaviour leave the classroom, laboratory or practicum area.
- Expect to be informed immediately of any issues, problems or concerns related to the program.

All faculty are required to:

- Provide written course documentation at the beginning of each course which includes outcomes, objectives, methodology, required resources, an evaluation system and penalties applied if expectations or due dates are not met.
- Provide notice in writing of any substantial changes to course requirements and the reason(s) for these changes.
- Set deadlines for assigned work, to expect assignments to be submitted at specific times and to impose equitable, established penalties when students fail to meet the deadlines or expectations.
- Carry out regularly scheduled instruction, and provide academic counselling for students at other times.

LOYALIST'S VIOLENCE PREVENTION POLICY

- All College members have a responsibility to foster a climate of respect and safety, free from violent behavior and harassment.

- Violence (physical violence, threatening actions or harassment) is not, in any way, acceptable behaviour.
- Weapons or replicas of weapons are not permitted on Loyalist College property.
- Unacceptable behaviour will result in disciplinary action or appropriate sanctions.
- More information can be found in the Student Code of Conduct – Positive Learning & Living Environment \(AOP 209\).

ATTENDANCE

Each faculty member has different expectations regarding attendance, but we all agree that there is a direct relationship between academic success and attendance in class. You can demonstrate your commitment to your chosen profession by attending all your classes. The skills and knowledge that you will acquire in the program build upon each other. Class discussions and team projects are a key part of your learning journey. It is the student's responsibility to inform the faculty member (by email) of their absence before the beginning of class.

CLASSROOM EXPECTATIONS

In business, time is money. You are paying to attend class and if you play an active role, you will receive the best value for your tuition. Professional attitudes are developed in class by:

- Demonstrating respect for self, others and your environment.
- Turning off your cellphone.
- Refraining from texting.

- Refraining from watching movies and YouTube.
- Being engaged in the class and encouraging others to do the same.

Here are some examples of inappropriate and unethical behaviour:

Cheating: transferring or receiving information without the permission of the faculty member for the purpose of achieving grades. This includes copying from the work of another person or permitting such copying to take place during a test or using unauthorized notes or other memory aides.

Plagiarism: submitting work that is substantially copied from the work of another person and representing that work as original.

Falsification: modifying an examination paper, record, or assignment for the purpose of obtaining additional credits or a higher grade.

Misrepresentation: knowingly giving false information about facts or actions in order to gain admission to the College or to fulfill academic requirements.

Fraudulent Behaviour: knowingly misleading another person for purposes of gain and thereby causing actual harm to another person or assisting in such activity.

PLAGIARISM AND ACADEMIC DISHONESTY

Plagiarism is the act of collecting and passing off the writing, passages or ideas of another author as your own. Students are plagiarizing if they fail to give credit, through referencing, to the person or work that originated the idea or reference.

Following a discussion with faculty, a mandatory failing grade will be issued on the assignment. A failing grade is the minimum penalty, but the College may reserve the right to impose a full range of sanctions including suspension or expulsion.

Academic dishonesty is obtaining academic grades by deceit. This includes the use of concealed notes or materials during a test/examination, acquiring information from other students by looking at their test papers, talking/signaling other students during tests, or by using another person's work in any form without citing references appropriately.

A student found guilty of obtaining grades in this manner will automatically be assigned a zero for the test/exam. A repeat offence may result in suspension from the program.

Please see the Academic Integrity Policy \(AOP 216\) for more information.

PRIOR LEARNING ASSESSMENT AND RECOGNITION (PLAR)

PLAR is a process that involves the identification, documentation, assessment and recognition of learning acquired through informal means. This may include work and life experience, informal education and training, independent study, volunteering, travel, hobbies and family experiences.

Students with significant life or work experience can request the opportunity to PLAR an academic course if they feel they have acquired most or all of the learning outcomes of the course from experiences elsewhere. A fee will be charged per course for assessment of prior learning (please refer to current College fee structure) and students may not PLAR more than 75% of program requirements.

Please see the Prior Learning Assessment and Recognition, Transfer Credit, Articulation and Exemption Policy \(AOP 221\) for more information.

TRANSFER/ARTICULATION AGREEMENTS

Explore transfer credit options and articulation agreements.

CO-OP INFORMATION

Industry co-op allows the student to gain professional experience in the related field prior to graduation and it is organized and planned by the student with support from the faculty.

A co-op work term in semester four provides an opportunity to gain first-hand workplace experience in the industry.

CO-OP PLACEMENT

Co-op is a work integrated experience built into post-secondary programs to allow you to get hands on experience in your field of study while applying your academic studies. The integration of formal learning practices with developmental learning opportunities helps to enhance and consolidate the knowledge, skills, abilities, and behaviours of emerging professionals. This is also an opportunity to interact and demonstrate your skills to potential employers.

APPLIED INDUSTRY PROJECT

Under extraordinary circumstances some students are not eligible for Co-op and may be able to compete the Applied Industry Project. Students wishing to pursue the Applied Industry Project must seek approval from:

Florian Vauleon

Director of Academics & Quality Assurance
Room 109, Ext. 275

florian.vauleon@tbcollege.com

Applied Industry Project involves a simulation experience involving the integration of formal learning practices with developmental learning opportunities helps to enhance and consolidate the knowledge, skills, abilities, and behaviours of emerging professionals. The industry project will be performed on the College campus under the guidance of the College faculty. Students will attend college five days weekly.

GUIDE TO SAFETY DURING PLACEMENT

Basic steps in risk awareness:

- Identify potential risks. Talk to your faculty supervisor and placement supervisor about risk related to your field.
- Understand the guidelines/expectations from the College and placement host.
- Inform your faculty supervisor or placement supervisor of any concerns.

Should an incident occur:

- Be sure to document all facts such as date, time, persons involved and the situation as you observed it.
- Inform your faculty supervisor or placement supervisor immediately.

EXAMPLES OF SAFETY RISKS

Harassment

- Sexual, age, ethnic, racial, or disability harassment of student workers or any employee is illegal.
- The employer must ensure that current full-time employees or interns do not harass student workers.
- Immediately report any harassment to your faculty supervisor.
- Resolution may include placing the student in another position.
- Harassment of others in the workplace may result in your dismissal from the program.

Protect Your Personal Identity

- Protect Social Insurance Number, cellphone numbers and all other personal identification.

Sexual Assault

There are several ways to reduce the risk of becoming a victim of sexual assault:

- Set limits; don't send the wrong message.
- Use your better judgment about situations to avoid.
- Be clear and responsible in your communication with others.
- If necessary, be forceful, firm and assertive in your communication with others.
- Be aware of nonverbal cues that can alert you to a problem. Remember, silence is not consent.
- Don't assume the other person knows what you do or do not want.
- Use the buddy system.
- Avoid secluded places.
- Devise an action plan in advance for what you will do if confronted with a situation of possible sexual assault. Remove yourself from the situation at the first sign that you are feeling unsafe.
- Familiarize yourself with the idea that you might have to be aggressive or yell to remove yourself from a possible sexual assault situation.

Travel

- Consider dangerous intersections, streets, or stretches of highway to and from the site
- Notice parking garages or poorly-lit parking areas
- When using your car or a vehicle provided to you by your placement site, find out all policies regarding travel such as:
  - Reimbursement of funds personally expended.
  - Transporting clients.
  - Transporting sensitive or easily-damaged materials.
  - Transporting potentially hazardous materials.

Physical Hazards

- Working outdoors – sun, snow and ice and other extreme weather, pollution, power-lines, pipelines, electromagnetic radiation, or gas leaks.
- Working indoors – any type of machinery, or unsuitable working conditions such as extreme temperatures, asbestos, sick building odors, buildings with structural concerns, or blocked fire escapes.

Biological Hazards

- Animals you may work with (deceased or living).
- Poisonous plants.
- Diseased birds or fish.

If in the medical field, check to see how bio-hazardous waste is disposed (e.g. sharp container).

Chemical Hazards

- Water supply.
- Toner powders from laser printer cartridges or photocopies that may cause eye or lung irritation.
- Chemicals in a laboratory setting getting in eyes, open sores, or lungs.

SMALL GIVES US THE POWER TO DO BIG THINGS

In a world obsessed with big, we are small. Small gives us the power to do big things.

And things that make a big difference to our students, community, and partners.

In an impersonal world of big lecture halls and stadium seating, we know our students by name and circumstance. Small frees us to provide personal one-on-one attention, in small classes and learning environments.

Small means our students feel like they matter. That they belong. That they are no longer invisible in a world which had passed them by.

Small means that we can move mountains to help every student succeed, confident in who they are and what they are capable of becoming.

We are Loyalist College of Applied Arts and Technology.

We are small.
